Landon Leaves Strong Challenge For Roosevelt

Demands President State Definitely His Position On Big Issues

NEW YORK CROWD CHEERS LANDON

Republican Presidential Candidate Leaves Metropolis Enroute West

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD LANDON SUNFLOWER SPECIAL, Enroute To Charlestown, W. Va., Oct. 30.—Supremely confident he will be elected president next Tuesday, with New York state leading the "victory parade," Gov. Alfred M. Landon sped westward today after hurling a personal challenge at President Roosevelt to announce his position on nine major issues before America goes to the polls.

With a blistering attack on the new deal, the Republican nominee challenged Mr. Roosevelt before a tumultous audience in New York City's Madison Square Garden where the president speaks tomorrow night. Landon listed the issues as the AAA, the NRA, reemployment, curbing of private and government monopoly; restoration of business confidence, purging relief of politics, repealing social security taxes, ending federal waste and extravagance and maintainance of the American form of constitutional government.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

New Castle merrymakers will have their final chance to parade in organized hallowe'en celebration tonight, when the Seventh ward program will be staged. On Wednesday night the South Side celebration was staged, on Thursday night, the scene changed to the East Side, and tonight the spotlight is focused on the Seventh ward.

And, Saturday night is official Hallowe'en.

New Castle officials are to be commended for taking drastic steps to put a stop to Hallowe'en vandalism in parts of the city. There is no excuse for destruction of property or vicious mischief being tolerated under the guise of Hallowe'en pranks. New Castle celebrators should take warning, and stay out of trouble.

It would be Pa Newc's suggestion to voters in every precinct in New Castle, and many in the county, to get to the polls early next Tuesday to cast their ballot. The tremendous registration indicates a greater vote will be cast than ever before, and there will be difficulty at the polls if voters wait until the later hours of the afternoon and early evening to flock to the polls. Vote early.

Pa Newc had a visitor yesterday who resides outside the city limits in Lawrence County, and had been required to pay a fine for violation of a city parking regulation. "I

Mollison Makes Record Time Crossing Atlantic

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CROYDON, Eng., Oct. 30.—Exhausted, on the point of collapse, James Mollison zoomed into Croydon airdrome today in record time for his fourth trans-atlantic crossing.

Straining his Bellanca monoplane to its utmost speed to make his goal just before he broke under the stress, Mollison flew from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, in 13 hours, 13 minutes.

Risking his life merely to deliver a plane in Cape Town, South Africa, Mollison sped in hazardous out-of-season flying weather through snow, sleet, rain and fog, battling an ocean blizzard and performing aerial gymnastics to get rid of ice on his wings.

Keeps Up Wild Speed.

He kept up his wild speed to the last second, swing over London's chief airport at more than 100 miles an hour, circling five times, and getting his plane down at 9:53 a. m. (4:53 a. m., EST).

Lifted out of the cockpit, hardly able to move, Mollison revealed a near-tragedy in mid-Atlantic.

"I wasted an hour out there, circling around in a warmer stratum of air, trying to melt ice formations off my wings,' he said.

Thousands Take Part In East Side Hallowe'en

If there was anything needed to add to the success of the East Side Hallowe'en parade on Thursday night, October 29, it doesn't come to mind off hand. There was a crowd of mummers and a mob of spectators, there was plenty of music, the weather wasn't too cold and even the moon co-operated by blossoming out like a huge arc light.

It was the annual jamboree of joy for the East Siders and as usual they enjoyed themselves. Joining with them were thousands from other parts of the city and county and from West avenue to Cascade Park there was a solid line of people and automobiles.

New Strike On Pacific Coast

Paralysis Of Shipping On West Coast Is Now Imminent

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—A complete paralysis of shipping crept over the West Coast waterfront from San Diego to Seattle today when 37,000 men quit work.

The general strike order of seven marine unions on the Pacific coast came from their joint negotiating committee following failure at Midnight to react new working agreements with shippers.

One thousand warehousemen in San Francisco, affiliated with the International Longshoremen's Association, were due to walk out at 8 a. m. today unless last-minute negotiations with employers result in new agreements, Warren G. Denton, president of the warehousemen's union, announced.

While other ports on the Pacific coast will suffer severely by the tie-up of water-borne commerce, San Francisco will face even greater difficulties by a tieup of the city's commercial, milling, cold storage and wholesale grocery warehouses.

Jewel Robbers Make Big Haul

MRS. HARRY DAVIS ROBBERY VICTIM

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30.—More than $50,000 in diamonds, emeralds, pearls and valuable furs were stolen last night from the suite of Mrs. Harry Davis, wife of a prominent theatrical man, in the exclusive Hotel Schenley near the University of Pittsburgh, police revealed today.

The work was that of thorough, professional robbers, police declared after a preliminary investigation The lock had been pulled from the door and the loot was carried away in wholesale lots, according to Detective Inspector Howard N. Forner.

Mrs. Davis, in a near hysterical state, reported she discovered the robbery about 9 oclock last night after an absence of about four hours.

Only 20 Per Cent Insured.

Only 20 per cent of the valuables were covered by insurance, Mrs. Davis reported, according to the police.

While the robbery was being committed, her husband lay seriously ill in a nearby room, they said.

Included in the loot were two bracelets studded with diamonds and emeralds valued at $21,000 each, police reported.

The remainder of the loot was comprised of a string of pearls valued at $10,000 and fur coats and wraps of undertermined value, according to police.

Mrs. Davis reported she had left an expensive fur coat which had arrived yesterday from Atlantic City

To Election Boards!

The News desires to have as early returns as possible from New Castle and Lawrence County, and is asking that election boards aid in this service.

Every precinct board is asked to telephone or send totals for any of the contests, and complete totals for the precinct to The News as soon as possible Tuesday night.

Many election boards have co-operated in a fine spirit in past elections, and the service is appreciated. However, some boards are never heard from, until reporters make the rounds and collect the figures late at night.

As a service to the people of the community, this request is made that all boards co-operate in making reports of the local vote.

The News will have ample service for national and state-wide returns, but early local figures are dependent upon the degree with which the local boards co-operate.

The News call will be 4000.

President Will End Campaign In Metropolis

WELL PLEASED WITH CAMPAIGN

Greeted By Large Crowds In Thursday Tour Through Pennsylvania

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Roosevelt paused briefly in Washington today before returning to New York City to have the last word in his home state over Gov. Alf M. Landon.

Tonight he will speak in Brooklyn. Tomorrow night he will sum up his whole campaign in a final address at Madison Square Garden and immediately thereafter retire to Hyde Park to vote and await the election returns.

Pleased With Receptions

Mr. Roosevelt and his politcal advisers were highly pleased at the receptions he got in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware on Wednesday and Thursday. Huge crowds turned out to see the president at every stop in the four states which have a total electoral vote of 102.

It was in a militant mood that the president campaigned through Wilkes-Barrie, Harrisburg, Camden and Wilmington.

He assailed "the Republican leadership" for attempting to undermine the social security act through "payroll propaganda," for its "market-basket campaign," aimed at alienating urban housewives from the new deal, and for the allegation that neither life insurance policies nor bank accounts would be safe if he was re-elected.

Quotes Lincoln

Finally, at Wilmington, Del., home of the Dupont family which is underwriting a large portion of American Liberty League expenses, Mr. Roosevelt quoted Abraham Lincoln's definition of liberty, asserting it

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—In all the discussion of the Social Security Act too little attention has been given to an important aspect of insecurity in the law's provisions. The money to be collected from employees and employers goes directly into the general fund of the United States treasury. It is left to the discretion of congress to apply this money to old age pensions. We know from the experience of the last three and a half years what congress and the president may do in the name of emergency. It does not take phenomenal imagination to picture the chief executive and the legislative branch, making immediate use of the money for some benovelent boondoggle, calculated to forstall the necessities of old age. We have seen the president take money appropriated for relief of the unemployed and use it in a vain glorious attempt to harness the moon, and incidentally the vote of the state of Maine.

Death Strikes In Stork Derby

DERBY TO END ON SATURDAY

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 30.—Death stepped from the sidelines of the Toronto stork derby today to strike down an eligible child while life struggled to provide new births in the grotesque $775,000 baby-race sponsored by the last testament of the eccentric Charles Vance Millar, Toronto attorney.

The little victim was Blanche Timleck, whose advent six months ago brought hope of fortune as well as parental pride to two of the contestants, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Timleck.

The baby girl died in Toronto hospital where she was rushed after contracting influenza. Her death came on the eve of completion of the mad race, initiated by the death ten years ago of Millar. The race ends tomorrow.

Will Get Huge Sum

In his will, Millar specified that the huge sum set aside would go to the Toronto parents to whom, in the ten years following his death, were born the largest number of registered babies.

Although death of the Timleck baby will not affect the standing of her parents in the derby, since the will did not stipulate that the children must be living at the end of the ten-year period, parental pride and visions of luxury were dispelled by grief in the Timleck household today.

Mrs. Timleck, mother of 17 children in 18 years, sobbed openly. She cried:

"It seems the irony of fate that

Rebel Planes Bomb Madrid

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

MADRID, Oct. 30.—A fleet of rebel bombing planes carried out a daring raid in the center of Madrid in broad daylight today just as government officials were claiming sweeping gains in a new offensive against insurgent forces on all fronts.

Immediate estimate of the damage was unavailable.

Will She Become Queen Elizabeth

If King Edward VIII of Great Britain should abdicate, discussed as an eventuality—though remote—in case he marries Mrs. Ernest (Wally) Simpson, then Princess Elizabeth, 10-year-old daughter of the Duke of York, would be second from the British throne. Princess "Lillibeth" is the eldest child of the Duke of York, who would succeed King Edward. His title would be King Albert I. Princess Elizabeth, who some day may be Queen Elizabeth, is shown in a recent portrait and astride her horse.

Mrs. Landon To Join Governor In St. Louis

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kansas, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Theo Cobb Landon, wife of the Republican nominee for president, has been deluged with congratulations on her decision to leave here to join her husband in St. Louis for his closing campaign address.

It will be her first participation in the presidential campaign. On her way east, she will be joined at Lawrence, Kansas, by Peggy Anne Landon, the governor's 19-year-old daughter, who is a student at Kansas University. Peggy will go along to St. Louis to greet her father and it will mark her first appearance in the campaign. Both Mrs. Landon and Peggy, however, attended the notification exercises here last July.

Had Work To Do

One of Mrs. Landon's closest friends revealed today that it was her insistence which kept her out of the political limelight up until now. Her attitude was:

"People know I have two small children at home to look after. What kind of a mother would I be with them in Topeka while I was riding on the back end of a train."

Landon Victory Shown By Poll

MOST EXTENSIVE STRAW BALLOT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Governor Alfred E. Landon will sweep to victory next Tuesday by an electoral college vote of 370 to 161 for President Roosevelt if actual balloting supports final figures made public today by the Literary Digest presidential poll.

The returns indicate a ratio for the Republican nominee of about four to three in the popular vote, and a total of 32 of the 48 states.

The poll management reiterates, however, that it has advanced no claim to "absolute accuracy" for its figures, pointing out that it "would be a miracle if every state in the 48 behaved on election day exactly as forecast by the poll."

The management added:

"We say now about Rhode Island and Massachusetts that our figures indicate in our own judgment too large a percentage for Mr. Landon and too small a percentage for Mr. Roosevelt."

King Edward Sends His First Message To British Parliament

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 30—References to his "concern and anxiety" over the civil war in Spain, and his pleasure over the Anglo-Franco-American currency agreement today marked King Edward VIII's first message to parliament.

Amid colorful ancient ceremonies, the speech was read for him before a joint meeting of the houses of lords and commons in the upper house as he prorogued parliament, the ninth of his father's reign, severing one of the last links of the reign of George V.

The speech, one of the longest royal messages in recent years, dealt mainly with domestic problems, but showed the king's keen interest in world affairs.

It opened with a touching reference to his late father, and appreciation of the world's sympathy for "myself and my dear mother".

Concerned Over Spain.

"I have viewed with concern and anxiety the evnts in Spain during the last three months," King Edward said, and he called attention to British efforts to "mitigate the suffering of the Spanish people."

He also referred staunchly to Britain's "energetic cooperation" in Spanish non-intervention.

Famed Sculptor Dies Suddenly

CHICAGO, Oct. 30—Lorado Taft, internationally famous sculptor died suddenly at his home here today at the age of 76.

A week ago, Mr. Taft suffered a stroke and had been very ill since that time. He died in his studio rooms, surrounded by the work of art that made him a world celebrity.

He was born at Elmwood, Ill. April 29, 1860. Several critics called Taft the greatest contemporary sculptor in America.

Mr. Taft was scheduled to speak on the Westminster College lecture course on February 23. He is known locally through having appeared here some years ago.

CREWS CLEAR WRECKAGE

Six Cars Leave Rails In Wreck

CLEAR TRACK FOR LANDON'S SPECIAL

(International News Service)

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 30.—Crews of laborers worked until dawn today to clear the Pennsylvania railroad tracks of the wreck of the crack flyer, "Clevelander," which jumped the rails and left one man dead and at least a score injured.

It was feared for a time that Gov. Alfred M. Landon's "Sunflower Special", enroute from New York to Charleston, W. Va., would have to be sent over another route because of the wreckage on the main line, but one track was cleared so that the special passed the wreck at 2:12 a. m.

Six Cars Leave Track.

The dead man, who was decapitated, was believed to be Edward Snyder of Detroit. His clothing bore that name and he had a receipt in his pocket from the Central Radio store of Detroit.

The train was about a quarter of a mile out of Princeton Junction when the last six cars left the tracks.

Railroad officials today were investigating the possibility that the train may have lost a wheel, thus causing the swinging of one car to carry others from the rails.

Hurtling cars smashed down several iron poles, supporting power lines, and rescuers had to work in the darkness. For some hours all four tracks at Princeton Junction were blocked by the wreckage.

LANDON LEAVES STRONG CHALLENGE FOR ROOSEVELT

W. Va., late this afternoon and for a final address in St. Louis tomorrow night. There, he will be joined by Mrs. Landon and Peggy Anne, his 19-year-old daughter, for the first time in the campaign.

Landon was given a tremendous reception on his two-day visit to Metropolitan New York, the heart of his opponent's greatest stronghold. He left an enthusiastic, victory-forecasting Republican leadership behind him, after he assailed the new deal at the garden before one of the greatest political crowds in that city's history.

100,000 Turned Away

With 22,000 in the hall, police estimated from 60,000 to 100,000 had been turned away. Seven hundred foot patrolmen and 100 mounted police were used to erect a living blockade around the structure hours before Landon began to talk. Thousands of invited guests failed ever to reach the hall, and this included members of Landon's staff.

The governor lashed Roosevelt's silence and charged him with evading issues. He declared the president had revealed a lack of confidence in the wisdom of the people and taunted him with the charge that "no one can be sure" where he stands on any issue. His crowd roared out these taunting words in unison with Landon.

Savagely Assails New Deal

"There can be no confidence while this administration remains in power," said Landon finally.

Landon savagely assailed the new deal. He derided its AAA program of "rewarded scarcity and penalized plenty." He promised to "stop muddling and meddling and to begin mending" the farm problem.

He charged the NRA legalized monopoly and pledged death to monopoly by enforcing strengthened anti-trust laws "without fear or favor."

He charged the administration terrorized business and promised to launch re-employment of idle millions by restoring business confidence.

He denounced "outrageous use of public money for political purposes" and promised to "see that relief is purged of politics."

He called the Social Security Act a "fraud upon our workers" and an "Unworkable hode-podge," promising to repeal it in favor of a real security program for the aged and unemployed.

He railed Roosevelt for a program that "glorifies spending" and pledged an "end to waste and extravagance" with a balanced budget.

Denounces Court Attacks

He denounced administration attacks on the supreme court "which strike at the heart of the American form of government" and applauded the "principles of civic righteousness exemplified by Theodore Roosevelt and I pledge myself to go forward along the trail he blazed."

Finally, he pledged himself anew to maintain the liberties of the bill of rights to protect all "against bigotry and intolerance, whether of race, color or creed."

Then he challenged the president to state his position on these issues. He declared it was Mr. Roosevelt's duty to "tell us what his purposes and intentions really are," pointing out the president would speak from the same platform Saturday night—Just 48 hours before the election. Landon said:

Demands An Answer

"The people of this country will not trust a man who does not trust them. If he trusts them, he will answer the questions being asked from one end of the country to the other."

And then, as though speaking personally to the chief executive over the ether waves, the Republican nominee said:

"I leave a challenge with the president. I say to him: Mr. President, I am willing to trust the people. I am willing to stand up and say openly that I am against economic planning by the government. I am against the principles of the AAA. I am against the concentration of power in the hands of the chief executive.

"Tell Us Where You Stand!"

"Tell us where you stand, Mr. President. Tell us not in generalities, but clearly so that no one can mistake your meaning. And tell us why you have evaded the issued until the eve of the election.

"I leave my gage at your feet.

"My gage is the guage of your confidence, Mr. President. . . Your confidence in the American people.

"My gage is the guage of your duty, Mr. President. . . Your duty to the American people.

My gage is the guage of your faith, Mr. President . . . Your faith in the American people.

"By the words that you speak in forty-eight hours . . . The American people will know the measure of your confidence and your duty and your faith in their wisdom."

John Quincy McFarland.

John Quincy McFarland, aged 86 years, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Catherine Carroll, Lowellville R. F. D. No. 2, at 9:30 o'clock Thursday night, culminating an illness of about five years' duration. His niece is his closest survivor.

Private funeral services will be conducted on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Davidson funeral home at Struthers, O. Friends may call there this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Delores Howard Funeral.

The Mt. Jackson United Presbyterian church was filled to overflowing by sorrowing friends young and old, Thursday afternoon, when funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock for little Delores Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Howard, of North Beaver township, who was killed last Tuesday afternoon when she was hit by an automobile.

Rev. Ray Woodburn, pastor of the church, was in charge of the impressive services. The choir sang, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," during the services, and Eleanor and Margaret Craig sang the touching selection "Jesus Loves Me." Mrs. S. A. Cowden accompanied at the piano.

Ten of Delores' school mates were flower bearers. The casket was carried by Donald, Harold and William Pitts, George Thompson, Robert Mc Fate and Robert Mars, and interment was made in Mt. Jackson cemetery.

Mrs. Esther Roberts Tate.

Mrs. Esther Roberts Tate, aged 88 years, died at 9 o'clock this morning in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Logan, 1710 Hamilton street, where she resided. Five years and six months ago, Mrs. Tate fell and broke her hip and ever since that time had been bedfast at her daughter's residence.

She was born at Greenville, Pa. For years before coming to New Castle she lived at West Middlesex.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Neittie Logan, Mrs. Eva Bruce and Mrs Frank Clingensmith, of this city, two sons, John and Ulysses Tate, of Sharon, and twenty-nine grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the residence on Hamilton street and interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Friends may call at the home any time after 2 p. m. Saturday.

Mr. DeNormandie Funeral Time.

Funeral services for John Abram DeNormandie, aged 79 years, will be conducted on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his daughters, Mrs. H. D. Harlan, 208 Edgewood avenue, where he died Thursday afternoon . Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mr. DeNormandie was born at Phoenixville, Pa., on August 27, 1857, son of Abram P. and Rachel Tustin DeNormandie. Much of his lifetime was passed in Lawrence county. He was engaged in business as a merchant here and served one term as county treasurer. For some time he resided in Greenville and was associated with the Dilworth company and Leedom and Worrall. Four years ago he returned to New Castle to live with his daughter. He was a member of the local First Presbyterian church.

Surviving are his wife, Emma Hamilton DeNormandie, to whom he was married on June 29, 1887; his daughter and three grandchildren, John, Virginia and David Harlan, this city.

He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the United Commercial Travelers, was very well known, highly respected and had a host of friends.

John Baryla

John Baryla, aged 49 years, of 28 West Long avenue, died in the New Castle hospital this morning after a short illness.

He was born in Poland, and his only survivors are two sisters and two brothers who reside in that country. He was employed in the local tin mills and was a member of the Holy Trinity Polish National Catholic church.

The body will be removed to the home of Vincent Balin, 113 Fulton street, where friends may call, and it will remain there until 9:30 a. m. Monday, when the funeral party will meet to go to the church for services. Rev. A. Walichiewicz will be in charge. Interment will be made in Holy Trinity cemetery.

Gottlob G. Stirtz

Gottlob G. Stirtz, aged 68 years, of Hickory township, died in the New Castle hospital at 7:40 a. m. today. He had been in poor health for the past three months, and three days ago when his condition became worse he was removed to the hospital.

THOUSANDS TAKE PART IN EAST SIDE HALLOWE'EN

move out from West avenue and the corner of East Washington street. Mayor Charles E. McGrath and Chief of Police Ralph Criswell in a police car went first, followed by a squad of seven motorcyclists who carved out a parade path through the crowd that overflowed over the curb.

Following them came the grand marshals, Earl W. Haufler and Bart Richards, then a group of aides and the Senior high school band. The second division was headed by the Benjamin Franklin junior high school band and the third division by the Croton band.

In the line of march was the usual collection of clowns, tramps, and cowboys, May Wests and a few Chaplins, lads and lassies garbed in grotesque and picturesque costumes, Indians, Chinamen, colored comedians or what have you.

From West Avenue to the park the line moved and at Cascade Park the judges separated the ones they thought entitled the prizes and handed them orders for various kinds of merchandise. Red fire and red hot music, noise and commotion, laughter and shouts, all of it mixed together to make one of the best Hallowe'en celebrations the East Side has ever held. For the success of the evening Carl Haufler, general chairman and his committee deserve a lot of credit. There was a lot of work back of the fun and the committee did the work in an able manner.

The bedroom was in disorder, police reported. All chests and closets had been emptied and their contents were found heaped on the bed, according to the police.

Forner said no suitcases, sheets or other possible receptacles in which the loot could have been carried away were found missing.

"It was an absolutely thorough job," Forner said.

Forner said Mrs. Davis was considerably upset after she reported the robbery and was unable immediately to furnish exact details.

It was explained she feared a disturbance resulting from a police investigation might endanger her husband's life and she first appealed to her attorney, A. M. Oliver, who with Edward Coll, assistant manager of the hotel, made a preliminary inspection of the room.

Forner later was summoned and ordered photographs and fingerprints made in all rooms of the suite.

"They talk about his activities for the day and discuss the political news of the day. Mrs. Landon follows the newspapers avidly and has a wealth of information about the campaign and current events.

"The governor has great respect for her womanly intuition and her judgment. He has asked her to accompany him on several of his campaign tours but she reasoned against it. He accepted her judgment. Now she has agreed to attend his final campaign speech because it will only keep her two days from her children. And she really would like to watch him make the speech."

WEDDING EVENT AT F. F. UREY HOME

A quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Urey, 402 Laurel boulevard, when their niece, Lolita Leone Williams, the only daughter of Mrs. Leone G. Williams, of Aliquippa, Pa., became the bride of R. Richard Rourke, of Newark, N. J.

The officiating clergyman was the Rev. F. E. Stough, a personal friend of the bride's family. There were a few relatives present.

Attending the bride was Miss Katharine Moosman, of Aliquippa, and J. Gerald Cuddihy, of New York City, was the groom's best man. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Urey. The bride wore a dark green travel ensemble with gray krimmer trimming and gray accessories.

A wedding breakfast was served following the ceremony. Decorations were carried out in yellow mums and other fall flowers, and the tables were graced with Talisman roses.

MARKOWITZ-SOLOMON BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED

As a means of announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ada, to Izzy Solomon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Solomon of Pennsylvania avenue, Mr. and Mrs. William I. Markowitz of East Reynolds street, entertained eight young ladies, close friends of the new bride-elect, at a delightful party Thursday night.

Bridge was the popular pastime during the early hours, prizes being awarded to Misses Adele and Harriet Wolfe. At an appointed time the guests were ushered into the dining room, arranged in a clever Hallowe'en setting, where a delicious lunch was served. Tiny cards, made up of pictures of goblins, witches and black cats, bore the evening's news, "Ada to Izzy".

Miss Markowitz was graduated from the New Castle high school in 1932. Mr. Solomon is a south side businessman and is well known in golf circles.

MISS MARY GOEHRING HONORED AT SHOWER

Mrs. Preston Carson, Leasure avenue, was a charming hostess to a group of girls from the merchandising department of the Pennsylvania Power company Thursday evening at her home, entertaining in honor of Mary Goehring, an associate, whose engagement was recently announced to W. H. Jones of Ellwood City.

At cards, awards were given to Helen Hurst and Eunice Johnston.

The guest of honor was later presented with a lovely gift from the hostess, and a huge Jack O'Lantern which concealed a collection of lovely gifts for her future home.

Afterwards the guests were ushered to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ellen Carson. The table was beautifully arranged with a huge centerpiece of baby mums and tall yellow tapers. Each guest found at her place a dainty corsage of baby mums and yellow roses.

Mrs. Richard E. Gwilym was a special guest.

HALLOWE'EN COFFEE AT THIRD CHURCH

A gala Hallowe'en "coffee" took place in the basement of the Third U. P. church when members of the W. W. M. G. class entertained friends informally.

The affair was set off in a weird setting of cornstalks, autumn leaves, pumpkin faces, black cats and other decorations suggestive of the season. The following program was in charge of Miss Elma Badger: String quartet composed of Vance Dufford, Robert Reese, Martha Black and Jess Badger.

Little Wilma, Leona and Carrie Heckert entertained with a number of songs. After the program, the guests were served refreshments at tables which were appropriately decorated in orange and black colors.

OAK STREET TEACHERS SHARE BIRTHDAY HONORS

Six teachers of Oak street school were honored yesterday at a luncheon held in the school social rooms. the occasion being their birthday anniversaries. Those sharing honors, included Helen Hinkson, Martha Smyth, Dorothy Jenkins, Clare Smyth, Katherine Lienert and Benetta Fairy, the latter a student teacher.

Hallowe'en appointments were developed in the table arrangement, with rays of light flashing from the laughing pumpkin face adorning the center. In the background, was a huge black cat with eyes of fire, and tall lighted tapers made the setting most striking as the guests entered the darkened room.

At an appropriate time, Principal Miss Iretta V. Dart, announced the guests of honor each receiving a gift and her future destiny revealed by the fates of fortune.

The committee in charge composed, Frances Carlon, general chairman, Virginia Bowman, Ina Rosenberg, Martha Muse, Grace Eakin, Anna Dodds, Lillian Sedwick, Catherine McConaghy and Myrna Donnelly.

FUN-MAKERS INVADE HOME MRS. T. O. MYERS

It's lots of fun to masquerade in various disguises on Hallowe'en, each year this form of entertainment becoming more popular. What with parades in many parts of the town, there's getting to be a scarcity of costumes, but at any rate, motley crowds of masqueraders hiding their identiities in this and that, were rampant Thursday night.

Another of these groups invaded the home of Mrs. T. A. Myers, on Albert street, and after they were amused by guessing identities, they unmasked, revealing themselves to be Bertha Girls of the First M. E. church and their husbands.

There were about 20 present and the prizes for guessing the majority of her associates under their outlandish garbs went to Mrs. A. M. Mc Callen. Other prizes in contests and games were presented to Mrs. Harry Black, Mrs. Josephine Smith, Mrs. Ira S. Fulkerson, and Mrs. Robert S. Garvin.

Refreshments concluded the clever party, Mrs. Myers, being assisted by Mrs. W. G. Ayres, Mrs. A. M. McCallen and Mrs. J. N. Kerr.

EVER READY CLASS PARTY LAST NIGHT

The annual Hallowe'en party of the Ever Ready class, which took place Thursday night in the basement of the First M. E. church, was delightfully arranged by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sloan and Mrs. Bernice Sloan.

The 21 guests entered into the games with enthusiasm and a similar spirit was shown when the delicious Hallowe'en lunch was served at a long table decorated by a grinning pumpkin head and arch-backed black cats.

Hillard-Peet

Mrs. J. E. Hilliard of Volant, announce the marriage of her daughter Jean, to Richard Peet, of Bowling Green, Ky.

WHYLE-AWAY CLUB GUESTS AT BUTLER

Members of the Whyle-Away Bridge club, motored to the home of Mrs. J. J. Henicheck at Butler, Pa., Thursday afternoon, where they were delightfully entertained at a dessert-bridge.

In cards, handsome trophies were awarded to Mrs. David Fisher and Mrs. Joseph W. Campbell for their success. The galloping trophy, was carried off by Mrs. J. J. Henickeck.

Mrs. G. S. Jenkins of 808 Junior High street, invited the club to her home on Thursday, November 12.

GHOSTS WALK AT HITCHINGS HOME

Many a ghost walked in silence Thursday evening about town, but a group which turned out later to be in a really merry mood, stalked into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hitchings, 320 Garfield avenue and made themselves at home.

It was revealed that the guests were Bertha Girls of the First M. E. church and their husbands, bent on an evening's fun. They had it, a plenty, for all sorts of Hallowe'en games were played, the entertainment being under the direction of Mrs. Earle Reeves and Mrs. Fred Alexander.

To fill out the evening, and incidentally the "ghosts" a typical Hallowe'en lunch was served about midnight. Aides in serving were Miss Ellen Wood and Mrs. Edna Payne.

Prizes for the best get-ups were presented before departure to Mrs. Don McFall and John Douglas.

On November 9, the Bertha Girls will have their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Ellis Diefenderfer, Logan street.

ANNUAL COSMO CLUB DANCE AT FIELD CLUB

Laughter and gaiety were supreme at the New Castle Field club, Thursday night, when the Cosmo club held its fourth annual dance. The occasion was a success from every standpoint.

From 10 to 1 o'clock the committee arranged a most enjoyable program. Dancing was the chief diversion. During the course of the evening, an unusually large number of souvenirs, novelties and other trinkets were distributed. David Victor was chairman, Jack Gold was in charge of tickets, Hy Wolfe, reservations and Dr. Henry Sloan handled the publicity.

Many out of town guests were present. The event was easily one of the outstanding social functions of the autumn season here.

SURPRISE AFFAIR FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Ann Eagan was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening, when a number of girl friends gathered in the home of her mother, Mrs. George McCart, on Neshannock avenue.

The affair was in honor of her coming marriage to Vaughn Frazier, of Sharon, and the bride-elect was presented with lovely gifts.

At an appropriate time, a dainty refection was served by the hostess. A huge cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, adorned the table and appointments were of a seasonal nature.

Class Enjoys Party

Singing and various games were the interesting pastimes of the evening with prizes going to Esther Schneitzing and Lois Thompson.

At an appropriate time the girls were led to a beautifully decorated table where the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Aileen Stone, served delicious refreshments. The girls departed with many happy memories of the occasion.

"GAY NINETIES" PARTY FOR JOLLY TWELVE

Grandma's version of an evening tea party, when dresses were long, full and sweeping, as in the days of long ago, was a quaint scene in the home of Mrs. George Jones on Edgewood avenue Thursday evening when she entertained the women of the Jolly Twelve club at a "Gay Nineties" party.

The guests, attired in some of the finest gowns worn in the days of long ago, entered the Jones residence at an early hour (unmasked) and busied themselves in exchanging greetings and chatting about their attire. Mrs. Charles Gardner received the prize for wearing the most original and exquisite gown.

Cards filled in the remaining hours, and following the hostess served a dainty repast with seasonal appointments predominating. Lovely honor score awards fell to Mrs. D. T. Andrews, Mrs. Mary Fleeger and Mrs. H. B. McConnell.

Regular meeting of the club will be held November 12 with Mrs. Mary Thayer, Shaw street.

MRS. W. H. WEINSCHENK HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. W. Henry Weinschenk of the Savannah road was twice taken by surprise on Thursday, her birthday, first by a secretly arranged dinner at the home of her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weinschenk, and then by an evening party later in her own home.

More than 20 guests brought their felicitations during the evening; they included a group from Wampum, Francis Davis and daughter Miss Olive Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Reno and Mr. and Mrs. Chester McChesney, a couple from Cochranton, Pa., Rev. and Mrs. I. E. Rossell, and numerous New Castle friends.

A tasty surprise lunch was served by Mrs. Weinschenk's daughters Margaret and Virginia, her niece, Mrs. E. H. Willmarth; her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Weinschenk, and Mrs. William D. Cobau of New Castle.

DINNER PARTY EVENT AT KLINGENSMITH HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Klingensmith of North Mercer street opened their home to a group of friends Thursday evening when the latter entertained jointly with Mrs. Bruce Love, her sister, at a party in honor of Mrs. Harry Irwin, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

The guests were served a full course dinner by the hostess at six o'clock. The table was nicely appointed in seasonal tones, the center being graced with a lighted pumpkin and tall tapers in crystal holders.

Following Mrs. Klingensmith presented the guest of honor with a large birthday cake topped with tiny lighted candles. Later she gave Mrs. Irwin a beautiful gift in behalf of the assemblage.

Conversation, music and other informal pastimes filled in the balance of the evening hours.

SECTION MEMBERS' PARTY AT ALFORDS

After watching the Hallowe'en parade on the East Side Thursday evening, members of Section D. Y. L. B. of the Third church, gathered in the home of Mrs. Ira Alford, on East Washington street, where they were entertained by Mrs. Alford and Mrs. R. M. Eagleson at a Hallowe'en party.

This event continued the series of parties which is being given throughout the season by this section. About 40 were present last night, some masked, and for their amusement, various guessing games and contests were played. Prizes were given to Mrs. Fred Sturdevant, Mrs. David Brown and Mrs. J. A. Wilson.

Decorations about the home were of a Hallowe'en nature, and the aides throughout the evening were: Mrs. Earl McKnight, Misses Irene Taylor and Margaret Sankey. An appetizing Hallowe'en lunch was served.

Birthday Party

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor in Sharpsville, Thursday evening, the birthdays of two of their children were celebrated with a party. Margaret Elizabeth was four years and William Robert was ten. Both were the recipients of lovely presents.

During the evening accordion selections were contributed by Mrs. Oliver Daugherty, of Hoytdale.

In the group were many folks from New Castle among whom were Mrs. William Cross, Edward E. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred James and son, Junior, Mrs. Oliver Daugherty and daughter, Dorothy, who are visiting in New Castle.

When the group arrived, a delicious supper was served, and again before a late departure, other tasty viands were served.

Ritz Club

Ritz club members met Thursday evening for a Hallowe'en party in the home of Mrs. Fred Farrone, on Center street.

Prizes at bingo were won by Mrs. Frank Boran and Mrs. James Bongivengo and other trophies for the best costumes were presented to Mrs. James Barlett and Mrs. Anthony Panella.

A tasty lunch was served in the dining room which was elaborately decorated with Hallowe'en colors, with favors at the places. Mrs. Frank Boran aided.

In two weeks the next regular meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Curtis Guckert, Center street.

Saturday

Jolly Dinner, Mrs. Howard Wilson, Etna street.

PARTY AT MERCER HONORS NEWLYWEDS

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. John K. Court of Neshannock avenue, a recent bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs G. Cleve Blake of Mercer, Pa., entertained a gathering of friends recently at a miscellaneous shower.

The evening hours were spent informally with games, chat and other diversions. At an appropriate time a delicious menu of refreshments was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mrs. John Dudds and Mrs. Howard Kirk. The affair was climaxed when the hosts invited Mr. and Mrs. Court into the living room, where a table laden with an array of beautifully wrapped packages, awaited their attention. The guests of honor found lovely gifts concealed inside, for use in their home.

Those in attendance from New Castle included Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rohrer, Lois Livingston and Chalmer Kennedy.

Reunited Ladies League.

Bingo was a pleasing pastime for the Reunited Ladies League members Thursday evening, when Mrs. Bessie Straight entertained at their regular bi-weekly event in the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lewis Straight, Ellwood-New Castle road.

Those winning prizes, included Mrs. L. R. Skidmore, Mrs. Ralph Phillips and Mrs. Anna Richards. Lunch was served at a late hour, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Lewis Straight. Seasonal appointments were used throughout in the decorations.

Plans were made for a tureen dinner to take place November 12 in the home of Mrs. Belle Clark, Madison avenue, at 6:30 o'clock, their next assembly.

W. T. T. Club.

Miss Ruth Mayberry of Pennsylvania avenue received as her guests Thursday evening members of the W. T. T. club. An election of officers featured the business meeting, Thelma Heath being named president and Roseltha Hartsuff secretary.

Cards filled in the remaining hours, and lunch served by the hostess concluded the evening.

On November 11 a spaghetti supper will be held with Roseltha Hartsuff and Thelma Heath co-hostesses, the place to be announced.

YOUR VOTE IS SECRET

YOUR right to vote—secretly—is one of the most sacred things guaranteed to you by the Constitution of the United States.

The presidential election of 1936 has been one of the most bitterly contested in modern times, and properly so, because issues that effect the well being of every man and woman who wants this to be the America of his fathers, the America of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, are at stake.

Don't let anybody bluff you. When you go into the polling place, you are alone with your Maker and your conscience. Vote in accordance with your principles and the ideals of America.

Your vote is secret.

LIVING DANGEROUSLY

So much attention is paid to automobile accidents that the other hazards of modern living may be sometimes overlooked. They make a formidable showing in the annual statistics of accidental death and injury from all causes which were offered and analyzed at the session of the National Safety Congress in Atlantic City.

About 110,000 Americans, the highest number in history, will die by accident this year. One person in twelve of the entire population will suffer nonfatal injury of sufficiently serious character to be put on record. About a third of the total accidental deaths are blamed on automobile accidents, and about one-ninth of the injuries.

This year's accident record is about 6000 higher because of last summer's heat. About 40,000 deaths a year are due to accidents in the home, where people consider themselves comparatively safe. Floods and tornadoes, snake bites and fires, loaded guns and poisons will be responsible for about 19,500 deaths during 1936.

When the property damages due to accident are estimated the figures climb too high for ordinary comprehension. There is plenty of reason, therefore, why the nation's safety experts should be concerned about ways and means of reducing accident. Their most difficult task is to persuade the public to share their concern.

DAY OF JUDGMENT

Many matters of importance will be settled next Tuesday, more or less to the satisfaction of the voters who settle them. Some of less importance will also get a kind of settlement, among them the question whether pre-election polls are worth the trouble of taking them.

A professional political observer has pointed out that by next Wednesday morning "one group of pollers or the other is going to have a dreadful headache." Everybody would think so, except for the fact that so many people turn deaf ears to all arguments but those which suit their own opinions. Many are hardly aware that there are a dozen polls, at least, arriving at a dozen conclusions. Only one can be approximately correct and every partisan insists the right one is the one which confirms his estimates.

Next Tuesday's verdict at the polls, therefore, should gravely discount the value of most pre-election polls and, possibly, of all of them. When the tumult and the shouting dies it may be found out that there is no sure way of feeling the political pulse of the nation. The result may be devastating to the poll idea, except that the differences between political prophecy and fulfillment are so soon forgotten and forgiven. Otherwise, most of the party managers would hide their heads on the morning after election, which they rarely do.

LESSON IN NEUTRALITY

Controversy among European nations over the furnishing of munitions to factions engaged in the Spanish civil war should be a stern reminder for those who have had to do with the fixing of American foreign policy. It is apparent that neutrality cannot be maintained along with the sale of war's implements. The traffic in arms is properly construed as a belligerent act, and nations which resort to it are always destined to become involved in military conflict.

The recent senate investigation at Washington showed that the sale of munitions to European belligerents during the World War was at least one factor in getting America into the struggle. Had it not been for the economic and financial entanglements thereby engendered, it is possible that the Wilsonian policy of neutrality might have been less subject to untimely abrogation.

This country, in any event, should heed the lesson now developed in connection with the Spanish situation. If at any future date a general European war should become a reality, it would behoove official Washington to put the clamps on munitions sales and make certain that neutrality be conceived as a relationship which definitely precludes the get-rich-quick process of cashing in on rampant militarism.

A good point to remember is that so long as America stays home and minds her own business there is little chance of her becoming a party to European perversity. And staying at home includes the elimination of potentially embarrassing commercial tie-ups as well as the banning of direct action on the part of the Army and Navy.

ONCE MORE EUROPE is becoming what a good American salesman would call "war-conscious." Having already built up one of the greatest air fleets in the world, France will now spend five billion francs more for air fighting, new planes, more air fields, more men.

BELGIUM, AS YOU have read, thinks about putting forts along the frontier separating her from France and France planning forts to protect her from Belgium.

AUSTRALIA IS bargaining for 150 American fighting planes because British factories cannot supply the home demand. Perhaps Australia has her mind on Japan, also air-conscious, and very close to Australia.

GERMANY ACCUSES neighbors of building "underground fortifications" aimed at Germany. Pertinax, able French writer whose real name is Andre Geraud, thinks the big explosion will come "with the peak of German rearmament," which is not far away, probably next spring or summer.

ENGLAND AT THE moment has a separate little quarrel with Japan over the beating of three British sailors by Japanese policemen. One sailor had his jaw fractured; England does not like that, but the question is, would she fight the Japanees for the sake of one sailor's jaw?

Young Englishmen who publicly declare that they would never again fight "for king and country" might refuse even more emphatically, to fight for the jawbone of a sailor.

THE MOST SERIOUS incident for the moment is probably the beating of the English sailors. The British Vice Admiral, Sir Charles Little, naval commander in the Far East, has postponed his courtesy visit to Japan, which was to have

THERE IS A LAW

ANGRILY, sadly, desperately you cry out that there OUGHT to be a law about something that has upset you.

But you should know that for everything in this life that pleases or disturbs you, there IS a law. It's already there, whether you obey it or violate it.

Water runs down hill. Gas under pressure explodes when a spark strikes it. Variety is the spice of life. Eggs must be broken to make omlets. Gravity works in inverse ratio to the square of the distance. Sound travels a thousand feet a second. If a tire explodes when you're going 60 miles an hour, you're likely to have trouble.

Father isn't always right. If you complain too much of your troubles, people will walk around the block to avoid you. Tired people are often peevish. If you lend money you may lose a friend. If you don't lend it you may lose him anyway. Happy people have the most friends. Money isn't everything—but its something. Great oaks from little acorns grow.

As the twig is bent so the tree inclines. Little pitchers have big ears and babies are a lot of fun. All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. And so forth and so forth.

There are laws of happiness and laws for despair, laws for remembering and laws for forgetting, laws for building and laws for tearing down—and if you know them and obey them the harvest of such wisdom is happiness.

Fortunate is he, said the wise Virgil, who knows the causes of things. And fortunate are all of us when we know there IS a law and that it must be obeyed.

TRIBUTE

So quietly he walked about,
So meekly went and came
That he was never singled out
As great enough for fame.
So graciously he trod the earth,
So friendly tried to be
That forceful men of lesser worth
Gained more of praise than he.

Now to my desk a letter comes
From those who knew him best:
A tribute to his life which sums
Success by every test.
No stately resolutions these
On purchased parchment penned
But words aglow with memories:
"We mourn him as a friend!"

"How much to us his counsel mean
The world will never know.
His was the desk to which we went
In times of doubt and woe."
And now I wonder as I see
The words of those who grieve,
If more than that a man can be
Or more than that achieve.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:01. Sun rises tomorrow 6:27.

For the past three and a half years this country has been the real land of promise. We could say such a promiseness!

The confessions of most sinners are too voluminous and cost too much to print.

The king of England seems to be set on getting married, and to an American lady. He don't seem to be looking after a lot of money either.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

"It's surprising," said the professor to his wife at breakfast, "to think how ignorant we all are. Nearly every man is a specialist in his own particular line, and in consequence we are all as narrow-minded, as it is possible for us to be."

"Yes, dear," said his wife.

"I, for instance," he continued, "am ashamed of my failure to keep abreast of modern science. Take the electric light, for example, I haven't the least idea how it works."

His wife gave him a patronizing look and smiled.

"Why, Herbert, I'm ashamed of you. It's so simple! You simply press a switch, that's all!"

The all night rounder may forget his house address, but he has a retentive memory for the phone number of his taxi service.

The opening of the hunting season in Pennsylvania has been postponed from November 1 to November 6. Was this done to get all the boys to vote before they get plinked by some careless shooter on election day?

Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned—except a dignified small boy teased by a dim-wit stranger.

Hi Hum says the young man with a will of his own generally succeeds, if not so well as the youngster who has the will of his dead uncle to fall back on.

We have been given to believe that a really good airplane that will stand upright will cost about one hundred and ten thousand dollars. This price is sure going to keep it out of the hands of the common people.

The longer cider stands around this season of the year, the less the men folks shy at it.

"What do you think is the greatest problem connected with the rising generation?"

"I should say getting them to rise in the morning."

If this newspaper printed one-tenth of the stuff that is sent to it every day, there wouldn't be anything else in the paper if it was twice as large. A lot of people want to air their views in newspapers, but don't want it known that it is their hot air.

How dreadful for a man to kill his wife when he could take her a box of flowers and let the shock do it.

We often wonder what the girl in the sidecar thinks while she is wiggling in and out of traffic at a dangerous clip, and if she could be arrested for saying it?

At this time of the year when leaves cover the sidewalks there is danger of people falling and getting badly hurt. Bad sidewalks are not a good thing at any time and we have often wondered why those who can afford it are not compelled to fix their rotten walks.

HOW'S THIS ONE?

Although many people who should know claim the mosquitoes in Alaska are not nearly so large as elephants, others violently disagree with them. Clayton Comstock, of Ansley, Nebraska, is one of the latter. As he puts it they have some ripsnorters up there. In fact when he was in Alaska during the Klondike gold rush they were nothing short of breath-taking.

Once when I was campin' out on my claim, I was gettin' ready to have some fresh cured ham for supper. I was just about to slice the meat from the whole ham which I had put on a rock when I heard a loud drone. I looked up and saw an averaged-sized mosquito goin' into a nose dive at the ham. He made a one-point landin'. His drill went through the thickest part of the meat, struck the bone, and in so doin' turned the point so that the drill was riveted solid in the meat. He tugged and yanked for a long time, then, seein' any more effort in that direction was futile, he calmly spread his wings and carried the ham away to his nest. Unfortunately, I didn't have any gun with me and so could not shoot him down. And as for tacklin' him alone, I was afraid to do that because I had seen a friend of mine carried away on a similar occasion.

What a college man does with his weak end is his own business even though he uses it for no better purpose than to hang his hat on.

A lot of people will listen and believe the predictions made as to the result of next Tuesday's election, but there also will be some who will not get excited until the last vote is counted—and maybe not then.

Conservative—So you believe in dividing everything up, do you?

Socialist—Yes.

Conservative—Would you be willing to give me half your cows?

Socialist—Yes, most certainly.

Conservative—Would you give me half your chickens?

Socialist—No. That's different.

Conservative—What's the difference?

Socialist—Why, I've got chickens and I ain't got no cows.

But once the election is over, there won't be any vital issue in sight except the Thanksgiving game.

We can have a lot more respect when we look back now and think of the people who ran this country than we can have for the kind of birds who want to run it now.

The sugar puff is simply plain sugar afflicted with inflation.

She—Will you love me as much in chill December as in balmy June?

He—More, darling.

She—How more?

He—There's one more day in December, ain't there?

Difficulties of mining in the further north country are indicated by a sentence in the annual report of one company: "The ice went out in July last year, and it was snowing again in August."

My no, it was the fellow who wrote "The Man With the Hoe" who made $25,000, not the chap who used it.

1st Senator—I hear that they voted several dogs in a recent election in your state. What have you go' to say to that?

2nd Senator—I think that's all right. A dog is taxed, isn't he—and you wouldn't stand for taxation without representation, would you?

"Give back our colonies!" cries Hitler. All right, brother; just as soon as you give back the ships you sent to the bottom.

The price of buttermilk was raised from 11 to 12 cents a quart. In the old days one could get all the buttermilk one could carry away for nothing. The buttermilk has become educated.

The girl who visits the bargain counter and leaves without making a purchase, is such a suspicious person that sometimes they arrest her for resisting temptation.

Some politicians have quit lookin' for new worlds to conquer and are jest concentratin' on new things to tax.

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR Miss Markel: A friend and I have been arguing as to whether, at dinner, one must wait until all have been served before tasting the food on his or her plate. She says it isn't necessary to wait. I say it is. What do you say?—B. T.

Answer: As soon as a woman is served, she may begin eating even though the others at the table have not been served.

A man must wait until the women on both sides of him are served before beginning to eat. He is then free to proceed without waiting for any one else.

Dear Miss Markel: I am a widow and must earn my living again. My husband's name is very foreign. I have always used my maiden surname along with my husband's surname, thus: Eileen Smith Johannesen. Is it permissible to drop my husband's name and call myself Eileen Smith?—E. S. J.

Answer: Although your husband is no longer living, your name is still Eileen Smith Johannesen and you should sign it so. You should still be addressed as "Mrs. John B. Johannesen" and not as "Mrs. Ellen Smith Johannesen."

The Civil Service Issue

From New York Sun

Governor Alfred M. Landon properly devoted the whole of his Pittsburgh speech to the issue of the decline of the civil service under the persistent attacks of the spoilsmen of the New Deal. Some of his advisers are said to have told him that the issue was not exciting enough, but those who are aware of the abiding interest of the American people in the defense and advancement of the merit system know that such an issue presents a profound appeal to the American conscience.

The Republican candidate for president made effective use of Franklin D. Roosevelt's own remarks on civil service, his professions of devotion, dated in August, 1933, in September, 1935, and in January, 1936. Contrast these professions with the actual record of the New Deal Administration, with the increase of exempt positions from 100,000 in March, 1933, to more than 325,000 in June, 1936, with the corresponding decline in the proportion of jobs covered by competitive examination, and with the frank avowal by Farleyites of the need of more and more patronage to create a partisan machine. The progress slowly and painfully made over a quarter of a century was wiped out in three and a half years of the Roosevelt Administration. In the name of emergency the New Deal scuttled civil service and created a host of patronage jobs; confronted with the emergency of war, another Democratic president, Woodrow Wilson, actually increased the proportion of positions under the merit system.

On the constructive side Governor Landon made some interesting proposals. If elected, he plans to ask Congress for authority to extend the merit system to every position in the executive department below the rank of Assistant Secretary, to ask for authority to bring about a real reorganization and consolidation of government agencies, to seek increased appropriations for the Civil Service Commission, to divorce political committeemen from government jobs, to devise a means to put part-time and contract employees under the merit system, and to bring into existence a court of appeals under the Civil Service Commission before which charges against Federal employees can be aired. That is a full program; to work, it must be intrusted to a genuine friend of the merit system.

The World and the Mud Puddles

BIRDS

I do not know a lot about birds, although in my youth I read in the "St. Nicholas" magazine the doings of the Agassiz and Audubon societies. I did not become interested even to the extent of trying to organize a New Castle chapter.

Birds do interest me now. The mockingbird, the hummingbird, the quail and the meadow lark make their homes in the trees and coverts of Point Loma. I have listened to the singing of the mockingbird on a moonlight night. I have counted twenty-one different notes. The bird will give them over and over again. Light sleepers complain about it, but the most sleepless one cannot but be amazed at the repertoire of these songsters.

A neighbor recently found a flock of mockingbirds very much agitated. A pair had a nest in a big eucalyptus tree with its brood of young. A snake was twisting its way up the tree and not only the parents but the whole mockingbird colony were protesting with loud notes, circling round and round the tree. The neighbor thought for a moment, then started to his garage to get a ladder and a big glass fruit jar. One bird, evidently "papa", accompanied

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Major V. A. M. Kemp of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, does some debunking: "No Canadian ever said: 'The mountie always gets his man.' The real motto is: 'Maintiens le droit'—maintain the right."

LOS ANGELES—Mrs. Grace Van Alystyne Du Bois, 61, convicted of murdering her son, Dr. Charles Du Bois, leaves for prison: "Sustaining me is the fact that I am old, and death is not far away."

ARCADIA, Cal. — Congressman John H. Hoeppel hears a bench warrant is enroute from Washington, D. C., to hasten his incarceration in prison for conspiring to sell a U. S. military academy appointment: "At this distance I am at a distinct disadvantage in defending myself against this whole matter."

BRADENTON, Fla.—Dizzy Dean explains his frequent rumpuses with Branch Rickey, his boss: "It looks like jealousy on Rickey's part because his name don't get on the front pages as often as mine."

NEW YORK—Ambroise Vollard, Paris art dealer, believes artists should have government support: "Artists put joy into life that we all profit by."

This was 13 years before Ferdinand de Sota, who is erroneously credited by many historians with having discovered Old Man River, stood upon the lower Chickasaw Bluff and had his first glimpse of the Father of Waters.

DeVaca was one of the company sent out by the Spanish governor of Jamica under command of Pamphilo de Narvaez to find a "city of gold." He and three others were the only ones who were able to escape shipwreck and Amerindians and reach Spanish settlements in Mexico, where they arrived four centuries ago this summer.

Oct. 30, 1823—The Rev. Edmund Cartwright, introducer of the Machine Age, died, aged 80. An English rector with a mechanical mind who devised improvements in agricultural improvements, he visited Sir Richard Arkwright's cotton-spinning mills and there got the idea for a weaving-machine. He patented the first power-loom next year when he was 42, was surprised and sorrowed by riots which broke out among workers in Doncaster and Manchester when the labor-saving device was installed in mills. Nevertheless, he turned his talents to development of a wool-carding machine and a steam-engine fed by alcohol, and to collaboration with Robert Fulton in the development of steam navigation. From all these he benefitted little, and was dependent in his later years upon a government dole.

Oct. 30, 1829—In Albany, N. Y., Roscoe Conkling was born. He is remembered today because he was something rare indeed, a politician and officeholder with one set of unwavering principles. He resigned, unasked, unsaught and unwished, as senator from New York, because of a disagreement with President Garfield's policies, and he refused to become a member of the Supreme Court of the United States after his nomination had been confirmed by the Senate.

Oct. 30, 1929—In Albany, N. Y., 1875—A New State constitution was ratified in Missouri. 1820—Morse telegraph code was patented. 1881—DeLong American Arctic expedition perished of starvation and cold almost within sight of a Siberian village . . . 1888—Democratic President Cleveland forced the recall of Lord Sackville, the British ambassador, because the latter rote a letter recommending voting the Democratic ticket. . . .

It's True What They Say About—John Camden Neild. He lived like a miser all his life in Scotland, sleeping on the floor, wearing rags and subsisting on crusts. When he died, he left his fortune to construct a palace for Queen Victoria, who had never heard of him. (The palace is Balmo: l, Scottish residence of Victoria's royal successors.)

Herbert and Herschel Baker, twins. They enlisted in the Army the same day; became lieutenants the same day; were wounded at the same time, though not together; won medals the same day; received promotions to captaincies the same day.

George Frederick Handel. When he refused to engage a certain popular singer for the premiere of his new oratorio in London, a league was formed against him by the crooner's fans, his posters torn down, his theater picketed, his music drowned by the shouting of hecklers. But he still wouldn't engage the singer.

Edouard Benedictus. A bottle which dropped off a shelf in his laboratory caused him to discover shatter-proof glass. The bottle did not break. He remembered that 15 years before it had contained a mixture of various chemicals which had evaporated, coating the bottle with transparent enamel of great tensile strength. A few days later he made the first sheet of safety glass.

Business Women Of District Two Will Convene Here

National Federation Officer To Speak Saturday Evening At Field Club

MRS. ROSA CUNNINGHAM

Saturday evening of this week women from the Business and Professional Women's clubs from all parts of District Two, Pennsylvania federation, will assemble for a dinner-meeting in the New Castle Field club. Mrs. Rosa E. Cunningham, of Des Moines, Iowa, second vice president of the national federation, will be the speaker.

The dinner is to be at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Cunningham, who will be introduced by the district chairman, Miss Florence Dickezy, of Butler, will have for her subject, "Women As Citizens."

Mrs. Cunningham, before being named an officer was legislative chairman of the national federation. She has served as president of her local club as well as of the state federation and she accomplished all this in spite of a business career necessitated by the death of her husband and the responsibility for bringing up a young son.

She began as a public stenographer at the age of 17 and held her job although she had had only two months training. She has been assistant cashier, later assistant manager of an exchange for a Telephone Company in Kansas; has held noteworthy positions in life insurance and investment houses and is now in the investment department of the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa.

Plans for the district meeting are being completed by the New Castle club members. Mrs. Cunningham is expected to arrive in this city Saturday morning.

The reason for the importance of Liverpool as a leading wheat market is that Great Britain is one of the principal industrial nations of the world and consequently needs a great supply of wheat to feed her population, her own crop being insufficient.

Women Invading New Fields In Economics

Enrollment At State College Shows Them Preparing For Various Vocations

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Oct. 30.—Women at the Pennsylvania State College this year are striking out for themselves and zealously preparing themselves for the invasion of fields of endeavor that only a few years ago were regarded as the exclusive domain of men.

Enrollment statistics at the college, announced recently by registrar William B. Hoffman, revealed at least one girl student was pursuing a course of study in each of the seven undergraduate schools in the college.

Agriculture was the chief interest for women students in the school of engineering, with five enrolled in that course this year, but one sophomore hopes to become an industrial engineer.

Curiously enough, the enrollment figures go into reverse in the school of education and men become the "exception to the rule" in some courses. Three men, for instance were enrolled among 342 women in home enconomics.

Of the total enrollment of 5664 students in the college this year, a total of 1067 are women, 935 of them candidates for bachelor's degrees. There are 66 women in the graduate school and 62 enrolled in special courses.

May Ask State For Tuberculosis Code

Claimed Authorities Need Act To Clarify Present Situation

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—With an estimated 45,000 active cases of tuberculosis in Pennsylvania, demands have been made here that the legislature enact a "tuberculosis code" similar to the code for mental diseases enacted 13 years ago.

In the forefront of this movement to obtain help for the tuberculous is Dr. William G. Turnbull, superintendent of the Philadelphia General hospital.

There is need for such a code to assist the state and local authorities to determine their respective responsibilities in caring for certain types of tuberculosis patients, Dr. Turnbull advised, if efficiency of tuberculosis control and cure is to be increased.

In contrast with methods of handling mental disease under the act of 1932, he said, "there is now no definition as to which tuberculosis patients belong to the state and which belong to the local communities such as cities and counties."

"Consequently," said Dr. Turnbull," state sanatoria are crowded with patients who should be moved to state institutions."

Dr. Edith McBride-Dexter, secretary of the state department of health, warned at the same time that more sanatoriums and from 1,500 to 2,000 more beds are urgently required for the control of the disease throughout the commonwealth.

Landon Far Ahead In College Poll

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Oct. 30—It's Landon by 3 to 1, on the Grove City College campus.

However, results announced today in the second test vote reduce the Republican candidate's lead of two weeks ago, when his lead was 4 to 1. Yesterday's poll was more comprehensive, attracting 594 voters out of a student body of 850.

Landon is more of a favorite with the co-eds than with the men, the girl's majority for the Kansan exceeding 3½ to 1.

Depositors Fail To Claim Funds

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 30.—Contrary to bank officials' expectations, the recently released eight per cent dividend from the New Wilmington First National bank are being called for by only a few of the depositors while the vast majority of those who are entitled to dividends are making no effort to secure their money that is waiting for them.

R. H. Wilson, bank receiver, reports that not quite one-fourth of those who are entitled to dividends have called for their checks and the First National bank still holds some $40,000 which belongs to approximately 1,600 former depositors.

Those who are entitled to their dividends are asked to call for their checks at once.

Deer Hunters To Find Good Shooting

KANE, Pa., Oct. 30.—McKean county farmers, complaining that herds of roaming deer are damaging their orchards and crops, are applying for out-of-season permits to shoot them five weeks before the season opens.

George English of Kinzua, declared he chased a herd of 20 out of his cornfield, and others declare smaller groups are trampling through their fields.

Pope Pius Honors Six American Scientists

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 30.—Naming six Americans to membership, Pope Pius today reorganized the Pontifical Academy of Sciences and in a papal bull asserted that science now recognizes existence of a spiritual being.

"There is not a single scientist today worthy of the name who dares to sustain prejudices against religion," the pontiff said. "This should have been so at all times."

"We there saw eminent scientists prostrate themselves before the throne of God.

"We saw united in this gesture of Catholics scientists who did not belong to our faith. We heard with exultant delight their desire to prepare the soul to faith and religion.

"Scientists must honor their noble position by expanding the fields of knowledge, thus rendering religious obeisance to the supreme truth of the Creator."

In addition to naming Papal Secretary of State Cardinal Pacelli, now in the United States, as honorary member of the academy, the pope appointed the following:

Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute, New York. Prominent recently for his collaboration with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in the invention of a "mechanical heart", Dr. Carrel won the Nobel prize in 1912 for his work in surgery.

George David Birkhoff of Harvard university, Mass., famous mathematician who won the pontifical academy's award in 1933 for research on systems of differential equations.

Robert Andrews Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena.

George Sperti, Jr., of University of Cincinnati, O., director of the basic research science laboratory.

Thomas Hunt Morgan of the California Institute of Technology, authority on heredity and evolution, winner of the Nobel prize in 1933.

Although he was censured by a fascist court for failure of his Arctic dirigible expedition, Gen. Umberto Nobile was named by the pope to the pontifical senate of academicians.

The pope also made the Marchese Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of the wireless, and Sir Aldo Castellani, famous authority on tropical diseases, senators.

been made tomorrow. When a British admiral postpones a courtesy visit, that means something.

NATURE, AS well as she can, seems to express disapproval of all the planning for wholesale killing. A hurricane wipes out Germany's lightship the Elbe, south of Heligoland, its whole crew, 15, killed.

Tokio is shaken by another earthquake, the more you have of those things the more you worry; there is no "getting used" to them. Eighty-mile-an-hour winds roaring over England and Scotland cause deaths, much damage to shipping, trains are held up by trees blown across the tracks.

In earlier days of simple faith some nations would have concluded from such manifestations that Providence was angry.

IT MIGHT BE a good idea for this country, when it gets through with the election, to interest itself in these European developments. Thanks to airplanes, the United States, undefended, might well see the war drift in this direction. It is less than thirty years since the Frenchman, Bleroit, won Northcliff's prize by flying across the English Channel. Six months from now any European nation might have a thousand bombing planes easily able to fly the Atlantic, or the Pacific.

FIRST CLASS pilots take flying casually; they worry only about the trip from the hotel to the flying field.

Mr. Mollison flew away Wednesday morning in his long-winged plane, dressed in his "dinner-jacket," black tie, open waistcoat, all complete, saying:

"I'll be ready for a party when I arrive in London."

Then he pulled down the transparent cover over his head, and started across the Atlantic, first lap in his 10,500 mile flight from New York to Cape Town, Africa.

HERE, MYRON C. TAYLOR, head of "Big Steel," greatest steel company in the world, announces increases in wages, also resumption of full dividend payments of the preferred United States Steel stock, also, earnings in three months of more than thirteen million dollars, biggest in six years.

Thirteen million dollars in three months may not be "big money," but "it is better than being hit on the head with a sharp stone."

IN ENGLAND, a lady recently mentioned frequently, gets a divorce after convincing "My Lord" Justice Hawke that her husband had been unfaithful, various witnesses swearing to the fact.

It seems strange that, under the circumstances, the lady must go "on probation," for six months closely observed by the royal proctor, behaving herself discreetly that her divorce may be confirmed at the end of the probation.

Nothing is said about the husband behaving himself, or any probation for him. Women's rights ladies will guess, accurately, that England's laws were made by men.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

him, chattering the whole way. While he climbed the ladder and imprisoned the snake, the whole crew watched silently from the branches—watched until he killed the snake and then broke into a tremendous concert of rejoicing. Soon they went about their own affairs and left "mamma", "pappa" and fledglings to their own affairs.

The hummingbird loves music. Let your radio near a window be playing operatic airs and these midgets will swarm about your window. You may think that these seemingly tireless wings are never closed, but they are. The hummingbirds do not stop and "sit down" now and then and they do have their nests in the most inaccessible tangles of bushes.

The hummingbird migrates and travels long distances. They have been observed flying across the Gulf of Mexico from Florida to South America. And speed! They travel the fastest of any creature of nature. Watch them dart across a terrace perhaps a couple of hundred feet long and estimate, if you can, the miles per hour they fly. Naturalists tell us it is more than one hundred m. p. h.

Who tells the quail that on October 15th, will be the open season for hunters? Up until about the 12th, you can hear them. They come to your dooryard for food until then and in a night they have disappeared.

Some speak of bird instinct. Some say that the bird has a brain and uses it.

Pittsburgh Jurist To Address Testimonial Meeting For L. Ruzewich

Judge Benjamin Lencher of Pittsburgh will be the chief speaker Sunday night at 8:30 in Tefereth Israel Synagogue when a reception and testimonial will be held for L. Ruzewich.

Mr. Ruzewich has been active in the affairs concerning Jewish people for many years and the affair Sunday evening is to honor him. It is sponsored by the local Zionist movement.

LANDON VICTORY SHOWN BY POLL

per cent for Gov. Landon to 40 per cent for the president, the management stated:

"Many people wonder at these great changes in a state like Pennsylvania, and we confess to wonderment ourselves."

The far western situation drew this comment:

"On the Pacific coast, we find California, Oregon and Washington all vote for Mt. Landon in our poll, and yet we are told that the Pacific coast is 'aflame' for Mr. Roosevelt.

Taking cognizance of criticism levelled at the poll, the management observed:

"The poll represents the most extensive straw ballot in the field—the most experienced in view of its 25 years of perfection—the most unbiased in view of its prestige—a poll that has always previously been correct."

Final tabulation of the straw vote figures give Gov. Landon all states with the exception of the following which are credited to the president.

DINNER PARTY FOR SECTION E MEMBERS

A noonday dinner party was held Thursday, in the home of Mrs. Floyd Book on East Washington street, with members of Section E of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church composing the guest list.

Covers marked for sixteen at a table beautifully appointed in Hallowe'en suggestions, with an attractive centerpiece of fall flowers guarded by tall waxen tapers in branching candleabra, on either side. Following the serving of a delicious menu, quilting featured.

Two special visitors, were Mrs. Milt. Book and Mrs. Betty Byers.

The next meeting will take place on Thursday, November 12.

Jo Ann Brown Hostess

Thursday evening, nine-year-old Miss Jo Ann Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown of 1006 North Mercer street, entertained a group of her little girl friends at a masquerade party.

Prizes were awarded to Dorothy Ward, Betty Lou Carlson and Dorothy Bobula for wearing the cleverest costumes, the opening contest. The black cat game prize fell to Mary Booth and Patty Bilzi received the apple contest award. A series of other games held their attention, until lunch time.

The hostess mother served an attractive menu, with orange and black colors predominating in the appointments. She was aided by another daughter, June, in serving.

F. F. Club Meeting

F. F. club associates, gathered in the Wallace avenue home of Myrtle Mariacher, Thursday evening, for a period of bridge. When contests were concluded, lovely prizes were given to Mrs. Edward Smith and Anna Mae Hamilton for holding honor scores.

The next meeting on November 11, will take place with Bettie Davis, Norwood avenue.

Hallowe'en Party

One of the cleverest events of the season was a masquerade party held at St. Lawrence church, Hillsville, Tuesday evening, for the members of Mt. Carmel Society by the sponsor, Mrs. Jennie Galena. More than 40 ladies took part in the affair. Games whiled the hours away. A costume prize was awarded to Mrs. Anna Calabrace who represented a Spanish lady. Other prominent characters were Clara Perrotta who represented an Ethiopian lady and Tressa Sabatina who represented a Spanish man. A later feature was a dainty Hallowe'en lunch served in the church dining room.

FRIENDS "DROP IN" AFTER THE PARADE

Following the gay Hallowe'en parade on the East Side Thursday evening, a group of friends "dropped in' at the home of Mrs. Robert Clarke, Butler avenue, to spend a very enjoyable and informal evening.

Mrs. Clarke, even though taken by surprise, proved a most charming hostess. During the evening the guests played a very interesting game of 500.

At a later hour the hostess, assisted by Miss Anna Patterson, served a delicious Hallowe'en menu, which had been prepared on the spur of the moment.

BIRTHDAY HONORED AT WE-FU CLUB LUNCHEON

Associates of the We-Fu Bridge club motored to New Wilmington Thursday noon where they enjoyed a luncheon party and honored one of their number, Mrs. Harvey Booher, it being her birthday anniversary. She was showered with a collection of dainty hankies as remembrances.

Bridge filled in the leisure hours that ensued, prizes going to Mrs. Harvey Booher and Mrs. LeRoy Shoaff.

Mrs. Harry Carlson of Laurel avenue invited members to her home on November 12, for their regular meeting.

Betty Co-Ed Club

Thursday evening, Miss Theresa Natale of Friendship street, entertained members of Betty Co-ed in her home.

Bingo and cards were pastimes with prizes going to Mary Lamorella, Grace George and Mrs. Geo. De Caprio. At an appropriate time, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assbisted by Miss Mary Audia.

Miss Mary Lamorella was a special guest sharing in the evening's fun which was heightened by the Hallowe'en season.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lena De Caprio, of Friendship street, November 12.

D. S. Q. Club.

D. S. Q. club members met in the home of Marion Hoover, Neshannock avenue, last evening for their usual round of card playing. Tables of 500 were in progress, prizes going to Mrs. Florence McCall, Mrs. Hazel Gallagher, Mrs. Mary Wilkins and Mrs. Ethel Reed, the latter being the prize.

Lunch was served by the hostess, with Celia Butera assisting. Hollowe'en tones prevailed in the appointments, and fall flowers formed the table centerpiece.

The next meeting on Wednesday, November 4, will be held in the home of Mrs. Mary Wilkins, 116½ South Walnut street.

LE DEJEUNER CLUB AFTERNOON GUESTS

A prettily appointed 1:30 o'clock luncheon marked the meeting of the LeDejeuner club associates held on Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Morgan, East Washington street. Pastel colors predominated in the table arrangement, and a bouquet of fall flowers adorned the center.

After partaking of the delicious menu served by the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. Frew N. Book, the time was spent pleasantly in competing for bridge honors. Mrs. John Morgan and Mrs. A. W. Hoyland carried off the smart favors.

On Wednesday, November 11, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Reiber of the Wilmington road, will receive members together with their husbands and boy friends for an evening party in their home.

1936 Sewing Circle

Members of the 1936 Sewing Circle enjoyed an innovation from their regular home meetings when they had dinner in a downtown tearoom Thursday evening with Mrs. Victor Colella hostess.

Hallowe'en decorations predominated and a delightful feature was a handkerchief shower for Mrs. Anthony Colella in honor of her birthday. The group played 500, prizes going to Mrs. Anthony Colella and Mrs. Thomas Fontana. Music added to the evening's pleasures.

The next meeting will be in the nature of an anniversary party in honor of Mrs. Angelo Angelo, November 12, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Fontana, South Jefferson street.

N. S. Club Meets

Thursday evening members of the N. S. club gathered at the home of Mrs. Mike Cassella, Taylor street, for their regular meeting.

Following a short business session, the remainder of the evening was spent sewing and chatting. A tempting luncheon was served, in keeping with the Hallowe'en season.

The club token was won by Mrs. Dominick Colella. Special guest was Mrs. Anna Litrenta. Mrs. Harry Fire invited the members to her home on Division street, November 4, for their next meeting.

Theta-Nu Club

Mrs. Oran Aiken of Huron avenue, received members of the Theta-Nu club in her home Thursday evening, at a masquerade party. The mummers unmasked and gave attention to bingo contests, the prize going to Mrs. Mildred Johns, Mrs. Roy McGaffic and Mrs. Joe Walters.

A short business period ensued, with President Mrs. Clyde Grannis in charge. Plans for their next meeting were discussed, the date to be announced, and afterwards, the hostess served a dainty repast with her sister, Miss Clark, assisting.

L. A. B. Club.

Mrs. John Shaffer of Cunningham avenue was hostess Thursday to members of the L. A. B. club at an all day quilting party. A delicious luncheon menu was served at 1 o'clock, the dining table being colorfully decorated in Hallowe'en suggestions. Mrs. John Sweet assisted the hostess.

Quilting interested the assemblage during the remaining hours, and plans were formulated for their next meeting to take place Thursday, November 12. Mrs. James McCullough, 1028 East Washington street, will be hostess.

Liberty Sisterhood.

There has been a change in the time of the Hallowe'en party in which Star of Liberty Sisterhood, Dames of Malta, will hold next week.

It will take place on Monday evening, November 2, in the home of Mrs. Bertha Emery on Croton avenue, instead of Tuesday evening as planned, in the home of Mrs. Richard Swanton, Norwood avenue.

Scholarship Is Recognized At Annual Honors Convocation

DR. H. L. CROSBY MAKES ADDRESS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 30.—Scholarship was honored at Westminster college's annual Honors convocation, Thursday, as students listened to Dr. H. Lamer Crosby, Deen of the University of Pennsylvania graduate school, who spoke on "The Love of Learning."

Two New Castle freshmen, Nancy Westlake and Rex Rowland, were announced as winners of the competitive freshman scholarships. Other scholarship winners inc'uded Al Smith, Pittsburgh, and Mary Jane Dickson, Bellvue, seniors; Hiram Stoner, Mt. Pleasant, and Mary Schonhofen, Wilmderding, juniors; and Florence Sando, Wilkinsburg, and Rauer Meyer, sophomores.

The scholarship cup given to the men group attaining the highest yearly scholastic record went to the non-fraternity group of which Hans Holm, New Wilmington, is president; and the women's scholarship cup also went to the non-sorority group, of which Lois McGill, Ben Avon, is president.

Jane Byers, Pan-Hellenic president, presented the Ellen Louise Folke cup, given to the college by Mrs. E. B. Russell, to Kappa Delta sorority for having the highest grades of any sorority group. The Interfraternity cup, presented by Ray Elliott, Interfraternity president, went to the Phi Pi Phi fraternity.

Robert Lauterbach, Erie sophomore, received the Delta Nabla award. Announcements were made by President Galbreath of a $25 book award for 1936-37, to be given the senior who acquires the best library on the basis of discrimination and intrinsic merit.

In the all-college averages women stood consistently higher than men; and the classes ranked in order, senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman.

In Deen Alex C. Burr's report on scholarship, fraternity men showed improvement, men showed more improvement than women; and sorority women showed a slight drop.

Election Board Changes Owing To WPA Ruling

Judge W. Walter Braham Accepts Resignations And Makes Appointments

CONSTABLES NAME ELECTION DEPUTIES

Judge W. Walter Braham was busy at court, Thursday, accepting resignations from election boards, making appointments, and confirming appointments of deputy constables for various election precincts.

Resignations from election boards came as a result of the ruling that WPA workers are ineligible to serve on account of their being employed on governmental projects.

Harry S. Cunningham, majority inspector in the third precinct of Slippery Rock township, presented his resignation and Chester Hogue was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Kenneth Watson, minority inspector in the fifth district of Wayne township, resigned and upon a petition presented Judge Braham appointed Sarah Daellenbach.

Raymond A. Bailey resigned as Judge of Election in the first precinct of Union township. The vacancy was filled by the appointment of Glenn McCreary.

In the second precinct of the third ward, this city, Maude C. Johnston presented her resignation as Judge of Election. Margaret Lee Forbes, was appointed.

In Big Beaver township W. J. Freed resigned from the board in the third district. An appointment of a successor will be made later.

Harry E. Pollock resigned as Judge of Election in the eighth precinct of the second ward, and a successor will be appointed later.

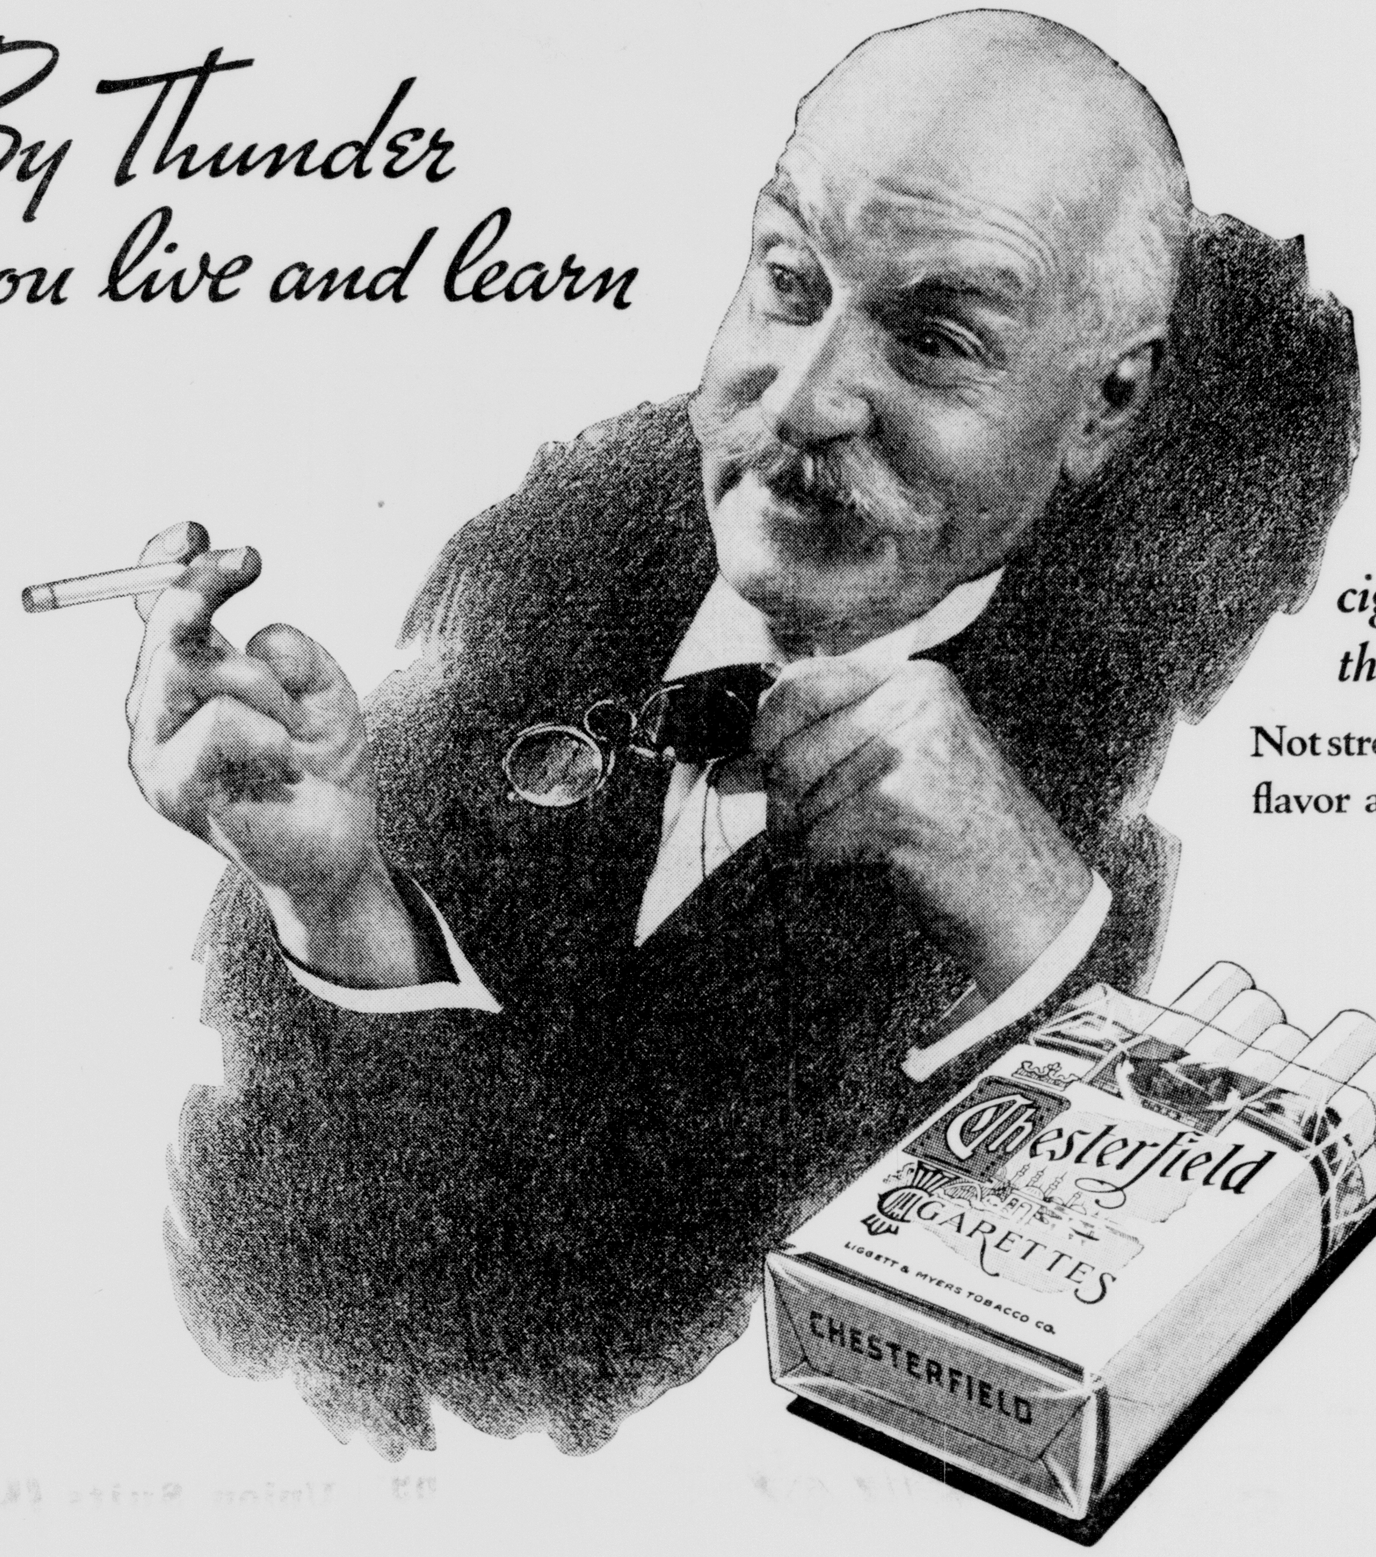

It is expected that there will be a number of other resignations and appointments today and tomorrow.

Constable Edward W. Winter of Union township, named Ed. Sanderson deputy constable for the first district; A. E. Michael for the second; Louis Zeigler for the third, and Mike Krupa for the fourth. Judge Braham approved the appointments and those of other constables as follows:

Joseph Russo, constable seventh ward, appointed W. E. Howard for the first precinct; George Billy for the second and E. K. McIlvain for the third.

W. J. Graham, constable of Hickory township, appointed B. F. Ruby constable for the first precinct.

Constable R. B. Morrow of the fourth ward appointed John Hanlon for the first precinct; James Brandon for the second; Oscar M. Saul for the third; Howard Reynolds for the fourth, and George Hites for the fifth.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd Hofmeister and daughter, Anna, Mr. and Mrs. Dick, Mrs. Ralph Hoover and daughter, Rachel Ann, of Ashtabula, called on relatives in town Sunday afternoon and later were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willis McBride, of New Castle.

Mrs. Emerson Morrow entertained the beginners class of the Christian church at her home on Tuesday at 4 o'clock. Games whiled away the hours. Each youngster received a false face. A later feature was a dainty Hallowe'en lunch served by the hostess.

Rural Carriers Ask For Patrons' Help

Urge Stamp Purchase Practice Change To Avoid Delivery Delays

If you live on a rural mail route out of New Castle, you can do your postman a real favor.

When you need postage stamps you should deposit enough coins in mail box to cover a fair supply rather than leave a penny, or two or three pennies in the receptacle to cover one or two stamps.

Postmaster Richard A. Steen pointed out that the postal law provides that carriers shall always carry a quantity of stamps to supply the wants of patrons—to provide them when they're called for.

"But it's a big help though" Steen added, "when patrons cooperate—as many do—in the purchase of the stamps. It delays a carrier sometimes when, in covering his route, he must halt to leave stamps in exchange for loose coins found in the box. In the winter time the practice of leaving a cent or so in boxes makes it most inconvenient for the carrier. They'll appreciate any help the residents give."

Officers Are Named By 'Future Farmers'

North Beaver Chapter Elects Lipp President; Activities Begin

An organization meeting of the North Beaver chapter of the Future Farmers of America took place in the North Beaver township high school at Mt. Jackson this week.

The group of 37 in attendance named Robert Lipp as the first president and selected the following other officers: Claire Paden, first vice president; Cecil Kenny, second vice president; Oscar Paden, secretary; Earl Emery, treasurer; Carl Allen, reporter, and Marvin Brady, William Bright and Junior Houk, members of the executive committee. E. C. Wiggins, supervisor of agriculture at the high school, is advisor.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of farm youths studying vocational agriculture in high school classes. North Beaver's chapter was chartered in 1932 and is affiliated with the state and national units.

Home Building Increased In Early 1936

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Construction of city homes in the United States in the first seven months of 1936 exceeded the entire volume of urban home building for 1935, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board disclosed today.

The volume of residential building activity, already at its highest point in June since 1929, rose still higher in July to 37.9 percent of the 1926 index level, the board's report revealed. The number of dwellings authorized in July was 158.4 percent greater than in July 1935. Total cost of this construction exceeded the 1935 total by 182.3 percent.

While smaller homes of the one and two family class continued to predominate, representing 51 per cent of the total number of July permits, the 50 per cent of multi-family homes was th highest figure for this type of dwelling recorded in recent years. The latter class of home led all other residential building in New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Illinois, South Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee and Oklahoma.

The palm or cocoanut crab lives almost entirely on cocoanuts. The creature is a native of the East Indies.

DIDN'T KNOW NAME OF HER EX-HUBBY

DALLAS, Texas—The perils of modern living, with its free and easy divorce, were graphically illustrated here at the office of Marriage License Clerk O. H. Crossett.

A Negro woman asked him to check and see to whom she was married in 1923.

"It don't make a bit of difference to me personally," she explained. "But mah thirteen-yeah-old daughtah has been askin' which one of mah foah husbands was her papa."

Peggy Landon Goes To St. Louis

ATTENDS COLLEGE AT LAWRENCE, KANS.

(International News Service)

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 30.—Attractive Peggy Anne Landon will trade her normal life as a coed for the role of a presidential candidate's daughter today when she will join Gov. Alfred M. Landon in St. Louis for one of his last speeches of the campaign.

In the public eye at Cleveland where her father was nominated for the presidency in June and on his subsequent vacation trips in Colorado, Miss Landon returned to the University of Kansas in September and has followed the same life as any other 19-year-old coed.

Curiosity seekers among the 4,000-odd university students have been few and as a whole the student body has allowed Miss Landon to enjoy college life as other girls and not as one whose father may enter the White House next January.

She dates several different boys in the university. Last week end she attended a fraternity masquerade ball attired as a Bohemian girl and her costume was mentioned in the society column of the university paper as one of the most attractive there.

Campus columnists are giving their share of attention to Miss Landon. One remarked that he was glad to see "Peggy Anne is still Peggy Anne of last year." A column has appeared in the last two issues of the school's humor magazine under the name of "My Night, as Written for Peggy Anne Landon." It contained material of a light vein on various subjects.

The St. Louis visit of Miss Landon will mark the first time she has appeared with her father in one of his campaign speeches since the notification ceremonies in Topeka.

FIGHT CALLED OFF

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The heavyweight battle between Jorge Brescia of Argentina and Frankie Connolly of Boston here next Wednesday night was called off today when Brescia was stricken with tonsilitis. Promoter Mike Jacobs said the bout probably would be staged late next month.

She'll Marry Ickes' Cousin In February

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Betty Campbell (above), 19-year-old daughter of Col. Bruce R. Campbell, of Washington, to Patrick Ickes, 21, cousin of the Secretary of the Interior came as a complete surprise to Washington society. They will marry in February. (Central Press)

Several Hundred Visitors Attend Convention Here

Nazarene Young People Of Pittsburgh District Having Annual Meeting

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED SATURDAY

Over 200 delegates and vistors are in attendance at the annual Pittsburgt District Young People's convention which opened at the local Church of tht Nazarene Thursday night.

Thursday night's initial session was featured by an address by Rev. Glenn Gould, of Baltimore, Md., conference speaker, who had for his subject, "A Religion More Than Human." This morning, after reports were heard from the various young people's societies, Rev. Gould spoke on "The Glory of the Commonplace."

A special treat of the morning was the presentation of several selections by the Edwards ladies' quartet of Portland, Oregon. Rev. E. G. Marsh, of Akron, O., the district young people's president, was the presiding officer.

This afternoon a missionary address will be delivered by Miss Fairy Chism, a returned missionary from Africa, and this evening Rev. Gould will be heard, having for his topic, "The High Adventure of Cross Bearing."

Tomorrow's final convention program is to be featured by election of officers and by an oratorical contest.

Delegates are being entertained in the homes of the church members.

Donations Are Being Received

Good Results Are Reported At Jameson Hospital Ingathering

First day returns of the Jameson Memorial hospital food in-gathering shows an encouraging display of canned fruits and vegetables but the total is nothing yet near what it should be. Several hundred quarts of foodstuffs are already in the lobby of the hospital but it is hoped that today and tomorrow will see a substantial increase.

Members of the committee handling the ingathering are stationed in the lobby of the hospital and will receive all doanitons whenever they are brought in.

The need for foodstuffs for the hospital during the winter months is great. Every can of foodstuff that is brought in represents another cut at the deficiency which is always present in every hospital.

Persons who have donations but cannot take them to the Jameson Memorial hospital are asked to call the hospital, 6000, and arrangements will be made to collect them.

Leaders Rally To Hear Chest Plans

Hotel Luncheon Today Brings Together Larger Employed Group Unit

Speeding preparations for the city-wide Community Chest campaign to be held from November 17 to 24, close to 50 heads of New Castle's industrial plants, transportation organizations and the larger mercantile houses gathered in The Castleton today to form the Chest's Larger Employed Group division and to hear Chest leaders outline the proposed operations of the drive.

The noon luncheon rally was the first advance group meeting of the 1936 campaign.

General Chairman David S. Pyle, who only yesterday was announced as the leader of the coming campaign, made his initial appearance and told the plant, railroad and business leaders that "with vim and determination this campaign can be put over."

The presiding officer today was W. Keith McAfee, president of the chest board of directors. He spoke briefly of the newly organized chest board set-up and then, in laudatory words, presented Mr. Pyle.

Speaking also were A. L. Bintz, Jr., vice president of the chest; Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Harry Thayer, the campaign's director, and Walter W. Duff, the man who headed the successful library campaign of a few weeks ago and who was introduced for the first time at noon as the leader of the larger employed group division.

Today's rally was the first of several which will come before the general campaign opening on November 17.

Some Confusion About Marking Election Ballots

Every year at election time voters are somewhat confused over what constitutes a spoiled ballot, what it means to vote a straight ticket and what invalidates the ballot.

Likewise each year The News publishes a short explanation of the ballot and this is it. A mark in the party square on the left side of the ballot votes for every candidate on that ticket without any more marking. If a voter wants to vote for all the candidates on his particular ticket he merely marks an X in the party square.

If the voter wishes to vote for candidates on various tickets he can either mark an X in the square opposite the candidate's names; or he can mark an X in the party square and then vote for individual candidates for offices. The election board will then tally a vote for each of the candidates individually marked and a vote for all other candidates on the ticket marked in the party square.

Mine Workers Give Huge Sum To Democrats

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The United Mine Workers of America, headed by John L. Lewis, continued today to far overshadow other organizations and individuals in campaign expenditures. Reports filed with the clerk of the house showed that the mine workers have contributed $439,648 to the Democratic cause.

A supplemental report made by Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer, listed contributions of $97,500 on Oct. 26. The total of the organization's contribution to the Democratic national committee exceeds $200,000. A contribution of $40,000 was made to the Democratic committee in Pennsylvania.

The latest report also showed contributions of $75,000 to labor's non-Partisan League Branches in Luzerne County, Pa.

The report indicated that a total of $13,480 had been received from local unions as campaign contributions and that the remainder had been taken from the organization's treasury.

HER GUIDE

Mrs. Williams has just returned from abroad.

"Did you go to Rome?" asked a friend.

"I really don't know, my dear," replied the traveler. "You seen, my husband always bought the tickets."

"What reading matter would a girl like you take on an ocean voyage if she knew she was to be a castaway on a desert island?"

"Ten nice big tattooed men."

Predicts Landon Will Carry Ohio

Ohio Newspaper Publisher Predicts Landon Victory By Quarter Of Million

RECORD VOTE IS INDICATED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Louis Brush, Ohio newspaper publisher and treasurer of the Ohio Republican state committee, today predicted that Gov. Alfred M. Landon will carry Ohio in the Tuesday election.

Mr. Brush said:

"Ohio will cast 2,800,000 votes next Tuesday. Lemke will receive about 150,000 votes, two-thirds of these votes taken from former Roosevelt supporters.

"The eight cities over 100,000 population, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Dayton, Akron, Youngstown and Canton combined will not give Roosevelt over 100,000 plurality, but out of the two million eight hundred thousand votes cast, 55 per cent of this vote will come from the country districts and towns of less than ten thousand population.

"The Social Security Tax and the disclosure of the administration's plan to limit corn prices to $1.00 per bushel by Secretary Wallace in his Bloomington, Ill., address last Monday, is rapidly changing the opinion of the workmen in the industrial centers and the farming communities to Governor Landon.

"Hoover lost Ohio four years ago by only 67,000 votes and I would not be surprised to see a Republican majority of 200 to 250 thousand."

SHARED BABE RUTH BAT WITH HIS PALS

Francis was awarded an autographed Babe Ruth baseball bat for being the best baseball player in the C. M. T. C. camp here.

So he had the prize bat sawed up into 12 small pieces. Each team member will sign all pieces and keep one himself.

Francis will keep the piece with the Babe Ruth autograph.

Read Alleged Confession In Becker Case

STATE POLICE ON GUARD IN COURT

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Oct. 30.—Every gruesome detail of his purported confession on the record, the commonwealth moved swiftly today to conclude its case against John Becker, 37, burly night watchman, accused of the brutal slaying of Miss Katherine Bracken, 42, a railroad telegrapher.

"I think it took me about 20 minutes to do the job," the document read to the jury by Assistant Prosecutor Alex Scribner related.

The alleged confession was read last night to the jury of 12 men in a courtroom crowded to the doors in which women held the vantage points. State troopers were on the alert to guard against possible violence because of previous high feeling in the community.

Tells Of Crime

The document read to the jury by Scribner related how Becker slipped away from his work at a glass plant on the night of April 28, crept to the lonely Pittsburgh and Shawmut railroad tower where Miss Bracken was at work, armed himself with a heavy metal inkwell which he picked up in her office and made an unprintable proposal to the woman.

When she ordered him out, according to the alleged confession, Becker felled her with the inkstand, slashed her throat "about three times" with his pocket knife and then dragged her out of her office by the feet to the embankment near the railroad tower.

"Then, I rolled her down the embankment," the purported confession continued.

And there the body of Miss Bracken, a respected member of the community was found, in the ditch at the foot of the embankment.

Becker's attorneys have maintained the asserted confession was obtained under duress and as the result of 72 consecutive hours of questioning.

After rolling the body down the embankment, the alleged confession continued, Becker attempted an assault upon the woman and then sauntered down the railroad tracks and washed the blood from his knife and hands.

Because of the crowds in the courtroom, Becker was returned to his jail cell through the judges' chambers instead of through the court house corridors.

COUNTY PRINCIPALS WILL HAVE MEETING

Members of the Lawrence County Principals association will have their monthly meeting in the office of County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling on next Wednesday evening, November 4, at 7:30 o'clock.

Treasure Hunt To Begin At Public Library Monday

Book Treasure Hunt Begins Monday, Will Last Until Book Week

A number of novel ideas will be used at the Free Public Library during Book Week, November 15 to 21, but perhaps the most unusual is a book treasure hunt, which was planned by Miss Alice Joyce and will begin on Monday, November 2, and will last for two weeks. At the close of the contest the person making the highest rating will be awarded a valuable prize by Miss Joyce.

Those enrolling in this contest Monday will receive a pamphlet containing over 100 questions pertaining to books, book characters, scenes, places and events and it will be the task of the contestant to find, by using the books at the library, what book the question pertains too and all details in regard to it.

Such questions as "Who Slept for Twenty Years?", "Who Cut Off Her Hair to Save the Family Fortune?", "Who Was Long John Silver?" will be used, and if conducted properly should be very interesting and educational.

Full details in regard to the event may be secured from Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian for the Free Public Library.

NEWPORT

Mr. and Mrs. George Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Don Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brommer and family, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Levingston and family, Ancel Leonard, and Eleanor Guy were New Castle shoppers Saturday.

Harold Guy and children of near Mt. Jackson spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Guy.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Brophy have returned to their home in East Palestine, O., after spending last week with the latter's mother, Mrs. J. Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Dal Hazen and daughter Nola spent Saturday in Beaver Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boots and children spent Saturday in New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stevenson, Miss Lois Cragle and Dickie Allen were in Ellwood City Tuesday.

PAROLE SYSTEM SAYS OFFICIAL

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The parole system is a "good financial investment" according to David Bush, a member of the California state board of prison terms and paroles.

Bush figures it out this way:

Number of crimes committed by prisoners on parole, three out of every thousand.

Number of crimes committed during past year by paroled criminals in California, 74.

If no prisoners were paroled, the state would have to have kept 2,500 more men in prison; annual cost of keeping that number, $500,000.

Net profit, in excess of $480,000.

Warren Hearing Draws To Close

Two Doomed Slayers Ask For New Trial, Were Promised Leniency, They Claim

(International News Service)

WARREN, Pa., Oct. 30.—Hearing of the appeals of Joe Senauskas and John Polens for permission to withdraw guilty pleas and stand trial for the slaying of Metro Seminuk in an attempt to escape the electric chair to which they were sentenced by Judge Delford U. Arird was expected to be concluded today.

The two doomed men seek new trials on the plea that they were promised leniency by the jurist if they pleaded guilty but instead were given the supreme penalty. The 85-year-old jurist has denied the charges. Judge Howard I. Brownson of Washington county was appointed by the state supreme court to hear the pleas and make a recommendation.

Three witnesses supported the judge in his assertion that on June 3, the day the "understanding" was alleged to have been made, he had not conferred wtih either Attorney Abraham Lincoln Cohen of Pittsburgh, counsel for Polens, or the late Earl MacDonald, counsel for Senauskas.

A critic is a person who is unable to do a thing in the way he knows it ought to be done.

Credit Exchange Plans Election

Annual Meeting For Election Of Officers Will Take Place Next Month

Directors of the New Castle Credit exchange will select a nominating committee at the meeting of the board of directors this afternoon, in preparation for the election of five new directors at the annual meeting of the membership on November 22.

The Credit Exchange has shown one of the most phenomenal growths in its history during the past few months, as a result of which it has been necessary to add two new girls to the clerical staff, Misses Jean George and Emma Sewall.

Many Young Folks Attend Story-Hour

"The Wizard's Pupil" and "Twelve Silly Sisters" were related in a most interesting manner yesterday afternoon by Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian of the free public library, before an audience of 154 persons who had gathered for the first story hour session this year.

The program commenced immediately following the close of school, and pupils from all of the downtown schools were in attendance. The poem "Silver Pennies" was also read and was not only amusing but carried a thought worth learning.

Plans for book week, November 15 to 21, were discussed and Miss Joyce told of the different projects which would be used for entertainment during this week. She also stated that several dozen new books would be featured at this time.

In addition to the regular story hour, the first grade pupils from North street school, under the leadership of Miss Ethel Huber, visited the library at 1:15 Thursday and were taken on a tour of the building. Two stories were related to them by Miss Joyce. About 55 persons were in attendance from North street.

Ask Reduction Of Real Estate Taxes In State

Pennsylvania Real Estate Association Is In Annual Session At Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Demands for the reduction of real estate taxes were voiced at the 16th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Real Estate Association here.

The present tax system was denounced as "inequitable and overburdening" for the owners of real estate by Oscar G. Bender, counsel for the association. "This convention," Bender said, "must arouse the real estate taxpayer to the truth of the situation, so that the people will grant relief to the only group that has not received any when most needed."

A. J. Barber, former head of the Wilkes-Barre Real Estate Board, said he is opposed to the over-all limitation tax legislation sought by the association. "It will still leave the evils, faults, inaccuracies, inequalities, lack of uniformity and absurdities of the present tax system," he said.

READ SPEAKS TO COUNTY BANKERS

Shenango Pottery Executive Talks On Industry At Dinner Meeting

The pottery industry formed the subject of the interesting address Charles W. Read, merchandising manager of the Shenango Pottery Company, delivered last night before 50 members of the Lawrence County Bankers' Association at The Castleton. The talk followed dinner.

The bankers also heard Mr. Read describe the different pottery-making processes.

Business matters were taken up by the membership preceding Mr. Read's message. President John J. Maher presided and introduced the speaker.

Slippery Rock Soccer Team Is Meeting Grovers

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Oct. 30.—Slippery Rock State Teachers' College soccer team, fresh from a decisive victory over Carnegie Tech, make ready for their tilt with Grove City at Grove City, this afternoon.

The Rocket Booters, undefeated since the institution of soccer as a varsity sport in 1934, will attempt to repeat last year's victories over Grove City. They downed the Grovers last season by the scores of 4-0 and 2-0.

Today's game will be the third of the season for the Green and White. After a scoreless tie with Allegheny in which two extra periods were played, Slippery Rock journeyed to Carnegie Tech, where they downed the Tartans, 5-1.

FREE METHODIST DISTRICT ELDER IS CONDUCTING SERVICES

Rev. A. J. Hill of Sharon, who has been serving as district elder on the Oil City division of the annual conference for the past four years, and who was recently elected district elder to the New Castle and Erie districts, will come to New Castle this evening to conduct quarterly meeting over the week-end.

Rev. Hill, accompanied by Rev. J. R. Bartlebaugh, local pastor, will preach tonight at Keely; on Saturday night and over Sunday he will conduct services in the local church on Dewey avenue.

In the Brig

Justin Francis O'Leary, 16, of South Boston, Mass., got a middy's outfit and joined the Annapolis lads as they returned from the annual Navy-Princeton football game. All went well until rollcall. He was put in the brig of the Reine Mercedes, training ship at Annapolis, and his people were notified.

TO RAISE STANDARD OF HOSPITAL WORK

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30—Dr. John Gorrell, administrator of the University of Pittsburgh's Falk Clinic, has been elected to the American College to Hospital Administrators, the credential committee announced.

Purpose of the organization is to raise the standards of hospital administration, J. Dewey Lukes, secretary, said.

There's nothing new. When Jefferson offended the "economic royalists," they publicly offered the toast: "May he receive from his fellow citizens the reward of his merit—a halter."

Bessemer High School Notes

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Because of the game at 3:30 today, there will be two 45-minute periods in the afternoon, and assembly under the supervision of Miss Landman, will be at 2:30. The program will be as follows:

Flag salute.

Devotionals.

One-act play, "Strollin' Along," by J. P. Heald. Characters: Two tramps, Archie, almost as funny as he thinks he is—Eddie Kursel; Elmer, a whole lot funnier than he suspects—Tom Grist. And a sheriff, Cy Citron, smart, by heck—Nick Mittica.

Essay, "Hallowe'en"—Gertrude Swogger.

Clarinet solo, "Flower Song"—Loyal Weitz.

Pep meeting.

GAME TODAY

Friday, October 30, at 3:30, Bessemer meets Shenango in their second and last county league battle. Bessemer has already defeated Union to the tune of 12-0, and a win over Shenango will make the Bessemerites county champions once more.

Last week Bessemer suffered their first defeat, the Scienceville lads topping them, 6-0, in a hard fought battle. Next Friday the Red and Black warriors will journey to Mercer.

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Sullivan's "Taste and Baste" club had a meeting and social time Tuesday evening in the auditorium and home economic rooms from 6:30 to 9 o'clock.

Donald McGarey, of Teaneck, N. Y., former high school principal at Bessemer, will visit here this weekend and expects to attend the Bessemer-Shenango game.

The WPA orchestra of New Castle, under Ben Shulansky, presented a concert in the high school auditorium Wednesday evening, October 28. An enthusiastic audience was present. This was the orchestra's third concert in Bessemer.

Twenty-three B. H. S. seniors and two or three faculty members will be guests of Slippery Rock State Teachers' College Saturday afternoon, October 31. They will see the football game between Slippery Rock State Teachers' College and Grove City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick were called to Carlisle, Pa., because of the death of the latter's grandfather. Assistant Coach Cappezzuti has taken over the football practices, and Coach Frederick hopes to return in time for the game today. Because of his absence, the Union-Bessemer Reserves game, scheduled for Thursday, was postponed to a later date.

Knox Speaks In Indiana

Colonel Frank Knox Swings Through Indiana As Campaign Draws To Close

(International News Service)

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Oct. 30—Col. Frank Knox was enroute to Indiana today for a swift swing through the Hoosier state before winding up his campaign with a final address in Chicago Saturday night.

The Republical vice presidential nominee climaxed a tour of Illinois with an address in the heart of the state's soft coal mining district here last night.

Speaking to the thousands of miners, Col. Knox declared that neither the NRA or the Guffey coal act was in the interest of the laborer, and charged that the Tennessee valley authority is developing power in states where thousands of coal miners are already on relief.

Assails Waste

He assailed the "sheer waste" of the Roosevelt administration, declaring:

"Everybody is getting soaked:

"To waste government money, and to tax the people for it, is immoral and cruel."

New Deal claims that the Roosevelt administration has brought recovery and prosperity to the nation are, Col. Knox said, "as false as a China egg."

He predicted a "grander prosperity than any nation has ever known" with the election of Governor Alfred M. Landon next Tuesday.

Two Injured In Explosion Of Gas

Fear Expressed For Recovery Of One, Injured When Compression Station Blows Up

(International News Service)

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Oct. 30—Two men critically injured in an explosion of a gas compression station of the Equitable Gas Co., near Finleyville today were brought to a hospital here. Fears were expressed for the life of one of them, Albert Towell, 39, of Finleyville, father of five children. David Stokes, also of Finleyville, was less seriously burned.

The explosion occurred as Stokes arrived at the station to relieve Towell, who had been on duty on the night shift. The station, when built, cost $16,000, officials of the firm said. It was totally destroyed along with a small house nearby used by employes of the firm.

Gas service was not interrupted.

Local People Are Home From Funeral

The New Castle people who attended the funeral of Mrs. Rees T. Williams, of Albert street, wife of the First Congregational church pastor, last Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, in Bangor, in the eastern end of the state, have all returned home.

Included in the party were Mrs. Carl Turner, Mrs. Charles Henry, Mrs. Ernest Treharne, Mrs. Clifford James, Miss Margaret Davies, Miss Florrie Davies, D. O. Davies, Edward Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Jones, Mrs. D. W. Thomas, Jos. B. Leyde, Isaac Isaacs, Mrs. David Daniels, Mrs. Mifflin Miller, Mrs. William Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Brinley Hughes, Mrs. Albert Jones, Mrs. Stewart Cope, Thomas Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Davies, Miss Louise Davies, Ronald Thomas, Leyshon Coughlin, Harold Miller, David Price, Miss Melvina Davies, Mrs. Lewis J. Davies, Mrs. Annie Williams, Mrs. Isaac Llewellyn and Mrs. Samuel Matthews.

One of the new nightgowns being displayed this season is sheer in black or bright color, but with deep dolman sleeves attached to a bias cut body.

News Briefs From City Hall

Despite warnings that punishment would be meted out to persons accused of Hallowe'en pranks considerable activity by youths was reported to police last night from Sheridan avenue, Pearson and East Washington street, Fairmont avenue, Bell avenue, Rose and Stanton avenues, Norwood avenue, Sampson and Grant streets, Scott street and at the Senior high school.

Burglar alarm at all banks were tested by police today and found to be in good working order.

Report was sent to police by a Sixth ward citizen he had found two torches at Smithfield and West Washington street. They belong to the New Castle Water Company, employes having placed them on a ditch in Smithfield street. They were apparently removed, thus increasing the likelihood of injury to someone. Officials of the company conferred with police today over the occurrence.

Stop sign and cement post was reported down at Croton avenue and East North street last night. School zone signs also were knocked over and damaged at Junior High and East Washington street and in front of Lincoln Garfield school.

Parking of automobiles on both sides of North street between Neshannock and North Mill street was reported by a citizen today.

Complaint was registered that loiterers have been gathering in the doorway of a Long avenue business house. Some nights ago police received instructions to prevent ganging of loiters in doorways along East Washington street. Years ago loafers were ordered to the curb or else.

Officer D. J. Thomas' was off duty last night on account of illness.

Five persons accused of drunkenness were arrested last night. A man from Ohio giving the name of W. J. Cummins was arrested on a warrant in which drunkenness and disorderly conduct was charged and placed in custody of Alderman O. H. P. Green. Two autoists who violated parking rules also received tags.

GUARANTEED RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Common constipation is usually due to meals low in "bulk." Pills and drugs give only temporary relief. The sensible thing to do is to put "bulk" back into your meals.

Millions of people get this needed "bulk" in a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Its "bulk" is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Some years ago, an investigation was made among thousands of ALL-BRAN users. 98 per cent found it satisfactory. Only 2 per cent had the type of constipation that would not respond to ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Illness Will Not Handicap Voter

New York State Man Plans To Cast Ballot For Landon Despite Affliction

(International News Service)

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 30—Determination of Seymour Morris to vote for Gov. Alfred M. Landon, despite Morris' incapacitation by illness, received its reward today in the form of an appreciative letter from Mrs. Theo Cobb Landon, wife of the Republican nominee.

Recently, Morris was brought by ambulance from Broad Acres sanitorium to this city so that he could register in anticipation of casting his battot next Tuesday for Governor Landon. Newspaper clippings of the incident were brought to the attention of Mrs. Landon and today Morris received from her the following letter:

"It is an inspiration to us to know of one who can go on in such a courageous manner and be so interested and alert to the everyday happenings in life when those of us who are in the best of health sometimes feel it is a big effort.

"I know Governor Landon will join in sincere appreciation of your friendly interest."

Injured In Auto Accident

Sam Wilson, of Scioto street, was taken to the New Castle hospital, about noon today, when he was injured during a truck and automobile accident at Moravia and Division streets. He suffered injury to his legs.

According to reports provided police a truck driven by Sam Gilman, of Phillips street and an auto operated by John Vincey, of Chartes St. collided. Wilson was standing on the running board of the truck.

Shenango Works Girls League Masque Party

Assorting Department Girls' Bowling League, Carnegie-Illinois Corp., Have Party

The Girls' Bowling League of the assorting department of the Shenango Works, Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, assembled in masquerade Thursday evening at their auditorium for a Hallowe'en party.

Ghosts, clowns, bums and all descriptions of mummers invaded the auditorium at an early hour and entered into the program of entertainment with a true Hallowe'en spirit. After unmasking Mrs. Dorothy Madden, as master-of-ceremonies, took charge and kept the party rolling along smoothly.

Much merriment and funmaking resulted in the original acts put on by the various members, with prizes going to Ernestine Fair, Helen Duncho, Anna Billyek and Mrs. Ora Moore for their special contributions in this featured contest. A door prize was won by Mrs. Bessie Sontagg, and those receiving awards for their costumes included Frances DeCarbo, Mary Haromyak and Anna Billyek.

Acting judges for the entire evening were Mrs. Margaret Fleeger and Clare "Kelly" Montgomery, department supervisor.

The evening was topped off with the serving of refreshments, in charge of Garnet Hoover, chairman, and her committee of aides.

This marks the first masquerade Hallowe'en celebration undertaken by the assorting department girls, and it is anticipated to make it an annual occasion.

More Parking Rules Given

NO PARKING TO NORTH STREET

City council met at city hall Thursday and adopted two suggestions presented by Mayor Charles E. McGrath for what he believes will result in swifter traffic expedition here.

Parking was banned in Neshannock avenue between East street and North street.

Parking was also banned on the north side of Neshannock avenue between North street and Rural avenue.

Mayor McGrath said that Rural avenue was improved for the purpose of making it a main artery to the North Hill and also for the purpose of relieving Highland avenue traffic.

He said that with two lines of traffic moving through Neshannock avenue between North street and Rural avenue there scarcely was enough room for the cars to pass. A no parking rule was adopted.

It was also pointed out that business house proprietors have complained about parking in that avenue between North and East streets and council suited action to his suggestion by banning parking.

The parking situation here has become a big problem—far bigger than some imagine, it was pointed out. There is a city plot, free to auto parkers, in South Jefferson street, but it is not used extensively, it was said.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath said in reply to Councilman James L. Fink that the Rosena site would be a good parking place, that he understood private interests hoped to take over this section for parking of cars.

Some months ago advocates of the Park-o-meter visited city officials and advocated the placing of machines along important streets. The 'meters' were demonstrated but no action one way or the other, has been taken.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Rabble on a Rock. Scene 1: A little French restaurant, with 75-cent table d'hote, in a quiet midtown street on Sunday night. The proprietress is a trim, rather pretty woman with graying hair. There are four or five couples scattered about at wall tables.

The proprietress stands behind the bar, looking unhappy. At a table opposite, in the exact center of the long room, sits an oldish, muscular man in wrinkled clothes. He has a long, sheeplike face very much in need of shaving and little slits for eyes. He is very drunk.

"Are you my frien'?" he booms. "Your frien's my frien's. You know what I mean to say?"

"Yes, m'sieu."

"I am a gentleman, you unnerstan'? A gentleman. I have traveled all over world and nobody thrown me out yet."

"Indeed m'sieu?"

"You Frenchies, now you got the right kind of government these days, ain't you? One for all and all for one. That's what I say. Burn the rich, cut their throats. I'm not rich, so why not? Listen here, miss. You can't throw me out, now can you?"

"No, M'sieu."

There is anguish in the eyes of the proprietress. At last, however, her unwelcome patron departs unsteadily.

She hastens about breezily from table to table, apologizing. Almost immediately a new atmosphere pervades the place. The hush that had attended the drunk's monologue gives way to a pleasant hum of chatter. The party of four near the right wall begins to converse in French again, after speaking for twenty minutes in perfect English.

Scene 2: A florist shop on Madison Avenue in the most fashionable stretch. It is one of those movie florist shops, with great banks of blooms that seem to have come to life out of a seed catalogue. The girl clerks wear green smocks and all of them are pretty as flowers.

The handsome man with the cane, the little dog, and the iron-gray hair is buying four dozen roses. He watches the brunette lovely who is waiting on him, reflectively, for she keeps mopping at her eyes.

"I know how you must feel," says the man. "I had the same trouble once myself."

"Did you?" asks the girl, mechanically. She begins to roll the bunch of roses in green tissue paper.

"I'm a doctor," he goes on. "I saw that you had hay fever immediately. Don't you know you shouldn't work in a florist shop with hay fever?"

The girl stares at him a moment, but says nothing. Her eyes are very red. She finishes his package and takes a twenty-dollar bill, going up behind the counter for change.

The handsome man stares after her and shakes his head. He turns to another girl clerk who is standing nearby.

"She ought to get away from all this pollen with hay fever," he says, kindly.

Endanger Lives To Hitch-Hike Riders

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Student "hitch-hiking" is the newest problem to irritate traffic authorities.

The Keystone Automobile Club here reported the authorities are disturbed over the tendency of students, usually of high school age, to discard the safety lessons of the class room and risk their lives begging rides on the highway.

"It is disheartening to note that boys of high school age forget their training and endanger life and limb by standing in traffic lanes wiggling their thumbs in appeal for a "hop", said Edward P. Curran, safety director of the club. "There is no dignity in begging."

Community Service At Mahoning Church Next Sunday Evening

Rev. Orville Lawrence Kuhn has planned a community service at the Mahoning U. P. church for this coming Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The sermon theme will be "Making Jesus and His Life Popular". Special music will be furnished by members of the congregation.

The morning sermon is at 10:30 and the theme "The Dignity and Grandeur of Man." Sabbath school is at 11:30 with Harry Thompson as superintendent. Miss Marian Carlisle will sing a solo at the morning service.

GARDNER

Mrs. Susan Shaffer, of Gardner, entered the Columbia hospital at Wilkinsburg for observation last Monday. Her son and wife, Rev. N. R. Shaffer, and Mrs. Shaffer, and daughter, Miss Esther, of Freedom, N. Y., visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shaffer, of Gardner, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Benson, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benson and children of Gardner, went to Ellwood City on Sunday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Anderson and son Richard Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dodge, of the Ellwood road entertained Mrs. M. B. Wells, of Erie over the week end.

Rev. Boston W. Turner, of New Castle, and Mrs. Turner, and their mother, Mrs. Dawson, of New Jersey, and Rev. J. D. Saunders, and Mrs. Saunders, and Miss Margaret Henderson of the Almira Home, were all the guests of Gardner friends on a recent evening. Last Sunday Rev. Elmer Bleachers, and Mrs. Bleachers of Reading, and Mrs. Bertha Wendt, of New Castle, were dinner guests at the same home. This young minister and his bride of a few weeks are under appointment to go as missionaries to the Mountains of Kentucky. They spent nearly a week in New Castle at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barth of Garfield avenue, and left on Monday morning for the scene of their labors.

Miss Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, of Gardner, invited twelve of her friends to a real Hallowe'en party, the house was decorated with a great profusion of all the paraphernalia of witchcraft and presented a colorful scene of weird beauty that was enchanting. There were some pleasing games which made the hours pass swiftly until a late hour when doughnuts, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, delicious candies and various sweetmeats were served and greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moore, of Gardner, had a visit the first of the week from their friends, Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, of Youngstown.

Mr. and Mrs. William Donley, and brother, Edward Donley, of Gardner, and their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Steinbrink, and daughter, Miss Hazel, of New Castle, all went to Cleveland on Sunday to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Byers, of the Butler road had a pleasant visit on Sunday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Byers, of Carnegie, Pa.

Device To Increase Safety Of Trains

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—The Pennsylvania Railroad will put into use soon a newly-invented device which further increases the safety of travel by rail and provides additional assurance and guidance to locomotive enginemen in the operation of their trains.

Purpose of the apparatus is to give warning of the presence of any danger or loosened part of the locomotive or cars which may have gotten below the level of the tops of rails, and which at large interlocking signal plants might cause difficulty when running through the complicated switches. The detector devices are installed in the track and operate in connection with track signal circuits. To provide ample time for stopping, they are located about 8,000 in advance of the signals at the interlocking plant.

The word "Seminole" means separatist, or runaway.

French Church Has Graveyard In Roof

(International News Service)

ST. EMILION, Garonne — St. Emilion Bordeaux wine is the only place which can boast a church with the graveyard in the roof.

The monolith church here, which will soon be completing its 12th century of existence, is built entirely underground and is probably the largest so constructed.

It was hewn out of rock by the discipline of Saint Emilion the Hermit in the VIII century: the tower which rises out of the graveyard is in fact the steeple of the church below. This and the entrance portal are the only outward signs; all the rest is hollowed out of solid rock.

The interior is divided into three naves. The total length is 124 feet and the breadth is 65 feet. The roof, that is the ground level, where is the graveyard, is 52 feet high and the steeple rises a further 200 feet above that.

There are several bizarre carvings in the church, the meaning of which has long puzzled experts.

RECALLS HER SCHOOL ESSAY; SAVES HOUSE

(International News Service)

DENVER, Colo. — A letter recently received by Fire Chief John F. Healy revealed how well taught was a lesson given Denver high school seniors 11 years ago.

Students were called upon to write essays on fire prevention in a contest sponsored by the fire department.

Mrs. Cecil M. Weddle of Hot Springs, S. D., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tufford of Denver, was then a senior in Manual high school here. She won the contest.

In her essay, Mrs. Weddle said: "One of the best methods of putting out small fires is to smother them with wet rags."

A few days ago, the letter said, the roof of Mrs. Weddle's house in Hot Springs caught fire. Remembering the advice she had given in the essay, she carried wet rags to the roof and smothered the blaze before the local fire department arrived.

The coral snake does not strike. If stepped on or touched, it will turn, deliberately bite, and retain its hold.

FORMER SIAM RULER 'VERY TIDY' AIRMAN

(International News Service)

LONDON—Ex-king Prajadhipok of Siam, living in quiet exile in England, is on the way to becoming an efficient air pilot despite the eye trouble which once took him to New York for an operation.

Several weeks of hard work at Heston Airport, on the outskirts of London have now resulted in the ex-King being able to take his first solo flight described by his instructor as "a very tidy" performance.

His tuition was longer than that of the average pupil because his eye trouble made it difficult for him to judge distances and made landing a particularly tricky business.

Delegates At State Meeting

Mabel Wilson Auxiliaries Have State Meeting In Pittsburgh, On Thursday

Journeying to Pittsburgh, Thursday, Mrs. Clair McConnel, Mrs. W. G. Campbell, Mrs. Ralph Metzlar, Mrs. Marquis Lichtenstine, Mrs. George Fisher, Mrs. William Sapper, Mrs. E. M. Johnston, Mrs. Sam Taylor and Mrs. Alice Taylor, delegates from this lodge, attended the state meeting of the Mabel Wilson auxiliaries, held at the William Penn Hotel.

The morning hours were spent welcoming the guests, who were present from Wyoming, Kansas, Ohio, Virginia and Missouri.

Lodge was held in the afternoon, during which many beautiful drills were presented. Four grand presidents were present, Mrs. Clara Bradley, Mrs. Anna Geddes, Mrs. Sadie McKee and Mrs. Edith Landis. A class of thirty-one new candidates was taken in at the meeting.

At 6:30 o'clock a banquet was served. Places were laid for four hundred guests. After dinner speeches were heard from several of the men present, which included one from George B. Rowland chairman of the State Legislative Representaives. Mrs. Edith Landis also gave a short address.

W. A. G. Club Meets At Local Residence

Mrs. Kenneth Walters was hostess to members of the W. A. G. club, Thursday evening, as they gathered at her home on West Clayton street, for their regular monthly meeting.

Card contests held sway during the evening. Later the small tables were re-arranged and a tempting lunch served by the hostess. Cut flowers were attractively arranged throughout the room.

For their next meeting on Thursday, November 19, they will meet at the home of Mrs. W. R. Bollinger, West Madison avenue.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. J. B. Kerr and Mrs. Lee Donaldson of Bessemer were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C Kerr, West Cherry street, Wednesday evening.

Frank Kerr of West Cherry street is recovering at his home from a recent illness.

Mrs. J. M. Yates of West Madison avenue is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnston in Canton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Johnston, of West Clayton street are visiting with relatives in Toledo, O.

Younk Folks Enjoy Hallowe'en Party

Pearl Kerr and Aurdey Calvert were hostesses to a group of friends, Wednesday evening as they gathered at the latters home on West Cherry street, for a Hallowe'en party.

Various Hallowe'en contests were played during the evening, in the spooky, dimly lit rooms, where the guests were entertained.

At a later hour, a tempting lunch was served by the hostesses. Hallowe'en suggestions were carried out in the lunch and decorations.

Seventh Warders To Make Merry Tonight

All In Readiness For Celebration As Citizens Anxiously Await This Evening

To be or what to be, is the predominant question before the minds of the Seventh warders, as costumes are planned and all make ready to make merry at the parade and celebration tonight.

If the weather man is kind and consents to add his bit to making the evening a success, the ward will be hosts to many hundred outsiders as well as the many who will join in the festivities from here.

The parade will form promptly at the corner of Madison avenue and Cedar street at 7:30 p. m., in the order planned and proceed up Madison avenue.

Returning to the judges' stand, the prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, oldest car, best decorated car, and so forth. After which the remaining hours will be given over to street dancing. North Cedar street between East Clayton and East Cherry streets will be roped off for the dancing.

The various committees from the Civic club report that all last minute details are completed and all is in readiness for the big time.

BID-A-BIT MEMBERS ARE ENTERTAINED

Members of the Bid-A-Bit club spent a delightful evening Thursday as they gathered at the home of Henrietta Emerick, Sixth street, for their regular bi-weekly meeting.

Two tables of bridge were in play throughout the evening with top score awards going to June Anderson and Betty Walters. Betty Sullivan and Betty Walters were special guests of the evening.

Later a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. G. G. Emerick. Hallowe'en suggestions were used in the decorations.

BEAVER Townships

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beatty, of Big Beaver township, bride and groom of recent date, were honor guests at a nicely arranged Hallowe'en party at the home of Gladys and Hollis Howell Friday evening. The young people of Big Beaver Grange were the guests present who enjoyed an evening of games and contests. Most of the group appeared at the Howell home costumed as ghosts. The home was attractive in Hallowe'en decorations and the delicious lunch was served in keeping with the Hallowe'en season color scheme of orange and black decorations. The young people of the grange presented the bride and groom with a shower of beautiful and useful gifts of a miscellaneous nature.

The exterior of the Big Beaver Grange hall is being painted.

The Beaver Valley Presbytery of the United Presbyterian church met at the Bethel U. P. church in North Beaver township on Tuesday, October 27. Paul Willis, son of Rev. W. W. Willis, of the Rocky Springs church, was introduced to Presbytery. He is a first year student at Pittsburgh Xenia Seminary, and was graduated from Muskingum College in June.

Mrs. C. A. Kerr, of Big Beaver the Big Beaver Grange Ladies' club, entertained the past presidents of the club at her home on Tuesday afternoon, October 27.

An interesting business session and a Hallowe'en program took place at the last regular meeting of Big Beaver Grange hall on Tuesday evening. At the next regular meeting, November 10, the annual election of officers will take place.

The Westfield Grange will present a program and altar cloth at Big Beaver Grange Tuesday evening, November 24.

STORKS DEFEAT EAGLES IN GRIM WAR IN TURKEY

(International News Service)

ISTANBUL—After a prolonged battle, storks have defeated eagles in the latest phase of the bitter war of the air in Turkey.

Hostilities took place over Afion Karahissar, in Anatolia and flocks of storks darkened the sky over Istanbul as they sped to help their companions in battle.

These reinforcements proved successful and helped by the local population the stork represents the symbol of maternal solicitude, the storks have now finally routed the eagles.

Both "armies" sustained heavy losses and the city's refuse carts were constantly employed in clearing the streets of eagles and stork corpses during the fighting.

The first outburst of enmity between the storks and eagles took place in the early summer of 1934, when six eagles attacked a stork's nest and ate the young in the village of Orkhangazi in Anatolia. A little later the eagles tried to raid a neighboring nest but the parents of the young storks that already had been eaten were joined by 200 other storks—all thirsting for revenge.

Swooping down on the guilty eagles and their supporters, they killed 20 and injured 50 others.

Yearly battles which have followed have not exhausted the "vendetta" and, thirsty for the eagles' blood the storks are expected again, next summer, to attack their foes which despite their losses, return each year eager to fight.

COUNCILMAN KLINE GETS A NEW IDEA

(International News Service)

BETHLEHEM, Pa.—Watch your steps, motorists when approaching Bethlehem and driving through the city so you will not get your two front wheels painted red and yellow by the Police Department!

This new form of traffic violation penalty was suggested by Councilman Fred C. Kline, Director of Public Safety, who wants the front wheels of automobile painted in lieu of accepting the usual fine and costs of $12.50 for a traffic violation. The idea has been put into effect.

Butter making was known for at least 2,000 years prior to the beginning of the Christian era. It was used as a medicine and as an ointment for bathing.

FRAU LENI KAELIN FOOLS THE GYPSIES

BUDAPEST—Frau Leni Kaelin, young wife of a Zuerich merchant, found she needed a slimming cure. She bought a bicycle to start the cure, and has arrived in Budapest, after a trip of nearly 3,000 miles.

She went to Italy over the Alps. Then to Yugoslavia, Greece and on a boat to Istanbul and Contanza; then again through Roumania to Hungary. She lost weight during the trip. Now she is enroute to Prague, Warsaw and Germany.

Her most thrilling adventure was in Roumania, in the Transylvanian mountains, where a troop of gypsies attacked her and wanted to take her ring and bracelet. She suddenly sprang on her bike hit one of the gypsies in the eye and dashed off at high speed.

Says Dubinsky Will Be Envoy To Soviet Russia

Rev. Charles E. Coughlin Asserts Arrangements Have Been Made

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—President Roosevelt plans to make David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers, the next ambassador to Soviet Russia, according to the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin.

Speaking at a rally of his National Union for Social Justice, Coughlin declared he had been informed "on good authority" that the president had come to such an arrangement with Dubinsky, who has been attacked by Republicans during the campaign on the ground that he has collected funds for Spanish Reds. Dubinsky is a presidential elector here on the Democratic ticket.

In addition to his charge against President Roosevelt in connection with David Dubinsky, he alleged that the president had instructed Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau not to try to collect war debts from European nations for fear that this would prevent these nations from paying debts to private bankers.

KING EDWARD SENDS HIS FIRST MESSAGE TO PARLIAMENT

the king said: "My government remains firmly attached to the principles of the covenant"—and he briefly touched on negotiations—so far unsuccessful—for a new Locarno treaty of security

He "rejoiced", he said, at the continued improvement in British trade and employment.

The ceremony of prorogation was a prelude to the state opening of the new parliament—with no change in membership—next Tuesday, then King Edward will make the first "speech from the throne" of his reign.

Woman To Reply.

Parliamentary history will also be made then, when Miss Florence Morsbrugh will be the first woman to reply to the king's "speech from the throne" in the formal discussion that follows the address. She is a conservative member of the house of commons from Dundee, Scotland, noted for her war-time service among the soldiers.

The old parliament ended with a strong defense by government leaders of British's Spanish non-intervention policy, and attacks by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin on both communism and fascism.

Free export of arms to Spain might "get the whole of western Europe on fire," said Baldwin.

Europe, he said, is verging on a new kind of war—between fascists and communists—akin to the old religious wars.

Communists "are as fanatical in fighting for creeds and dogmas as any man that ever fought in religious wars", the prime minister said. "Communism will kill rather than brook opposition.

"On either side large bodies of men and women are prepared to fight for an abstract creed. It is a new feature since the war and, to my mind, is far the most dangerous thing to this world today.

"I don't think there was any fascism in Italy before communism began. Force begot force, as it always does.

"In this country, thank God, these two forces are not worth that together"—and Baldwin snapped his fingers.

PRESIDENT WILL END CAMPAIGN IN METROPOLIS

best expressed what his administration was seeking. In part, Lincoln's words, culled from a speech in 1864, declared that:

"The shepherd drives the wolf from the sheep's throat, for which the sheep thanks the shepherd as his liberator, while the wolf denounces him for the same act, as a destroyer of liberty....Plainly, the sheep and the wolf are not agreed upon definition of the word liberty; and precisely the same difference prevails today among us human creatures....all professing to love liberty. Hence we behold the process by which thousands are daily passing from under the yoke of bondage hailed by some as the advance of liberty, and bewailed by others as the destruction of all liberty."

In Brooklyn Tonight

These words, the president said, apply to present-day conditions.

Mr. Roosevelt planned to leave Washington for New York City again at 4.30 p. m. He speaks tonight in the academy of music in Brooklyn at 10 o'clock.

Engagements were kept at a minimum today so he could devote the major portion of his time to preparing tonight's and tomorrow's speeches.

Most encouraging reports were given the president about his prospects in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware. Democratic leaders in each state assured him their state would be found in the new dea lcolumn Tuesday.

Monday night, from Hyde Park, Mr. Roosevelt will have the finnal word of the campaign over a nationwide radio hook-up.

Dr. E. B. Russell, head of the history department of Westminster college, addressed members of the Pro Indus club at their meeting in the Y. M. C. A. last night. A Hallowe'en party followed the meeting.

Scoutmen Told Of Cubbing Program

County Leaders, At Church, Hear W. C. Wessel, National Head

The growth of scouting's popular junior scout movement, Cubbing, in the United States was related to Lawrence county Boy Scout leaders by William C. Wessel, New York, national council director of Cubbing, in a rally at the First Christian church last night.

Mr. Wessel came here from Indiana, Pa., another of the Region Three cities he visited to promote the cause of Cubbing. Today he went to Pittsburgh to speak.

Greeted by scout leaders at the church last night, the New Yorker furnished in his evening's address the inspiration that will likely lead to a greater concentration on Cubbing locally in the future.

A regular council business meeting preceded Mr. Wessel's talk. Council President Louis B. Round, presided over it. Council matters were reviewed.

The Cubbing chief was introduced to the audience by Hans N. Drio, chairman of the Cubbing committee in Lawrence county.

Before the rally at the downtown church, Mr. Drio and other officers of the council met Mr. Wessel in a dinner conference at the Drio home, North Mercer street, to discuss the Cubbing program here.

The Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church and a council officer, gave the invocation preceding the meeting.

SPANISH REBELS MEET SURPRISE IN LOYALIST ATTACK

cording to the rebels, operated by Russian mechanics, rumbled through the rolling hills on the Torrejon and Sesana fronts, attacking the insurgent lines with indecisive results.

The assaults, the rebels claimed were beaten off, and several hundred government militiamen were killed, and 13 tanks captured.

Madrid, however, said the rebels were pushed back two and three miles, with Sesena, Torrejon De La Calzada, and Torrejon De Valasco, 12 miles south of Madrid, still in Loyalist hands after two days of fighting.

Rebels Are Surprised

The new mechanized Loyalist army appeared under orders of Francisco Largo Caballero, Madrid's premier, for a decisive offensive. The sight of modern tanks rumbling out of Madrid, and efficient bombing and fighting airplanes able to compete effectively with the craft of the rebels demoralized the latter for a time, serrating their lines and forcing a retreat.

So rapid had been the rebel push from Toledo along the roads leading north and eastward to Madrid that the rebels had few entrenchments. The Moors were encamped in the plains or billeted in farmhouses, their lines more reminiscent of American civil war fighting than the trench warfare of the world conflict.

Tanks Appear

When the Loyalists moved forward in rough, waving lines of blue overalls, the rebel battalions expected easily to hurl them back with machine gun, artillery, and aerial fire. But suddenly from the Azure ranks metal monsters spitting death leaped forward, driving their deadly fire straight into the ranks of the insurrectos.

Throughout today the fighting has been at close quarters, the rebels holding their own, still within a dozen miles of Madrid, with strategic emplacements of artillery on the heights of hilltops overlooking the former placid countryside. Columns move along the roads in tactical maneuvers, the troops rush over the fields in sallies only to be driven back with the dead and wounded left lying in the constantly-changing no-man's lands. And all the while there is the constant destructive din and roar of cannon fire and air bombs.

The Loyalists were fired with "new life," growing out of Premier Largo Caballero's stimulating proclamation calling for a "coup de grace," and the more concrete inspiration of foreign tanks and airplanes.

Battle Of The Marne

Rebel sources, charging that Soviets supplied the mechanical equipment for Madrid, pointed accusingly at the recent arrivals of Russian ships in Barcelona.

Two of these ships were bombed by rebel airplanes and, according to Seville radio, were set afire and sunk.

The rebels hoped in the Escorial offensive, northwest of Madrid, to force the Loyalists to deflect some of their militiamen from the southern front. Aircraft were brought heavily into play, and the rebels, their radios said, were "pursuing the Reds into Madrid."

Fighting broke out in a new sector today, the Corunna rebel radio reported. A Madridist attack on Teruel, northeast of the capital, was repulsed, the report said, and a large number of Loyalist troops killed.

High Antenna At Saxonburg Is Toppled Over

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 30.—A steel antenna, 644 feet high, erected at the transmitting station of Radio Station KDKA near Saxonburg, toppled to the ground today when a steel cable gave way in a windstorm.

All sections of the antenna, 22 feet in length each, held together in the collapse. Total weight of the tower was 60 tons. Little damage was done, according to engineers, and the sections will be dismantled and the antenna rebuilt. When completed, the tower will rise 704 feet into the air.

No one was nearby when the structure fell.

Pitt Squad Is In New York To Meet Fordham

Arrives In Gotham This Morning And Goes Into Seclusion Until Game

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The University of Pittsburgh football squad totalling 33 and headed by Coach Jock Sutherland arrived today for the clash with unbeaten Fordham tomorrow, and left immediately for the suburban Westchester country club for seclusion and a light workout.

Beaten only by an inspired Duquesne team and winners last week over Notre Dame in an utter rout, the Panthers were pronounced in top shape for the headline eastern attraction Saturday.

They will go into the game favored at about 9 to 5 in the betting, although Coach Sutherland was none too optimistic upon his arrival today. The far-famed Fordham line which has led the battering rams to a clean slate so far was the cause of his concern, he said.

The toast of eastern football by virtue of his dazzling play in every Pitt game this season, Goldberg was "protected" from reporters and photographers. Members of the team refused to identify him at Pennsylvania station.

"See the coach," they said.

When he was asked where his star could be located, he replied:

"Fordham is very tough; how many touchdowns will they score?" He denied that Goldberg was pulling a "Greta Garbo" for publicity.

Roosevelt Will Not Take Action In Coast Strike

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—His time completely occupied by official business and last-minute campaign pressure, President Roosevelt will not intervene for the present at least, in the west coast ship labor controversy.

The White House made this known today, as the executive prepared to leave Washington to make his last campaign appeals.

The ship labor situation, threatening hourly to develop into a strike of momentous proportion, will be left entirely in the hands of the newly-created maritime commission, the White House said.

Mahoning Grange Hallowe'en Party

Over 100 Attracted To Successful Affair In Grange Hall Thursday Evening

Mahoning Valley Grange was elaborately decorated in Hallowe'en fixin's Thursday evening, for a party which attracted around 100 people.

The social committee had planned an evening of merry making and after the masqueraders had arrived, there was not a dull moment for there were guessing contests in which Russell Canan won the prize, apple bobbing contests in which the apples were the prizes—if one were lucky to catch one—ring throwing and circle games.

At a later hour, Hallowe'en refreshments were served by the Home Economics committee.

WRESTLERS ORGANIZE

Wednesday morning all boys at Ne-Ca-Hi attended a meeting in the auditorium. F. L. Orth and P. H. Bridenbaugh told the boys that the Athletic Council had voted to enter a wrestlring team in the W. P. I. A. L.

Henry MacNicholas at the Y. M. C. A. will be the coach and any boy interested is invited to participate. About 165 boys have signed up so far.

WILLIAM BOWERS TO SING

November 5 and 6, William Bowers, famous Negro baritone, who starred in the comic opera "Porgy and Bess", is scheduled to appear in two assemblies. The music department, which is sponsoring this program, states that instead of selling tickets, collections will be taken in each room.

MAGIC SHOW PRESENTED

Thursday morning all pupils having tickets were excused from class to attend a magic show conducted by Johnston, the magician. The show was sponsored by the Senior A class under the supervision of Robert Mills.

LINCOLN HI-Y FORMS BALL TEAM

October 28, the Lincoln Hi-Y met at the Y. M. C. A. The president turned the meeting over to Vice-President Harold McNees, who had charge during the rest of the meeting.

Charles Burton gave a very interesting talk on dynamite and everyone enjoyed it.

Plans for a basketball team were disclosed and on next Wednesday a captain will be elected. The meeting was adjourned and the program committee had a short meeting with John Thompson, to make plans for future programs.

LIBRARY RECEIVES GIFT

This week Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger gave to our library a set of the National Geographic magazines, which included all the issues in the last ten years . This is a very valuable and greatly appreciated gift since it completes our files for this period of time.

CLASS GIVES PICTURE

On the south wall of the school library has been hung a beautiful new picture which portrays the start of the quest for the Holy Grail. It is a coyp of one of the Abbey murals, the originals of which are hung in the Boston public library. The picture was given to the school by the June class of 1936, which was sponsored by Miss Elizabeth Parker.

SCHOOL PLAY SOON

Friday evening, November 13, the school will present the play entitled "Seven Chances". The proceeds will be used for stage equipment and the school is urged to give its full support.

This play is being given by the members of the dramatics department of the school, under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff, and she announces that this play has just been chosen from a number which were being practiced by the members of the department.

TO SEE MOTION PICTURES

Friday, October 23, the Senatus Romanus met in the cafeteria with consul prima, Mary Ellen Henderson presiding. An amendment to the constitution was adopted providing for an assistant treasurer. Josephine Jenkins was elected to this office. The club planned to keep a scrap-book dealing with the Latin language.

The program chairman, Betty Wise introduced Leanna Morgan who read an interesting newspaper clipping and Fanny Baron who read a comic poem. It was then announced that motion pictures dealing with Roman life will be shown at the next meeting. A report on the wiener roast held at Gaston Park was given by Lorraine Hook and the meeting was adjourned.

QUALIFY IN WORD TEST

Names of students qualifying on the 80-word transcription test for October are announced by Miss Genevieve Riddle. They are as follows:

Virginia Doone, Charlotte McWilliams, Florence Nicholls, Sylvia Viggiano, Mont Sweesy, Geraldine Weisbaker, Eleanor Wester.

NE-CA-HI PERSONALS

Marjorie Vaughn has been absent from classes this week due to an injured knee received while horse back riding.

Jane Shilton who has been absent from school for several weeks is said to be improving.

Bill Minner who has been ill for some time has returned to school.

Ruth Chapman who has not been in school for several weeks is recovering from an appendix operation.

George Hawkey has been out of school several weeks due to a broken ankle.

MARY RIFFER LEADS DISCUSSION

Tuesday, the German club met in room 118. The program consisted of the regular order of business taken care of in German. The club sang German songs with Harry Schneitzinger accompanying at the piano. Miss Mary Riffer, the club supervisor, then led the club in the discussion of the school-system in Germany as it is today. The club will meet again in two weeks.

GIRL RESERVES AT "Y"

Monday evening, the Girl Reserves met in the Y. W. C. A. for a Hallowe'en meeting. The meeting was opened by President Miriam Clinefelter. Minutes were read by Assistant Secretary Marjory Blim and devotions were read by Gerry Flick, after which the meeting was turned over to Program Chairman June Travers.

Dorothy Fry led the group singing accompanied by Mary Louise Kirkpatrick. Dorothy Theis read, "Superstitions of Hallowe'en," after which a playlet entitled "Old World Superstitions" was given by Charlotte Whiteman, Fannie Barron, Gertrude Hitchcock, Wanda Wynder and Claire Schiffman. Jeanne Short prepared a book review of "The Witch" which was read by Dorothy Porte. Sara Nitsche sang accompanied by Mary Louise Kirkpatrick.

After the program the girls enjoyed refreshments. The girls in charge of this program were: Anita Hamilton, Hazel Burry, Jane Rhodes and Jane Haven.

How to Overcome Piles or Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from your druggist a little Ice-Mint and apply once or twice daily. This cooling and soothing preparation quickly relieves the itching and soreness, stops pain and heals the effected parts. Try it. Ice-Mint is highly recommended and is easy and pleasant to use. It seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy that is so easy to use may be had at such small cost.

LIBERAL SOW FEEDING MEANS LARGER LITTER

Feeding the brood sow heavily for about two weeks before breeding tends to increase the possible number of pigs in the litter 10 to 20 per cent. Since the cost of each pig is determined by the number raised in a litter, it is quite necessary to have a large number farrowed.

While the ration should be rather high in protein, it is essential that the sow continue to gain in flesh. A ration containing 4 parts of corn, 3 parts of oats, 2 parts of middlings, and 1 part of tankage, has proven very satisfactory. This same ration can be continued during the gestation period.

The sow should gain a half pound a day in weight, so that she will be in good condition at farrowing time. Thin sows, of course, should gain more, while sows in good condition need not gain so much.

In addition to the grain ration in winter, the sows need some good clover or alfalfa hays. The hay may be fed whole in a rack or ground and mixed with the grain ration.

GOOD MANAGEMENT IS NEEDED IN DAIRYING

Good management is essential to economy in milk production.

The present situation in milk marketing and feed prices emphasize a great need for econmy. Handicaps of inferior cows, improper feeding, and partial neglect exist on too many dairy farms in Lawrence county. To improve this condition and to put the dairy business on a better basis, it is important that the individual dairyman make a careful study of his herd to find where helpful changes can be made. Every animal of doubtful value should be quickly disposed of unless there is a very good reason why she should remain. Destructive diseases should be eliminated. Each cow should be carefully fed according to her individual needs. A bulletin giving directions for feeding dairy cows is available at the Agricultural Extension office, No. 206 Post Office building, New Castle.

Another imperative need on many of our farms is better bulls. A good purebred bull will breed milking ability into the future herd and aid in decreasing production costs in future years.

The two simple practices, weeding out low-producing cows and breeding to obtain better cows, if consistantly followed in the herd, will decrease production costs, increase profits, and lessen any danger of over-production.

Dairy farming is a business, and is subject to all the laws of business. Efficienty in cattle, economy in operation, and quality in products must be watchwards for dairymen if the greatest profits are to be realized.

DRY STORAGE NEEDED BY SOME VEGETABLES

When the frost is on the pumpkin, growers are faced with the task of storing the crop.

Both pumpkins and squashes require cool, dry storage conditions. They keep best in a temperature of 40 to 50 degrees fahrenheit and in a relatively dry atmosphere of 60 per cent humidity. Only mature fruits, free from injury, should be stored. They may be placed 1 to 4 deep on shelves.

Sweet potatoes require somewhat higher temperature, from 50 to 60 degrees, and a humidity of about 80 per cent. They should be dug before killing frost and cured at 80 to 90 degrees for 10 days. They may be left in crates or baskets until used.

Onions also require a dry storage of about 85 per cent humidity. They should be kept cooler than pumpkins and squashes, to prevent them from growing. All soft-necked, injured bulbs should be discarded. Slatted crates, baskets, or trays 4 to 6 inches deep are recommended as containers. Ventilation is essential in the storage.

FARM VALUE INFLUENCED BY CARE OF BUILDINGS

A study of the variation in the acre value of farm land in a portion of Pennsylvania gives buildings a 43 per cent influence. This is higher than any other item.

If the value of the farm is to be maintained, buildings should be kept in repair Under usual conditions, farm structures deteriorate most rapidly in the following places, given in the order of their relative importance: sills and connected framing, foundations, siding, and doors, roof covering, and roof framing.

The principal cause of the first three most important failures is roof drainage. It would seem, therefore, a wise precaution to see that roof guters, downspouts, and yard drains are put in good condition before winter comes.

Farmers' Bulletin 1751 published by the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., entitled "Roof Coverings for Farm Buildings and Their Repair" includes the important subject of drainage under the section on gutters and downspouts.

IF A COAT NEEDS RELINING NOW IS THE TIME TO DO IT.

Does your winter coat need relining? If so, get busy now before cold weather catches you unprepared. First rip out the old lining carefully and press it, so that you may use it as a pattern for the new one, after measuring the amount needed, suggests Miss Mary Vogle, home economics extension representative in Lawrence county.

Choose material of a dark color to match the coat fabric, if possible. Some suitable material may be found on hand at home which could be dyed to add to the appearance of the coat. Since linings get hard wear, the fabric needs to be durable, and of a close weave that will withstand rubbing. Avoid weighted silk. One can buy durable cotton and rayon lining material.

Lay the old lining on the new material for cutting, with the center back and sleeve pieces on straight threads of the material so that they will not twist and pull the coat out of shape when sewed in place. Allow for seams.

Baste the coat lining together, with the exception of the sleeves, and pin carefully into the coat for fitting. It is best to do this with the coat wrong side out on the person. A small tuck extending down the center back will give necessary stretching room for the shoulders. The tuck can be caught in place at the neckline with a few stitches. A small dart at each front shoulder allows for fullness over the bust line. Check the fitting by putting the coat on right sight out to be sure it hangs smoothly.

After stitching the lining press it carefuly, laying all seams open flat. Now lay the center back seam (or marking) of the lining on the center back line of the coat with the wrong sides together. Turn the raw edge of lining under, lay it on top of the collar seams and baste. Turn under raw edges of lining at armholes, lay on top of armseye seam, and baste. Tack the lining and coat together at side seams to within 15 inches of hem line. Turn under raw edges of lining at side fronts and baste them flat on the coat facings to cover all raw edges. Try the coat for a second fitting and if it hangs smoothly, slip-stitch the lining in place.

Turn the coat wrong side out, try on, and pin the sleeve lining in place while the elbow is bent. Pull the cap of the lining up to the armseye and turn under raw edges. Pin sleeve lining so that it just meets that of the body lining. Turn lining under at cuff (with elbow bent) allowing a ¼ inch turk to fall loose about 1 inch from edge of coat sleeve. Baste carefully and slip-stitch.

With the coat on wrong side out, hang the lining of the coat one inch shorter than coat. Hem the lining and coat separately, letting them hang loose at the bottom. This is one indication of a well-finished coat, says Miss Mary Vogle.

WHEAT ACREAGE

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30.—Another large wheat acreage is in prospect in this country, according to J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture. He points out that wheat prices are more attractive than at seeding time last year or last spring. Seeding for harvest in 1936 of both winter and spring wheat were approximately 74,500,000 acres, the largest on record except for 1919. Abandonment and crop loss due to unfavorable weather were exceptionally large and resulted in small production relative to acreage sown.

New Auto Plates To Bear Outline Of Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30.—Pennsylvania's new license plates—designed in the shape of the state's own outline—are on display in the Department of Revenue.

The new plates displayed a depressed blue enameled center 'field' in the shape of the map of Pennsylvania . . . . edged by a raised golden yellow enameled 'frame'."

The license numbers are embossed in golden yellow also.

The numbers, in accordance with a plan inaugurated last year, will consist of either four or five units.

New plates, it was announced, will be "necessary on all motor vehicles operated on the highways after December 31 and may be used on and after December 15th."

Says Campaign Has Been Clean

Writer Admits Campaign Has Been Hardfought One, But Denies Mud Slinging

RECALLS EVENTS OF FORMER YEARS

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—James A. Farley's prophesy that the 1936 presidential campaign would be "the bitterest and certainly the dirtiest political struggle that any of us can remember," has not, it seems to me, been fulfilled.

It has been hard-fought. There has been unprecedented interest in it, as witness the huge registration of voters.

But bitter? Certainly it has not been as bitter as the 1928 Hoover-Smith campaign, in which religion and prohibition were outstanding issues. The 1932 Hoover-Roosevelt campaign, a "hate Hoover" affair, was pretty bitter, too. There was an attempt to make this year's event a "hate Roosevelt" fight, but it didn't "take" nearly so well as the "hate Hoover" performance four years ago.

Nothing much could have been bitterer than the first McKinley-Bryan contest, in 1896.

And surely the Hayes-Tilden campaign, in 1876, winding up with the Democrats claiming that the Republicans stole the victory, was a record-breaker for bitterness.

"WHISPERS" OF THE PAST

However, Farley may say that 1876 is farther back than "any of us can remember."

We have heard of the '76 and '77 complication, nevertheless.

But, waiving bitterness, how about dirt?

Dirt, I take it, involves political or personal scandals—not necessarily established charges, but ugly stories; sometimes in print, sometimes merely whispered.

Blaine, opposing Cleveland in 1884, was similarly smeared—with the Mulligan letters. Cleveland's private life was attacked, in 1884 and 1888 and 1892. In his case it was done in print.

Taft had his Ballinger scandal.

NO SCANDALS

The 1936 campaign does not appear to me to have furnished much bitterness or many scandals, to compare with the past.

It is a campaign which has hinged on honest differences of opinion.

The rival major candidates met on friendly terms in Des Moines in the midst of the contest—a quite chivalric get-together.

The meanest things that were said against the Roosevelt administration were not said by the administration's out-and-out opponents, but by its seceding former friends.

EXCEPTIONALLY CLEAN?

It has been a bitter fight, maybe. But dirty?

It seems to me to have been exceptionally clean.

Being a common citizen has its points. One doesn't become famous but at least, after you've gone, no writer will busy himself debunking your life.

College Students Honor Hans Holm

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 30.—Hans Holm, Westminster College's champion hitch-hiker, has been named president on the non-fraternity organization.

Hans Holm

A senior, for four years, Holm has hitch-hiked back and forth to school from four miles north of New Wilmington. He is active in intramural sports, and won a varsity letter in cross-country. As a student assistant in biology for two years, he has become interested in collecting butterflies. He expects to enter graduate school in the field of biology after graduation.

To help pay for his college education, Holm shipped out of Boston last summer on an oil tanker which carried him to Chile, Peru, and back up north to Nova Scotia before returning to Boston.

Methodist Churches Of Grove City District To Meet Afternoon And Evening

LOCAL MINISTERS ARE ON PROGRAM

Methodist Episcopal ministers of the Grove City District, Erie Conference, with their wives and officials of their congregations, will meet for a conference in the Pulaski M. E. church next Friday afternoon and evening, November 6.

District Superintendent Thomas E. Colley, of Grove City, will preside over the two sessions. Rev. E. J. Jennings is the host pastor and has arranged to have the ladies of the church serve a chicken dinner to the delegates at 5:30 o'clock.

It is expected that the pastor and at least one layman from each church of the district will be in attendance. The "mistresses of the manse" have been urged to accompany their husbands and will be welcome to all the sessions. They will have a meeting of their own at 3 p. m. in the Pulaski parsonage to elect officers and consider a program for the coming year. There will be a brief meeting of the district stewards at 7 p. m.

This year's district committees are as follows: recommendations and license to preach, Revs. N. A. White, H. A. McCurdy, W. E. Davis, M. M. Mook; examination on courses of study, Revs. A. C. Locke, J. A. Cousins, Lee D. Smith and D. J. Blasdell; and resolutions, Revs. R. S. Naylor, H. H. Bish, C. W. Baldwin and F. H. Frampton.

The conference program follows:

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The international Sunday school lesson on above topic for Nov. 1 is Roman 13:1-14, the Golden Text being Rom. 14:21, "It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.")

IN HIS "Essay on Man" Pope says, "Order is Heaven's first law." On every hand we have evidence that we live in a universe of law and order. The God who has subjected the universe to the discipline of law, in no sense exempts man from this discipline of orderly government under law.

Submission to Government

The New Testament has much to say about a Christian's duties to his government: "Let every soul be in subjection to the higher powers: for there is no power but to God: and the powers that be are ordained of God: He that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgment." Government is God's method of securing social order and welfare. "It is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for it beareth not the sword in vain. . . . . Wherefore ye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but for conscience sake." This reference to conscience indicates both the spirit and the limit of submission to government. The limit is reached when government requires of its citizens that which transgresses Christian conscience. Here the Christian follows good precedent in saying, "We must obey God rather than men."

Support of Government

The government owes no man a living. It owes him only the opportunity of making a living. As citizens of the government we may not expect to enjoy the benefits of government without willingness to support that government in proportion to our ability. "For this cause ye pay tribute also; Render to all their dues; tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom." Honesty in payment of one's taxes justly due the government, honesty in accord with one's oaths and affidavits; fidelity to one's oath of office, all these are no less Christian duties than they are patriotic duties.

The Law of Love

Certainly a Christian will try to pay his debts: "Owe no man anything, save to love one another," which means that there are some debts we can pay off, and others which must always remain unpaid obligations. We must keep on loving, for debts of love are never discharged. We shall always owe love. Love must motivate us if we are ever to keep either the laws of God or of the state. Keeping the law of love, we can not break any law. True love is the effective preventive of adultery, murder, theft, covetousness and every other violation of the laws of God or of the state. "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; love therefore is the fulfillment of the law."

The Enabling Inspiration

The enabling inspiration for all this is a conviction of the coming Kingdom of Christ for which we are preparing. "The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light." Let us cast off "revelling and drunkenness, chambering and wantonness, strife and jealousy" and "put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MOTHER'S TEACHING WAYS BAD

YESTERAY we quoted from the letter of a distraught mother concerning her misunderstanding boy, who learned very slowly. Let us continue:

"How in the name of God can one help someone who doesn't want to be helped? It is like pounding sand into a rat hole. He does not try to grasp and remember—he does not WANT to. His face his blank, except for that still, sullen expression—his mouth compressed, his nostrils dilated—he looks like a firecracker; he scares me! He is so young. Why should he hate me so—or his work—or whatever it is he hates so much? I'm trying to help him. He wants to pass. But he won't work for it. He watches the clock constantly. His work is slipshod, careless, dirty. His papers are almost impossible to mark. He cannot progress because he cannot learn (or will not) the simple things he has to do. He repeats over and over the same mistakes. He knows better; they are careless mistakes mostly. He is so angry because he must do over his careless work. He is not interested in anything.

"I found that he did not know what a mosaic was, nor an urn, and there were several other words. I tried to teach their meaning to him by using pictures and using the words in various ways. A week, no two weeks, have passed. He says a mosaic is an urn and an urn is a stove or something. He doesn't listen. He doesn't remember. He doesn't try to.... He never joins the other boys. Just sits around.....

Terribly Discouraged

"I am so terribly discouraged. Every day begins with a battle—his will against mine, his resentment discoloring his work. My sense of defeat making me wonder why I go on trying."

Despite my sympathy for the mother, my heart aches for that boy. How must he feel? Perhaps his mother seems to him a bully kicking him in the face when he is down.

No doubt this mother's motives are the best; certainly her methods are about the worst possible. She's an active volcano herself, and she expects too much. I can remember when I did not know the word mosaic, and some of my readers do not now. What of it?

Perhaps the boy is by nature a slow learner. Yet he could be bright and do no better under his environment. No one can learn well when the teacher grows angry at his errors. It is psychologically impossible. I wish that boy and his mother might be separated for a year or so, and he were given to learn only what he can succeed at under teachers who can set a hopeful stage.

City Of "Brotherly Love" Draws Crowds

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—More than 133,0000 out-of-towners attended conventions held here during the first nine months of 1936, more than double the number attracted here during the entire year of 1935, the chamber of commerce reported.

Other conventions scheduled for the final quarter will run the 1936 attendance to 150,000. One hundred and ninety-two conventions are booked for the whole year. The municipal convention bureau has scheduled 104 conventions for next year and nine for 1938.

"Blow Out" Danger Advice Is Given

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Here are two important "blow-out don'ts" the Keystone Automobile Club of Pennsylvania proffers motorists:

Don't slam on the brakes and don't release the clutch.

Recent highway fatalities in which tire blow-outs were a factor raised the question as to the competency of the average driver to meet successfully this type of emergency, Herbert C. Silox, manager of the club's Trenton office, said.

"Quick application of the brakes may result in the car overturning," he pointed out. "Releasing the clutch may throw the car into a skid. The big job of the driver when a blow-out occurs is to steer. If he can keep the car on the road and prevent skidding he will avoid the horrors which often are the accompaniment to blow-out accidents.

Hanna Trial About Ended

Schoolboy May Know Fate By Saturday; Accused Of Killing His Mother

MOON IS FACTOR IN BOY'S DEFENSE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30—Fate of 16 year old John S. Hanna, on trial charged with the deliberate slaying of his mother, Mrs. Tressa Hanna, 46, may be placed in the hands of the jury of nine men and three women before nightfall, court attaches said today.

Waiting to testify were the defense's last few witnesses, including the high school boy's brother Henry, his uncle John Snook, and two or three friends.

Defense attorney William H. Coleman said they would trace the course of the moon several nights after the killing May 31 in an effort to defeat the testimony of prosecution witnesses who have previously said the moon was bright the night of the killing.

The light of the moon on the night in question has developed into a paramount issue in the case. Hanna's defense is that he shot his mother in the belief she was an intruder in the garage of the family home at North Fayette township. He asserts the night was dark and cloudy and that he could not identify his mother in the murk. The state, on the other hand, contends a bright moon shone that night and that the youth knew when he fired his revolver that the target was his mother. Hanna shot his mother, it is charged, because of an argument with her over his use of the family car.

Was Accident

Yesterday, Hanna tearfully told from the witness stand that the fatal shooting was an accident.

"I had no intention of killing anyone," he testified. "I shot at the ceiling."

The boy sobbed uncontrollably as he told of walking over to the fallen figure in the garage, and discovering it was his mother. Several women in court, and at least one of the women in the jury box, wept with him.

Twelve witnesses have testified to the youth's character. He has been described as "a model student and good citizen."

Extortionist Is Foiled By Agents

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today announced it had foiled a plot by an itinerant acrobat to extort large sums of money from a number of well-known individuals.

Following investigation, the bureau disclosed it had apprehended Dominick Frank Vitolo, at Yonkers, N. Y., who has admitted writing extortion notes to Harry Sinclair, oil magnate, Col. Douglas I. McKay, president of the New York title insurance company, Mrs. A. Hamilton Rice, of New Port, R. I., wife of Dr. A. Hamilton Rice, well known explorer, and Mrs. Bernard E. Smith of Nestledown Farm, Bedford Village, N. Y.

Wampum District Elects Officers At Annual Convention

Paul E. Coulter Named President; Convention Held At Chewton

The following officers were elected and installed at the annual convention of the Wampum District, Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, conducted Thursday afternoon and evening in the Chewton Christian church:

President, Paul E. Coulter; vice-president, Stanley Brest; secretary, Mrs. C. B. Morrow; treasurer, Mrs. Stella Hennon; children's division superintendent, Miss Nellie Grinnen; young people's superintendent, Mrs. George H. Herbert; adult superintendent, Aubrey Reno; home department, Emma Ford; missions, Mrs. P. J. Tillia; temperance, Earl Mills; parent training, Mrs. Florence Day; Christian Education, Rev. T. C. Henderson; and administrative, Rev. L. V. Mohnkern.

County officers who were present included Mrs. A. B. Street, children's division superintendent, Mrs. H. F. Magill, missions superintendent, Mrs. M. E. Vaughn, secretary, D. S. Williams, board, and Robert M. Strickler, Jr., president.

The convention speaker was Rev. T. B. Shearer, of New Castle, who spoke both afternoon and evening. Special music was furnished by Rev. and Mrs. Shearer, by Mrs. George H. Herbert, and by the Chewton and Wampum Presbyterian Sabbath schools.

It was decided to meet next year at Clinton M. E. church.

Episcopal Men Planning Canvass

Annual Every Member Canvass To Take Place On Sunday, November 8

An enthusiastic group of men met last night at Trinity church to discuss plans for the annual every member canvass which takes place on Sunday, November 8.

Representatives were present from St. Andrew's church, New Castle; St. Luke's church, Ellwood City, as well as Trinity.

Following the dinner, L. J. Lewis, parish chairman, outlined with several interesting charts the procedure to be followed together with details of the budget and the quota set for the work of the church during the coming year. Lloyd W. Strayer and Robert M. Garland, members of the finance committee of Trinity church also spoke very encouragingly of the activities for 1937 and the prospects of fulfilling the financial need of the local churches, in addition to the national church.

Howard P. Meehan gave an interesting talk on the two ways of conducting a canvass, one which leads to failure and the other which brings success.

The speaker of the evening, the Right Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., bishop of the diocese of Erie, delighted the gathering with an inspiring address of his experiences while on vacation in Alaska this summer, and the splendid work of Dr. Burke and other missionaries of the Episcopal church in that country.

The bishop has arranged for Dr. Burke to speak at Trinity church next Sunday evening at 7:30.

Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity church, reviewed the activities of the local church during the past 13 years and the splendid work accomplished by various church organizations during the year, and appealed for a renewal of efforts as afforded by the every member canvass.

Group leaders consisting of L. W. Strayer, R. M. Garland, T. W. Dickey, H. P. Meehan, William B. Howe, William T. Butz, G. Hietsch and P. N. Jones were present and will meet on Thursday, November 5, at 7:30 p. m. in Trinity church to complete arrangements in preparation for the annual every member canvass on Sunday, November 8.

Resignations Of Election Officers

Judge W. Walter Braham Makes Appointments To Fill Vacancies

Several more resignations of election officers were presented to Judge W. Walter Braham at court today.

In the third district of Big Beaver township, W. J. Freed presented his resignation as judge of election. There were two petitions presented, asking for the vacancy. Judge Braham appointed Katherine Tebay, whose name was suggested on one of the petitions.

In the first precinct of the Fourth ward, Ellwood City, Grace P. Weingartner resigned as majority inspector and O. W. Meisel was appointed.

Constable Charles A. Berg of Ellport, presented the name of Steve Simon for deputy on election day, and the appointment was approved.

Eugene Mullen, constable of the Sixth ward, named Samuel Smith as deputy constable for the third precinct and Phil Murray for the second. Both appointments were approved.

Coast Strike May Spread To East

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Virtual paralysis of Atlantic seaboard shipping appeared a possibility today when the seaman's defense committee, following declaration of the West Coast strike, announced a meeting would be held tonight to decide on whether a course of action sympathetic to the maritime walkout in the West should be taken here.

In shipping circles, apprehension loomed that a strike of eastern seamen may be called to "equalize the differentials in wages and working conditions" between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Deputy Constables Must Stay At Polls

Election Law Says They Are To Remain Until Boards Complete Count

Deputy constables who are appointed to look after election precincts on next Tuesday are expected to remain at the polling places from the time the polls open until the vote is counted, according to Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds.

Heretofore, many of the deputies have been in the habit of going home when the polls are closed. Mr. Edmunds points out that the election laws say that the deputies are to remain as long as the election boards. There is a fine of $50 for failure to obey this provision of the law.

The deputies are to remain inside the polling place, but outside the railing, while the count is being made. They are not supposed to talk with members of the election boards while the counts are being made.

The duties of deputies at polling places are to maintain order. In several instances in recent elections, there has been disorder around the polling places after the deputies had left, and it has been necessary to call the sheriff.

The deputy should stay at the polling place until the vote is counted and posted by the election boards, so that in even of any trouble, it will not be necessary to call the sheriff.

Train Is Derailed; Passengers Escape

Seventy-five Miraculously Escape As Pennsylvania Flyer Coaches Jump Track

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Ind., Oct. 30—Seventy-five passengers on a Chicago-to-Louisville Pennsylvania railroad flyer miraculously escaped injury today when five coaches were derailed.

The 14-car train was believed to have struck a broken rail north of here which derailed five of the cars, two of which hurtled over an embankment.

The locomotive and two other cars continued on after the wreck, clearing a trestle 40 feet from the derailment, before coming to a halt. A checkup showed that none of the passengers was hurt.

All traffic of the division was tied up, wrecking crews coming in from Indianapolis to remove the debris. About a mile of rails was torn up.

When a man declares that all virtuous and enlightened men hold a certain belief, he means that he does.

. . . everything will be so digestible, too

GET ready for compliments. Spry cooks always get them! Spry cakes and biscuits are so light and delicate, Spry pastry so tender and flaky. And foods fried in Spry are marvelous—crisp, light, tender and as easy to digest as if baked or boiled. Just try them and see.

Spry is ALL-vegetable, purer, whiter, smooth as satin. It's triple-creamed, blends twice as fast, cuts cake-mixing time in half. Fries without smoke or unpleasant odor. Stays fresh right on the pantry shelf. No need to keep in the ice-box.

Spry saves you money, too. Just compare its modest price with the high cost of other shortenings used for cakes. Get Spry today. And be sure to make these delicious new doughnuts (recipe at right). The pumpkin gives them a delightfully different flavor. You'll love it!

Dot's "surprise" recipe for FROSTY PUMPKIN DOUGHNUTS

3 cups sifted flour
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1¼ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
2 tablespoons Spry
¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
4 egg yolks, well beaten, or 2 eggs and 1 egg yolk
1 cup canned or cooked pumpkin (or squash, if desired)
¼ cup thick sour milk

Sift flour, spices, salt, soda and cream of tartar together 3 times. Cream Spry and brown sugar until well blended. Add egg yolks and mix well. Add pumpkin, then milk, and mix thoroughly. (Delicious made with squash, too.) Add sifted dry ingredients and mix until smooth.

With as little handling as possible, roll dough on floured board to ¼-inch thickness. Let dough stand 20 minutes. Cut with doughnut cutter.

Fry in deep Spry heated to 375°F. or until a doughnut center browns in one minute. Turn doughnuts when first crack appears. (Remember, no smoky, smelly kitchen when you fry with Spry.) Drain on absorbent paper. When doughnuts are cool, shake in a paper bag with granulated sugar. Makes 2 dozen 2½-inch doughnuts.

If sweet milk is used instead of sour milk, reduce milk to 3 tablespoons, omit soda and cream of tartar, and use 3½ teaspoons baking powder.

Accused Young Slayer Breaks Down On Stand

John S. Hanna, Jr., Weeps Openly As He Gives Version Of How Mother Met Death

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30.—For the first time dropping the mask of nonchalance he has worn for four days in criminal court here, John Hanna, Jr., 16-year-old high school boy, broke down and wept on the witness stand Thursday as he categorically denied the state's charge he deliberately killed his mother.

Several women in the courtroom wept with the handsome youth as he tearfully described finding his mother, 46-year-old Mrs. Tressa Hanna, who had been the target for a revolver bullet he testified he fired in the belief an "intruder" was prowling around the garage of the family's summer home in North Fayette township, the night of May 31, last.

Gives Version

Dressed in a dark grey double-breasted suit, Hanna pulled a handkerchief from his pocket to mop his forehead as he spoke. His sobs were audible several rows back from the witness chair. Recovering his composure, Hanna, whom the state charges slew his mother because she refused him the use of the family car for an outing, told of the killing:

"I walked outside the house. I was kinda scared when I saw someone in the garage. I thought it was a man. I couldn't see clearly. I don't believe there was any reflection of the moon inside the garage. (A weather expert and a detective testifying for the state previously said the night was "bright and clear" and that the moon clearly reflected objects inside the garage.)

"I fired to scare them. I aimed at the ceiling. I had no intention of hitting anyone. I am left-handed. I pulled the gun out of my pocket and pulled the trigger with my left hand.

"I walked over to see what had happened.

"I saw it was a woman. I looked again and it was my mother."

Breaks Down

Here the youth broke down and cried.

Softly, Defense Attorney William H. Coleman asked:

"Yes," Hanna replied.

Hanna then told that the flashlight made a "very dim light," and that his mother, from inside the garage, had the beam pointed to the left of him. Prosecution witnesses made much of the fact Mrs. Hanna had carried the light, pointing out that even if the moonlight had not outlined her figure, the light from the flash should have made it easy for her son to recognize her.

Firm Is Prepared For Another Flood

Pittsburgh Building Can Be Sealed Up For Height Of Forty-eight Feet

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30.—In the event of another destructive flood similar to the one of early spring, the Joseph Horne Company can seal its building water-tight to resist waters to a height of 48 feet with a new "flood control" system recently placed in the building.

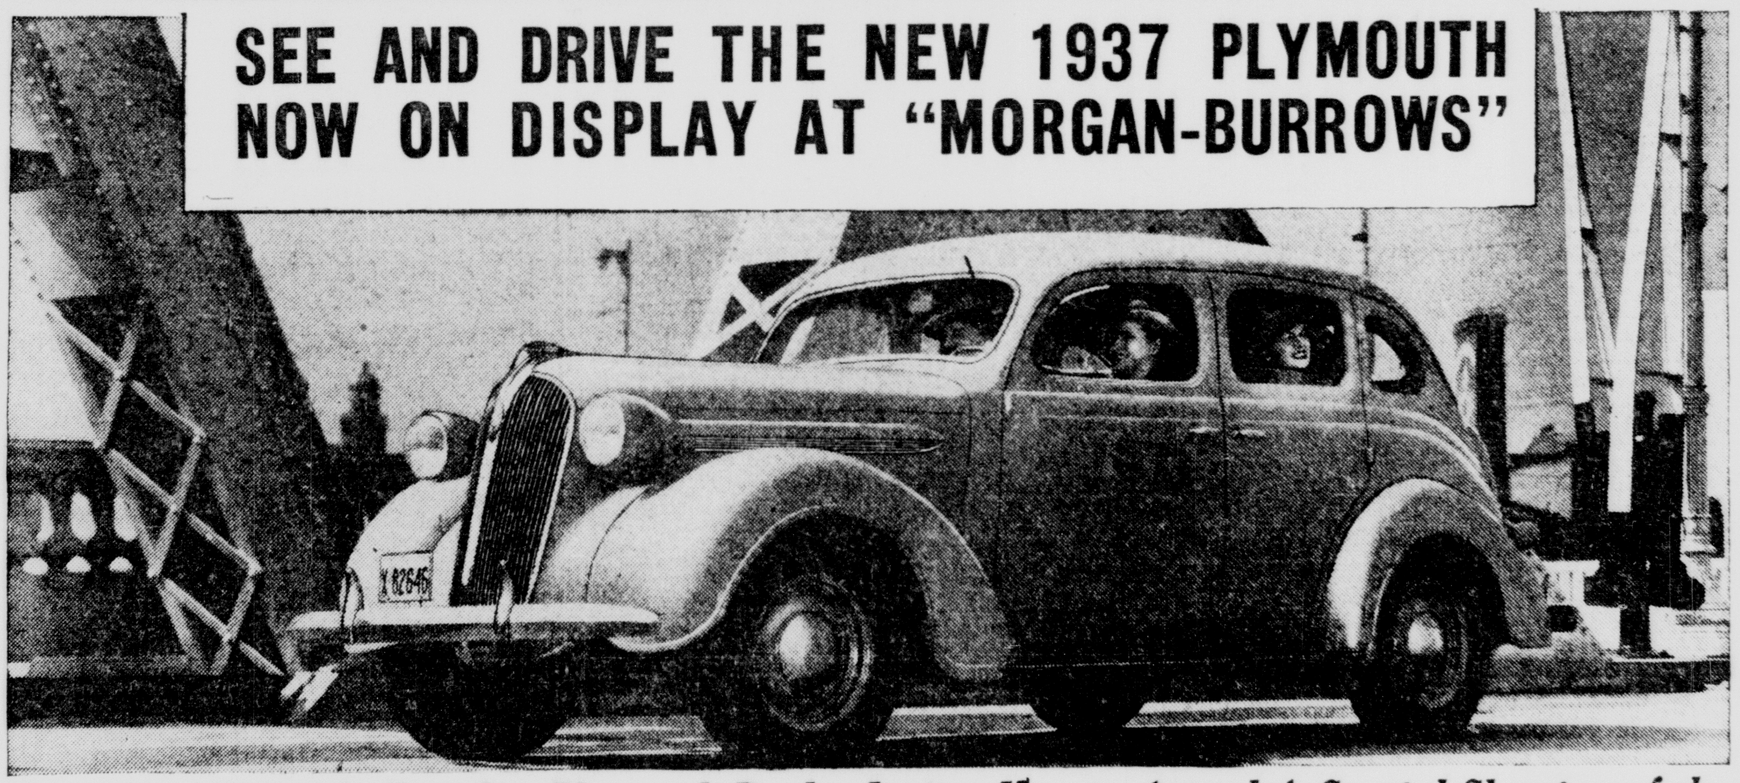

Five types of flood gates, made of aluminum, slide forward from behind removable panelling and seal each window. The heaviest gate weights 1,500 pounds, but is suspended on ball bearings so that two or three men can put it into place and bolt it fast within five minutes.

If ever the rivers pass 45 feet—a little more than the record-breaking level of last March—the waters will be admitted to the building, lest the pressure crush the walls. But in the meantime goods will have been removed from the basement and first floor.

No power is applied to the rotor in an autogiro, while, in a helicopter, the rotating blades are driven by a motor.

JUVENILE GRANGE

The Juvenile grange, under the direction of the matron, Mrs. John Robinson, had charge of the program at the Friday evening meeting of Millburn grange. The Hallowe'en theme was evident from the parade of witches with their brooms which carried the letters spelling "Welcome", through the recitations given by Danny Neal, Geraldine Masters, Richard Lukacs, Charles Masson, George Lukacs, Mary Jean Robinson and Margaret Ann Davis to the clever and well-presented Hallowe'en play, "The Haunted Cottage," which closed the program.

The next meeting of the grange will be November 13 and will be the annual election of officers.

On November 6 a masquerade and bingo party will be held at the hall under grange auspices. Those attending without masquerade will be penalized. Refreshments will be served.

GRANGE PROGRAM

Forty-one members of the local grange carried the "Traveling Bible" of Mercer county to London grange on Monday evening and presented the following program:

Reading of the minutes of last "Traveling Bible" meeting.

Song, "Onward Christian Soldiers"—Granges.

Duet—Mr. and Mrs. Emrys Davis.

Reading—Mrs. J. P. Hartt.

Duet—Viola and Louise Jenkins.

Reading—Charles Masson.

Play, "Punkin Hill School Graduation".

Following the program light refreshments were served by the host grange.

With the conferring of the 32nd degree this evening, the 59th Reunion of the Valley of New Castle Consistory will be brought to a close, and will go down in history as one of the finest gatherings held in some time.

Exceptional interest has been taken in the degree work by the members at this reunion, and there has been a large attendance of members and visitors.

The meeting Thursday evening was marked by the attendance of a large group of distinguished members of the Masonic fraternity from distant points, who paid an official visitation to the consistory.

Included in the group present was: Ill. William Turner Morris, 33, Past Deputy for the district of West Virginia and Past Grand Master of Masons in West Virginia; Ill. J. Sumner Jones, 33, Commander in Chief of Wheeling Consistory No. 1, of Wheeling W. Va., General Jones, as he is familiarly known, was a personal aide to General John J. Pershing, while he was Commander of the American Expeditionary Forces in France during the World War.

Others present were:

In addition, there were the following members and guests in attendance from outside points:

PORTERSVILLE MAN IS AWARDED VERDICT

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 30.—John P. McHale, of Portersville, won his case in court here against the New Amsterdam Casualty Company, the jury awarding him $500. The case involved the sale of road machinery belonging to McHale by the Casualty Company to satisfy a bond.

On Court House Hill

Tomorrow will be the last day on which taxpayers can pay their delinquent taxes, less penalties and interest. It will also be the last day on which 1936 taxes can be paid at face. The treasurer's office has been thronged all week with taxpayers anxious to take advantage of the discounts.

Contractors have informed the county commissioners that it will be only a few days until the West Washington street bridge can be traveled over its entire width. The center section which is now fenced off, will be covered with amesite and can be used immediately after it is rolled. With the improvements which have been made it is said that the bridge is now much stronger than it was when it was originally erected.

Prothonotary John A. Edgar has asked the county commissioners to furnish celophane with which to make coverings for the markers on the file boxes. These markers were originally covered with isinglass, but much of it has become cracked and has fallen off. The markers have become discolored and are hard to read. They will be replaced with new ones, which will be covered with the celophane.

County Commissioners Clerk William A. Eakin will have election supplies all ready for delivery by tomorrow. It requires no small amount of work to get the supplies ready for all the different precincts throughout the county. In making up the list enough supplies and ballots must be included to accommodate every voter who is registered. Generally there are a lot of ballots and supplies left over, but this being a presidential year an unusually heavy vote is expected.

Roy K. Bales has presented a petition to court asking for a special allocator permitting him to appeal his case from the office of Alderman David I. Pearsall of the sixth ward. Bales claims that on October 13, an information was made against him before the alderman by George A. Wagner, charging him with a violation of the motor code by alleged reckless driving. He says the alderman fined him $10 and costs and wishes to appeal from this decision and have the case heard by the court. The petition was granted.

Returns of election results which are to be made by election boards following next Tuesday's election, are to be made to the prothonotary's office. Primary returns are made to the county commissioners office. Owing to the great interest in the election results election boards are urged to get their returns into the prothonotary's office as early as possible on next Wednesday morning. Usually the most of the returns are in by eleven o'clock, but there are nearly always two or three laggards who don't get in until the noon hour or after, and this holds up the work of getting complete totals much to the annoyance of everybody in the election. And it is taken that this year every voter is interested.

State administration officials who are lambasting sales taxes in their campaign speeches, undoubtedly will find it convenient to close their eyes to the monthly revenue report which the Department of Revenue is issuing. The latest of these reports, covering taxes collected in September, shows that most of the money collected from the so-called emergency levies, is still coming from the sales tax group. In fact, two of every three dollars collected in September came from the sales taxes on gasoline, cigarets, liquor and amusements.

AROUND CITY HALL

Policemen are the recipients of boosts and knocks, as is anyone in public life. However, it is gratifying to the department of police to receive a boost, especially from out-of-town persons. Today there arrived at the office of Police Chief Ralph Criswell a letter which is self-explanatory and follows:

ALIQUIPPA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Aliquippa, Pa.

New Castle, Penna.

Dear Sir: I am one of the teachers who attended the educational convention at the Scottish Rites Cathedral last week-end. I was unlucky enough to break the key in the door of my car so that I was unable to open it, and I applied for help to a member of your police force who was stationed in the main corridor of the cathedral. I do not know his name and cannot identify him further, but I am writing to express my appreciation of his courtesy and kindness. Both were so outstanding—he went to so much pains and trouble to help us four women out of our difficulties that I want to extend our thanks to him and to compliment you on your department.

Very sincerely yours,
Head of the English Dept.

The police blotter during the past several days show that arrests have been made for reckless driving, speeding, crashing of red lights, violation of stop signs and over-time parking.

Although council would like to have trucks travel through Butler avenue extension down Taylor street and across the railroad tracks to Jefferson street, it may be that the public service commission would not grant such a request. However, the city fathers want to find some way whereby trucks heavily laden can be routed on streets where paving will not be ruined and also not blockade traffic. The traffic problem here is one of the biggest problems the city has, especially in the early evening and on Saturdays.

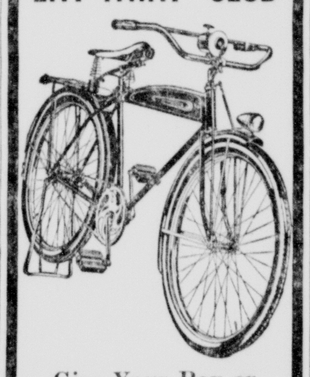

Establishment of a no parking order in Neshannock avenue, between East and North streets, and a no parking regulation on the north side of the same avenue between North street and Rural avenue, fathered by Mayor E. McGrath, should result in a safer passage for cars enroute to and from the North hill. One way traffic is allowed in Neshannock avenue between East and North streets.

Should police now on duty at the training school at the State police return here November 1, they will be assigned to immediate duty. The force is short for several reasons and it is probable as many officers as possible will be required to help traffic, vehicular and pedestrian, Election night.

FRATERNITY PLEDGES BOOTH

Newlin T. Booth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newlin Booth, 400 Delaware avenue, has been pledged to the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity at Swarthmore College, where he is a freshman. He is also an end on the junior varsity football team.

Schoolboys Eager For Grid Battle

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Faces Tough Foe In Erie East High; Visitors Come Here Wanting Revenge For 1935 Setback; Paul Small Will Direct Team At Quarterback; Erie Comes Here With Fine Record; Preliminary Game Between New Castle "B" Team And Mercer High At 7 P. M.; Gates Open At 6:30 P. M.

TAGGART Stadium will be the scene tonight of another big football crowd, (providing it doesn't rain). Two grid battles are on tap for the fans. The preliminary will find New Castle "B" team against Mercer High School at 7 p. m. The big attraction of course will be the New Castle "Red Hurricane" against Erie East High at 8 p m.

The gates of the stadium will swing open at 6:30 p. m. In event of good weather the turnstiles should click right merrily. It will be the final night game of the year for the locals. New Castle will be after victory number seven. Erie East will seek victory number four. Both teams have been defeated but once this year. New Castle finished training Thursday afternoon. Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has shifted his lineup somewhat for the game. Dal Mumford the signal barker will be on the sidelines tonight with a twisted ankle and knee. Paul Small will do the quarterbacking.

Erie "Pointing"

Erie East High under Coach Jim Hyde has been "pointing" for the New Castle game. Still smarting under that two-touchdown defeat handed them at the beautiful Erie stadium last year, the Erie Easters want their revenge on the "Hurricane" it promises to be a worthwhile battle.

Pa Newc's boys will have to be at their very best if they take the scalp of the invaders tonight. Erie East was idle last week while New Castle was defeating Warren, Ohio 13 to 12 and getting the hospital list swelled up. Albert and Mumford are on the shelf as a result of the game last week. Several other of the boys are nursing bruises.

Small At Quarter

Just how Paulie Small will act under fire in the New Castle backfield is not known. He has looked very good in practice this week, but will get his baptismal tonight in actual combat. Small is one of the fastest boys on the team. His speed should come in handy in leading the interference and in blocking.

On the line in place of the injured Albert will be Socrates Roussos, the big rangy boy who in his sophomore year has made good, and at the guard post vacated by Small will be another sophomore "find" Jim Duffy, former Washington Hi boy who looks good and will be tested under a starting berth tonight. The revamped lineup is expected to bring results.

Bridenbaugh will start Small at quarter, with Perrett and Mort the touchdown twins at the halves and Dommie DeCaprio at fullback. This set of ball-carriers will cause trouble for the Erieites.

East Has Veterans

Heading the East High backfield will be the veteran Eddie Sienicki the boy who played such a fine game at Erie last year against the locals. The other backs will be Arrowsmith a veteran of last year, with Intrieri and Tyzinski a couple of new comers at the other posts. There are five veterans on the Erie line, Hart, Flakowski, Dombrowski, Bucklin and Klein.

Erie East shouldn't have lost to the powerful Ashland, Kentucky High team at Erie. The Easters socked the southern boys all over the grass for three periods, but got a little sleep in the fourth period and permitted the invaders from below the Mason and Dixon line to get a touchdown. A very rude awakening for the Hydmen, but true nevertheless. Erie East upset a great Sakinaw, Michigan team in the opening game of the year and defeated a very strong Niles, Ohio High and Erie Strong Vincent team in other victories.

Aerial Battle

So, one can see that the New Castle men are in for another "tough one" tonight. It would not be surprising to see an upset. One can never figure these Erie teams. East High players seem to have a lot of spirit and fight and that's what it takes.

It is expected to be an aerial battle. Erie has a fine passing attack, and New Castle is about to unlimber a few of those lucrative heaves this evening. The lines will be about even in weight. It is not expected that either team will be able to do much through the forward walls. Therefore the only recourse is into the "clouds" and around the ends.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is anxiously scanning the skies looking for a "break" from the weatherman. The last three Friday nights it has rained. There should be a letup to this sort of thing sometime.

Good Preliminary Game

Coach William "Bill" Klee has the New Castle junior varsity or "B" team all shined up for the first home appearance tonight under the lights with Mercer High School team. The game starts at 7 p. m. Several of the boys on the New Castle varsity this year were on the "B" team last season and gained a lot of experience.

Mercer High has a crackerjack team under Coach William Crowell, and will come here tonight to upset the New Castle "B" team if possible. Up in Mercer County the County Seaters are highly regarded.

New Castle High band with Joe Replogle directing will be on hand to lend musical atmosphere to the occasion. The band boys work is gratefully appreciated by the fans.

Those New Castle cheerleaders Shiner, Robinson, Bollard and Jenkins will try to get as many yells as possible out of the student body. (The school cheering could be improved upon.)

The chemistry of the stars and sun is almost as familiar as that of the earth. Curiously enough, scientists discovered helium in the sun before it was found here on earth, and it derives its name from that fact.

In 1931 the American gladiolus listed over 7,000 varieties, of gladioli, of which probably 3,000 are for sale by various growers. Of this 3,000, perhaps 100 are outstanding.

Shenango Playing At Bessemer Today

Bessemer occupies the Class B grid spotlight this afternoon, where Bessemer and Shenango are battling in an important tussle. The game is scheduled to start at 3:30 o'clock.

Eleventh Season For Ben Ciccone

Local Gridder Is Playing Iron Man Role; Now With Cleveland Pros

A local young man who is gaining the sobriquet of "Iron Man," is Benjamin Ciccone, of Scioto street, who is playing his eleventh consecutive season on the gridiron.

In 1926, Ciccone started his football career at Ben Franklin. The following year he was a member of the New Castle High Reserves. In '28-'29, Ciccone was a member of the high school varsity and continued the following year at Duquesne, with the Freshmen team. From 1931 to 33 he was a member of the Duquesne varsity, under Elmer Layden. After graduating, Ciccone continued in the professional ranks, playing two seasons with the Pittsburgh Pirates, and this season he is a member of the Cleveland Professionals.

Special Train Being Planned

A group of New Castle High alumni boosters held a meeting last night at Senior High with Principal Frank L. Orth and went over plans for the big football special to Martins Ferry, Ohio, on Saturday, November 7.

The train will be run over the Pennsylvania lines. The round-trip price has been announced as $1.65. Arrangements are being made with two restaurants in Martins Ferry to handle the New Castle people when they arrive in the Ohio City. It is presumed that upwards of 1,000 fans will board the special train here for the 80 or so mile ride to the Ohio metropolis.

HOWLEY IS ON CATHOLIC SQUAD

According to Fred Marcella, South Mill street, Joseph Howley, a former New Castle gridder, is on the Catholic U. squad this season. Howley was one of the best linesmen turned out here.

Out Of Game

DAL MUMFORD

Mumford, veteran quarterback of the New Castle high "Red Hurricane" is being replaced tonight by Paul Small, due to a badly twisted knee and ankle suffered in the New Castle-Warren game. Mumford has been the field general of the team for the past two years. It is hoped that he can be in shape for the game at Martins Ferry.

Franklin To Meet Washington Today

George Washington and Ben Franklin junior high school teams were scheduled to clash at 3:30 today on the Washington field. Ben Franklin has won all their games and is favored to take the North Hill eleven.

Trap Shoot To Be Held On Saturday

Members of the East New Castle Rod and Gun club will have their final trap shoot of the year on the Bocius farm located on the first street to the right past Cascade Park.

This will be the last out-door trap shoot prior to the start of hunting season. The shoot will start at 1 o'clock. All members and their friends are invited to attend, according to an announcement by President Tom Shaffer.

Barney Ross To See Fight

Will Watch Two Of His Title Challengers At Work In New York Ring

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—Barney Ross, world welterweight champion, will be on the outside of the ropes looking in tonight when Izzy Janazzo New York, and Cerefino Garcia, the Filipino flatterner, meet at Madison Square Garden for a crack at the Chicago title-holder on November 27.

The odds are 2 to 1 on Garcia. His power is more or less confined to his "bolo punch"—a sweeping uppercut—and they say this will splash Janazzo out among the pew-holders somewhere along the route before the scheduled 15 rounds have elapsed. He has belted out about half of his opponents and had even Ross all over the floor in a non-title bout, but lost his decision.

Wabash Bears Claim Title

Seventh Warders Challenge Any County Team For Independent Laurels

Undefeated so far this season, the Wabash Bears of Mahoningtown claim the independent championship of Lawrence county.

James Regular On Salem Team

One of the main reasons for the splendid showing of Salem, West Virginia, eleven, is Charles James, a former New Castle high player, who has replaced the high scoring Doug Stone at halfback.

James is the talk of the Salem campus. James, together with John Uram, another former New Castle gridder, is helping the Salem Tigers to capture their third straight State Collegiate Conference title. A scoreless tie is the only black mark on the Salem record to date.

Traynor Signs New Contract

Pirate Manager Will Go Limit To Get "Dizzy" Dean, And Other New Material

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30—Veteran Pie Traynor, pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates today plunged knee-deep into the business of rounding up a couple of good traders to strengthen his club after he signed another one year contract with president Bill Benswanger.

Terms of the 1937 contract were not divulged but it was generally believed the Pilot's salary was given a boost. Both Traynor and Benswanger declared they were satisfied with all terms.

Pie admitted that he was hankering to make some deals and said he would give up some of his regulars if such a move might bring him stars who would help the Buccos.

The Pirates' management have their eyes on Dizzy Dean as a possible addition to the squad. When Dizzy was first placed on the block, Benswanger said "he would go the limit," to nab him.

Titans Ready To Meet Thiel

Close Battle Is Expected On Westminster Field On Saturday

BAILEY TO BE OUT OF TITAN LINEUP

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 30.—Minus the services of Bailey, Sharon halfback, and Titan veteran, the Westminster Titans will take the field Saturday at New Wilmington against Thiel hopeful of annexing their first win of the season. Many fathers are expected to be on the campus for the day, set as Dads' Day under the sponsorship of Sphinx fraternity.

In the Westminster starting lineup will be Mike Pawk, Butler, and Mel Miller at ends, both tall, rangy men of the basketball type. In the tackle positions will be Susko, veteran junior, and either Bretthole or Butler. Bretthole was scheduled to start in the Geneva game, but was out with a bad ankle. Youkers, injured in the Geneva game, will return to the lineup to pair with Krulatz at the guard positions. Holton, freshman, will take the center assignment again with a perfect record of playing every minute of the four past games.

In the backfield, Laraway will be shifted to the fullback assignment, with Shoup and Brown at the halfback positions and Laposki, New Brighton freshman, at quarter. Harry Shoup, Bessemer back, will be captain for the game.

The Titan assignment for the day will be to hold Clare and Snyder, Tom Cat backs, in check, and to cut loose with encugh offense to score a safe margin of points.

The probable starting lineups:

| Westminster— | | Thiel— |
|---|---|---|
| M. Pawk | L.E. | Cook |
| Bretthole | L.T. | Riffer |
| Youkers | L.G. | Wolff |
| Holton | C. | Josephs |

| Susko | R.T. | Bright |
| Miller | R.E. | Davis |
| Laposki | Q.B. | Gerberding |
| Brown | L.H. | Breckenridge |
| Shoup (c) | R.H. | Clare |
| Laraway | F.B. | Snyder |

Randy, owned by Dr. Misch Casper, of Louisville, piled into the lead Friday in the first cast of the Grand National chase of the National Foxhunters association, scoring 220 points. Ken Go, owned by Pansy Ireland, of Thomasville, Ga., placed second with 115 points. The meet was held at Paducah, Ky.

The 1936 convention of the Amateur Athletic union in Houston, Texas, in December, will not be a quarrelsome affair if Jeremiah T. Mahoney can help it. The former president lost a bitter battle to keep the U. S. out of the Olympics. However, he said at New York today, he hopes the keynote will be harmony but he will not sidestep any issues "if the boys want to fight."

Ceferino Garcia, of the Philippine Islands is a slight favorite to defeat Izzy Jannazzo, New York welterweight, in a 15 round bout tonight at Madison Square Garden, New York. The winner is scheduled to meet Barney Ross, world champion in the garden, November 27. Ross will watch the fight then go to Ferndale, N. Y., to begin training for his title defense.

War Emblem, son of Big Blaze, scored his first win in the year in the fourth race which served feature purposes on Friday's program of the Maryland Fair, Inc., at Laurel, Md. With Hockey Eddie de Camilis booting, War Emblem set his own pace and bounded across the line two lengths ahead of Bijuro and Albania.

Opponents Have Tough Battles

All three of the New Castle High opponents for the rest of the football season have tough battles on their hands over the week-end.

Sharon High will be at Warren, Ohio on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the Warren Home-Coming celebration. Sharon is undefeated this year, and may find the Warrens very tough.

Midland High will play the Beaver Falls High team at the Reeves Stadium Field this afternoon.

Bellaire will oppose Martins Ferry High at Martins Ferry on Saturday afternoon.

The names of the three vessels that brought the first colonists to Jamestown were the Sarah Constant, the Godspeed and the Discovery. They came to anchor off the island where Jamestown was established on May 13, 1607.

Walsh Selects Northwestern Over Gophers

Also Picks Pitt To Upset Fordham, Sees Auburn And Marquette Losing

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—In a still, small voice, as though not wishing to be overheard, this diffident witness is about to offer a few strictly personal views upon the merits of tomorrow's football games, and, as he does so, there comes the feeling that a dark flush is mantling his boyish cheek. Cheek? That seems to be the right word.

Anyhow, he's picking right into a winning streak of twenty one straight and naming Northwestern over Minnesota in the football game of the day, the month and perhaps the year. It ought to pay off with the National championship, since this pair is among the few remaining unbeaten and untied teams and the thing they call the old author-i-ety seems to repose in and with the Middle West this year.

Picks Four Losers

In addition, I can't seem to shake the conviction that Marquette, Auburn, Fordham and Holy Cross are going to lose for the first time which should give one a fair idea of what kind of a free-style hassenpeffer I happen to be. As a matter of fact, I kick over children's sand piles on my day off and go around pouring lemonade in people's soup.

The Minnesota-Northwestern idea is less a hunch than a belief in the former's fallibility. Frankly, it must stop blocking some time and, in this connection, I would think it was a cinch if it beat Purdue by 9 to 6 instead of 33 to 0 last Saturday. There is the psychic advantage reposing with Northwestern which has to do with the fact that all the proof rests with Minnesota and I would remind you, too, that the gophers can't be much better than they were last year, whereas Northwestern is visibly improved. The score last year was Minnesota 21, Northwestern 13.

Trusting that I have made a good case, although perhaps a bad selection, I am now prepared to drop the matter and sincerely hope you are the same.

Likes Panthers

Fordham, I'd say, has gone as far as it's going to with the team it happens to have and figures to yield to Pitt. That's merely stringing with form. However, I guess there's nothing for it but to admit that I'm hunching one in calling St. Mary's over Marquette and it's possible that by Saturday morning I may want to ask for a recount. Temple over Holy Cross is another hunch, based largely on the fact that the only time the former has lost was when it tried to play two games in five days.

On a line through Carnegie Tech, the Crusaders figure here. But if everything happened the way it should, we'd all get rich and it would get on everybody's nerves and everything.

Grovers-Rockets Ready For Grid Battle Saturday

Coach Bill Amos Finds Many Veterans Are On Injured List For Important Game

GROVE CITY, Oct. 30.—Five, and possibly six of Grove City's regulars will watch the Slippery Rock game from the bench Saturday, it was announced today by Coach Bill Amos as he attempted to select a starting eleven from a squad riddled by injuries. By an odd coincidence, five players have shoulder injuries.

Two regular ends will not be in uniform Saturday, Brunton and Laderer nursing torn shoulder ligaments. DePrima, tackle hurt against W. & J., can not be counted on for strenuous service. Abe Mori, veteran fullback, is not to start and his absence will weaken the Grover offense. Morris and Mathis, quarterbacks, are nursing injuries that will keep them out of action and Petach, center, will be rested for most of the game.

Rookie Backfield

So bad has been the breaks this fall that Amos will start a backfield with only one, Bobby Schoch, brilliant left halfback, in his regular post in the Slippery Rock game. Mory Patterson, freshman back, will be shifted to fullback, and his halfback post filled by Bill O'Mahoney, Mercer junior, pla ing his first season of football. A freshman, Glenn Stanford, of Cambridge, who had his first chance last week when Mathis and Morris were unable to start, will again be at quarterback.

George Ketler, perhaps the most improved player on the squad, will draw the center assignment. He will be flanked by the regular guards, Jim Patterson and Don Dennison, although Amos is grooming Barnes, a junior, and Shawgo, a freshman, for early replacement service. Maddalena and Myers are fixtures in the tackle spots. Lou Bibri and Vic A'Hearn, the latter a freshman converted from his regular center post due to the lack of ends, will be on the wings.

There are approximately 5,000,000 hay fever victims in the United States.

Steel Work At Viaduct Nearly All In Position

Last Of Structural Steel Being Put In Place This Week

This week will see the last of the steel work for the new Edenburg viaduct in place, on the various trusses and spans of the project. The only structural steel task remaining then will be the riviting together of the steel into permanent bridge spans.

One span has now been completely finished, this is the one over the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. It was finished during the latter part of last week. Workmen are now building the approach up to this span. The work of the Holmes Construction Company is being speeded, due to the fact that this company was the successful bidder on a grade elimination crossing at Butler, and they want to start on this job as soon as possible.

In a little less than a month the new viaduct and road will be opened for traffic, according to Dan Mullet, superintendent of the project.

Concrete flooring is now being poured on the truss span which will carry the road over the Mahoning river, and the last of the overhead beams are being hoisted into place. The only structural steel work now left on this span is the riviting of the iron work and the building of the walk along the side of the bridge.

NEW BIRD FEED DOUBLES OUTPUT OF EGGS IN ZOO

PHILADELPHIA — By a new scientific feeding basis, scientists at the Philadelphia Zoon have been able to double the cutput of eggs from their hens and birds during the past year. The egg production has increased to such an extent that officials are in need of an incubator for hatching purposes.

The method is to feed the birds and hens what is known as basic ration No. 1, which consists of grain and vegetable meals, dried milk, minerals and cod liver oil.

One of the most remarkable cases at the Zoo concerns the griffin vulture who hadn't laid an egg in 12 years. Fed basic ration No. 2, which is basic ration No. 1 with a little meat, she laid an egg.

To Sell Five Destroyers As Treaty 'Junk'

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Once trim "greyhounds" of Uncle Sam's war fleet, five destroyers will be sold for junk at the Navy Yard here within a few weeks under terms of the London Naval Treaty of 1930.

Part of a huge squadron of decommissioned vessels now idly ridding at anchor in the Delaware river, the destroyers are veterans of stirring days of the World War. All of them—the Bush, Dyer, McKee, Sampson and Stevens whose names probably are yet familiar to navy men—saw service in the North Sea. The Dyer carried President Roosevelt to Portsmouth, England, in 1918, when, as assistant secretary of the navy, he visited the European war front.

But no longer will the ships plow through the Atlantic. Berthed at the Navy Yard in 1922, they have been kept in perfect condition only to face the oblivion of the junk yard. The Navy Department already has advertised bids for the sale. The London treaty, naval officials pointed out, obliges the United States to scrap or sink the destroyers by December 31.

Three submarine chasers, smaller than the destroyers and built along yacht lines, also will be offered for sale to the highest bidder. Unlike their larger brothers, these vessels could easily be converted into private pleasure craft.

A help on ironing day is to put a sawed-off broomstick across the backs of two chairs, and on this hang wire hangers. Blouses, shirts and such garments placed on the hangers as they are ironed will air aid can be looked over for mending, says a 12-year-old girl.

Will Play At Westminster On Saturday Afternoon — Team Is Crippled

(Special To The News)

GREENVILLE, Pa., Oct. 30.—The Thiel college football team, preparing for a reopening of hostilities Saturday with its ancient Westminster rivals, is finding its major problem to be the lack of experienced man-power. Injuries sustained in the first two games have served to make an acute situation of a condition that didn't look any too good in the first place. Both varsity ends were injured in the Clarion and Bethany games—Harter with a broken finger and Davis with a slight brain concussion, suffered at the hands of the mountaineers.

Numerous other injuries of a minor nature have been showered down on the boys, not only tending to cramp their style, but also necessitating some shifts in the allotment of positions to the ablest of the survivors. Coach Jack Stoeber is concentrating on developing team co-ordination with his new combination and in breaking in some of his second string men to new positions.

Since 1922 Thiel has won six out of ten games with Westminster, the last in 1934, being taken by the Titans. In spite of adverse conditions the Tomcats are figuring on their fighting spirit being strong enough to avenge their 7-6 defeat and give Westminster another mark along with the other four already in the defeat column. The probable starting team for Thiel follows:

FEMININE TOUCH

A woman went into the bank to cash a check that had been made out to her by her husband. The teller said she would have to endorse it but she didn't seem to understand.

"Just sign your name on the back," instructed the teller.

"But my husband has already signed it," she insisted, "and right on the front."

The teller took a deep breath and explained that her signature on the back would show her husband that she had got the money. With a smile of enlightenment she went to the desk, scribbled away and finally handed the check in, triumphantly. It was signed:

"Your loving wife, Clara."

Stock Market Tone Is Firm

Market Quiets Down After Initial Run-Up And Maintains Firmer Tone

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Quieting down after an initial run-up, the stock market maintained a firm tone today. Bethlehem Steel gained a point and U. S. Steel and Youngstown improved fractionally.

Commonwealth & Southern led the utilities higher while softness in Chrysler held back the motor shares. Rails were mostly higher under the lead of Pennsylvania and Great Northern.

Oils, amusements and coppers were better while Sears Roebuck led the mail orders upward with a gain of more than a point to a new high for the year. Bonds were irregularly higher. Grains and cotton were better.

PARADE WILL FORM AT CIRCLE SCHOOL

Weather Forces Committee To Change Plans To Safeguard Health Of Children

THOUSANDS TO WATCH HALLOWE'EN PARADE

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—Threatening, inclement weather has forced the Hallowe'en celebration committee, O. J. Kemp chairman, to change their original plans, it was announced this morning.

The mummers for the parade will form in their respective divisions at the Circle school on Fountain avenue and Fourth street instead of First avenue in the fourth ward. "This move has been made necessary by the threatening weather," stated Mr. Kemp. "We don't want to expose the children to the elements tonight any longer than necessary." Therefore the parade will move west on Fountain avenue to Fifth street, then south on Fifth to Lawrence avenue, thence west on Lawrence avenue to Eighth street, and then north on Eighth street to the P. & L. E. parking grounds where the parade will disband. The parade will move at 7:30 sharp.

From all indications this promises to be the largest Hallowe'en celebration in the history of the city. Everything has been completed and taken care of by Mr. Kemp and his committee. The merchants of the community have contributed well over a hundred prizes for the big number of eligible costumes. Local prominent business men will act as judges and will be present at the Circle school to aid in placing the mummers in their divisions and thus get a line on the costumes. The final judging will be done from a reviewing stand on Lawrence avenue. The entire route of the parade will be lighted with red flares.

Thousands are expected to line the streets of the route of the parade and watch the antics of the mummers. Annually there has been a number of comic scenes and numbers that kept the crowd in stitches. Relics of the past are brought out for exhibition again. The parade will be divided into two divisions, one led by the high school band and the other by the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps. The route of the parade is closed to all traffic two hours before the parade and an hour after, by order of the police department. Motorists are asked to cooperate in this matter to insure safety to all. The police will be assisted by the Boy Scouts in maintaining order. Burgess R. T. Sitler has made exemptions for tonight. The curfew will not ring so that the children can join in the merry-making and fun of the evening. He requests parents to keep their children in hand. Boisterous or rough conduct wil lnot be tolerated.

The parade will be followed by a gala masquerade ball at the Shelby auditorium with the music being provided by a popular local orchestra. Elaborate and clever decorations have been planned for the auditorium. There will be several door prizes, awards for the best costumes for men and women, and the holding of a prize waltz contest.

N. S. Grangers Initiate Members

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—A class of 25 candidates desiring membership into the Big Knob, Pleasant Hill and North Sewickley township granges was given the third and fourth degree work at a combined meeting which took place on Wednesday evening at the North Sewickley township grange hall on the Ellwood-New Brighton road.

Seventy-five members of the three granges witnessed the initiation.

A corn-husking contest was a feature of the social period and it proved to be a merry undertaking for men of the granges and a member of the Big Knob organization was declared the winner.

At the close of the evening a group of the ladies of the Big Knob grange served the group tasty seasonal refreshments.

On Friday evening the local grangers will hold their annual masquerade party and dance at their hall. The next regular meeting will take place on Friday evening, November 11.

L. T. L. Party At Stewart Home

There was a large number of members and guests present and much fun ensued when they endeavored to guess the identity of the "mummers". The hours passed in a happy manner, with many games and stunts holding the attention of everyone.

Mrs. Stewart was assisted in serving the guests tasty refreshments by Mrs. Donald Hepler.

Ellwood To Play At Alquippa Hi

Blue And White Wolverines To Meet Undefeated Opponent Saturday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—A fighting Ellwood High Wolverine team will invade Aliquippa Saturday for a tussle with Coach Nate Lippe's undefeated, though tied, eleven determined to give them a battle that they will not be soon in forgetting. The locals are entering the affray a decided under dog due to their record.

But they figure that the worm is due to turn. Even they realize that the material is there and that they are capable of better fotball. Early in the season the Mitchell men displayed great defensive strength. Last Saturday they flashed their finest offensive of the season. Once the Wolverines get their forces coordinated, they are going to be more than troublesome.

All this week Coach Bill Mitchell and Assistant Dutch Croft spent much time in converting Berendt from center to end, due to the injury to Blaine which left him short handed on wingmen Berendt played in this position last Saturday and displayed fine form. It is expected that the injured Bill Young and Flanagan will both see action again. They have improved considerably this week. The remainder of the squad is in fine physical shape and is ready for action.

| Ellwood | | Aliquippa |
|---|---|---|
| Berendt | L.E. | Faber |
| H. Young | L.T. | White |
| Perry | L.G. | Thomas |
| Pishioneri | C. | Kolanda |
| Kellar | R.G. | Simisko |
| Daufen | R.T. | Rebich |
| Fehl | R.E. | Williams |
| Funari | Q. | Gurale |
| Kolch | L.H. | Kaletz |
| Koah | R.H. | Batchelor |

Methodist Class At McConahy Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—Fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. Lee Wilson, of the Gleaners class of the Wurtemburg Methodist church assembled last evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest McConahy of the Ellwood-New Castle road for the regular October meeting.

Mrs. Carl Ketterer conducted the devotional period. During the business meeting plans were made for their annual chicken supper to be held on Thursday evening, November 12.

An amusing period of games followed with the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Clyde and Mrs. Wilson serving the guests delectable refreshments.

Surprise Honors Mrs. Francis Kirk

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30—As a courtesy to Mrs. Francis Kirk of the Ellwood-New Castle road, who is leaving soon to make her home in California, members of the Willing Workers class of the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church held a farewell party last evening at the home of Mrs. Elmer McKunn of North Sewickley.

The eighteen guests in attendance devoted the evening to games and stunts of various kinds. At a seasonable hour the hostess assisted by Mrs. Harry Hazen and Mrs. James Hazen served a tempting repast.

Mrs. Kirk was presented with a lovely gift by the group and responded in a pleasing manner.

Pittsburgh Man Is Rotary Speaker

J. Frank Lanning, Traveler And Business Man, Delivers Interesting Talk

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30—A number of guests were present at the weekly meeting of the Ellwood City Rotary Club in the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening, thus swelling the attendance to capacity.

W. A. Kerr of the music committee brought in the new song books which added zest to the club singing which was under the direction of Paul Winters. H. W. Smith was in charge of the meeting. Elmer N. Sanders had charge of the program and introduced as the speaker of the evening J. Frank Lanning, Pittsburgh, business man and traveler. Mr. Lanning has traveled extensively in Europe, South America and other parts of the world.

He related interesting experiences which came to him while journeying in other lands. One such which he mentioned in some detail was an air plane trip from Miami to Rio Janeiro. Mr. Lanning praised the service of this pan American air way. He also told of the courtesies of the people in South American cities, and of the beauty of Rio Janeiro. Mr. Lanning has a rare sense of humor which enabled him to make his narratives most entertaining. His address was also stimulating and informing, creating a sense of good will toward citizens of other countries. The meeting next week will be in charge of Charles Hennon.

Ellwood Man Is Granted Patent

Rights Are Assigned To Matthews Conveyor Company Of Ellwood

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—Lee Sekulski of Ellwood City and Andrew J. Black of Butler, have just received from the United States Patent Office the patent rights on inventions of their own design.

Mr. Sekulski invented an apparatus for handling flat material. He applied for the patent almost five years ago, on September 4, 1931. He has been allowed protection on 23 novel features of this device and has assigned commercial rights to the Matthews Conveyer company of Ellwood.

Mr. Black received the patent on a method of an apparatus for feeding glass into processing machines. He has assigned the invention to H. M. Black of Jeanette. He applied for the patent March 5, 1935, and has been awarded protection on 24 unique features of the invention.

To Present Play At Wurtemburg

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—A three-act temperance play, "What Shall It Profit?", will be given on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Wurtemburg U. P. church by members of the Young People's society of the Slippery Rock Persbyterian church. The play directed by Mrs. Sharpe Johns has been presented a number of times with splendid success and is most worthwhile.

The cast of characters includes:

Bob Kurtz, son—Philip Cole.

Robert Kurtz, Sr.—William Mentzer.

Rev. Arthur Mayhew — Philip Price.

Sue Kurtz, wife of Bob—Gladys Houk.

Helen Masters, close friend of Sue—Rhea Meehan.

Margaret Kurtz, Bob's mother—Jean Steele.

Bobby Kurtz—Robert Moon.

Henry Getty—William Cole.

There will be no admission charged but an offering will be taken to be divided between the young people's societies of the two churches. Members of the Wurtemburg society will have charge of the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Ross and children Jane and Marcia of Lock Haven, Pa., are visiting for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ross and family near Fombell.

Big Republican Rally Saturday In Ellwood City

PROMINENT SPEAKERS TO ADDRESS PUBLIC

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—Everything is in readiness for one final thrust of the Ellwood City Republicans Saturday evening when a huge rally will be held in the Lincoln auditorium at 8:30 o'clock.

Chairman of the Ellwood Republicans, Paxton R. Fike, announced today that the committee has completed final arrangements and from all indications the rally promises to be the biggest of the type held here in years. The program of speaking will be interspersed with music and entertainment. Later lunch will be served.

The feature of the evening will be the presence of James E. Marshall of Butler, who is of the [illegible] Democrats, and Irving Dumb, former secretary of the eastern division of the national committee managing Governor Hoffman's campaign in New Jersey. He was also an ex-diplomat to Greece.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Collins of Ninth street are spending several days with relatives in Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. James Whitney of McKees Rocks has returned home after visiting at the home of relatives in this city.

Mrs. Chas. Wilson Hostess To Class

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—A group of strangely attired people wended their way to the home of Mrs. Charles Wilson on the Ellwood-New Castle road, last evening. Upon entering the home, which was cleverly decorated with lighted pumpkin faces, witches, cats, etc., they were greeted by a ghost.

Mrs. Wilbur Barnett directed the devotional period. Plans were formulated for the fathers and sons banquet to take place in the near future. The class will also buy a dozen folding chairs for use at their meetings. An entertainment committee will be appointed for all future meetings.

Adding to the enjoyment of the affair was the serving of appetizing refreshments by Mrs. Wilson, who had Mrs. Ella Shaffer, Mrs. Eli Yoho and Mrs. Harlan Gillespie as aides. Hallowe'en appointments were carried out.

The November meeting will take place at Castlewood, with the exact time and date to be later determined.

Jolly Junior Class Hallowe'en Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—Grotesque characters of every kind and description to the number of 24 gathered on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Ruth Badger of Wurtemburg. When unmasking time came they were revealed as members of the Jolly Junior class of the Wurtemburg U. P. church. Each member brought a guest.

Prizes were awarded to Florence Cook, Jerry McDeavitt and Martha Cowan for the best impersonations. The remainder of the evening was kept merry and passed quickly with a wide variety of games occupying the attention of everyone.

Before departing for home the guests were served tempting seasonal refreshments by Mrs. James Badger assisted by Mrs. Lester Pander. The next regular meeting of the class will be on Wednesday evening, November 18, with the place to be later determined.

Teachers Forget Roles In Annual Get-Together

Chicken Dinner And Party Enjoyed By Teachers In Local School System

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—If the pupils in the Ellwood City sshool system had any doubts as to whether their teachers had any human elements, they should have taken a peek in at the Elks club on Crescent avenue Wednesday evening when the teachers had their annual get-together dinner and party.

The evening's program started off with a sumptuous chicken dinner served by the local Elks. Beautiful Hallowe'en decorations and appointments prevailed at the dining room and auditorium of the club. The dinner was interspersed with pep singing under the leadership of Prof. Paul Winter. After dinner the wheel of chance selected a group of teachers to give impromptu speeches. Much credit for keeping things going at a merry pace is due to the toastmaster of the evening, Harold Caplan, who displayed exceptional ability in this role. There was not a dull moment in the evening. The toastmaster was introduced by Morrison Bradley.

The feature of the evening was dancing to the Lincolnit orchestra comprised of faculty members, under the direction of Thurman Leopold Strocroftski (Dutch Croft). The orchestra was composed of Harold Burry, Arthur Webster, Supt. of Schools Vaughn R. DeLong, Lawrence Flinner, Morrison Bradley, Arthur Sirianni, Gerald Newton and Prof. Paul Winter. There was a special violin solo by Harold (Jack Benny) Caplain, who played "Love In Bloom." Miss Marjorie Streeter was the pianist for the entire evening.

The remainder of the program included a Republican and Democrat humor debate which resulted in both sides winning. Then there was bingo, cards, round and square dancing with emphasis on the Paul Jones.

The teachers are deeply grateful to the Elks lodge who did everything possible to help make the party a decided success.

The committee in charge who deserved loads of praise for their successful efforts was composed of Harold Burry, chairman; Miss Kathleen Johns, Miss Ida Cooper, Miss Helen Stonesipher, Miss Anne Sullivan, Miss Jessie McDougall, Miss Genevieve Curry and Miss Annabelle Sanders.

SPLASHY TYPE

Ezra and Sarah visited the zoo. Everything went well until they came to the zebras.

"What kind of an animal is that?" demanded Sarah, and for a moment Ezra was stopped, for he had never seen one, either. But he remembered his army days and answered after a moment's hesitation:

"Why, Sarah, that's a sports model mule."
